Fragments Of A Mask:

King Seneb-Kay's Tomb and the Necropolis of a Lost Dynasty at Abydos Josef Wegner, Kevin Cahail, 2021-08-20 This volume is the publication and analysis of the tomb of pharaoh Seneb Kay ca 1650 1600 BCE and a cemetery of associated tombs at Abydos all attributable to a group of kings of Egypt's Second Intermediate Period The tomb of Seneb Kay has provided the first known king's tomb of pharaonic Egypt that included decorated imagery in the burial chamber That evidence presented in full color and discussed in detail in the volume allows us to identify this previously unknown ruler along with a group of seven similar tombs that can be attributed to an Upper Egyptian Dynasty that survived for approximately half a century during a period of pronounced territorial fragmentation in the Nile Valley The book examines the architecture and artifacts associated with these tombs as well as presents an osteological analysis of the bodies of Seneb Kay and the other anonymous individuals buried at South Abydos Seneb Kay's skeletonized mummy was recovered inside his tomb and provides a rare opportunity to examine the body of a king of this era He is the earliest substantially preserved body of an Egyptian king to survive in the archaeological record and the first known Egyptian pharaoh whose skeletal remains show that he died in battle The analysis of his death in a military encounter along with insights from the other skeletal remains indicates a line of kings whose rise to power was associated with their social background as members of the military elite The book examines the wider implications of these bodies in terms of the pronounced militarization of society in the Second Intermediate Period Seneb Kay's tomb has also provided extensive evidence through its use of reused blocks bearing decoration of earlier elite and royal monuments at Abydos The combination of evidence provides a new archaeological and historical window into the political situation that defined Egypt's Second Intermediate Period

The Excavations at Ismant al-Kharab Carlo Rindi Nuzzolo, 2023-01-24 Excavations by the Dakhleh Oasis Project at Ismant al-Kharab ancient Kellis in the Dakhleh Oasis Egypt revealed the presence of an extensive necropolis dating to the Roman Period with hundreds of rock-cut tombs containing multiple burials Termed the Kellis 1 Cemetery it yielded a range of artifacts and many of the individuals were provided with elaborately decorated cartonnage coverings This is the largest collection of such material yet discovered in Dakhleh This book presents a detailed analysis of the entire corpus of cartonnage found at Kellis in a securely excavated context These objects which include mummy masks foot cases and full body covers were part of the burial accoutrements of the wealthier residents of the village Stylistic and digital investigation of the artifacts suggests a well defined craft production with the presence of multiple groups of craftsmen using specific manufacturing techniques and local traits in their iconographic repertoire The scale of evidence demonstrates that Kellis was a vibrant community with a dynamic funerary production in contact with nearby areas Comparison with finds from the neighboring Oasis of Kharga as well as with artifacts in museums collections and from the antiquities market suggest a complex network of skilled craftsmen throughout the region This is the first comprehensive study of the material It has been studied in person by the author in the field enabling a detailed appraisal of the items whether intact or fragmentary It builds on recent research addressing regionalism and craftsmanship and constitutes one of the main sources to investigate issues of permanence and change in the indigenous funerary customs of the area

The Archaeology of Martin's Hundred Ivor Noël Hume, Audrey Noël Hume, 2001 The Archaeology of Martin's Hundred explores the history and artifacts of a 20 000 acre tract of land in Tidewater Virginia one of the most extensive English enterprises in the New World Settled in 1618 all signs of its early occupation soon disappeared leaving no trace above ground More than three centuries later archaeological explorations uncovered tantalizing evidence of the people who had lived worked and died there in the seventeenth century Part I Interpretive Studies addresses four critical questions each with complex and sometimes unsatisfactory answers Who was Martin What was a hundred When did it begin and end Where was it located We then see how scientific detective work resulted in a reconstruction of what daily life must have been like in the strange and dangerous new land of colonial Virginia The authors use first person accounts documents of all sorts and the treasure trove of artifacts carefully unearthed from the soil of Martin's Hundred Part II Artifact Catalog illustrates and describes the principal artifacts in 110 figures The objects divided by category and by site range from ceramics which were the most readily and reliably datable to glass of which there was little to metalwork in all its varied aspects from arms and armor to rail splitters wedges and finally to tobacco pipes The Archaeology of Martin's Hundred is a fascinating account of the ways archaeological fieldwork laboratory examination and analysis based on lifelong study of documentary and artifact research came together to increase our knowledge of early colonial history Copublished with the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation

The Archaeology, History and Heritage of WWII Karst Defenses in the Pacific Julie Mushynsky, 2021-03-12 This book is an archaeological study of the cultures of conflict through an examination of caves and tunnels used during the Pacific War Referred to here as karst defenses WWII caves and tunnels can be found throughout the karst landscapes of the Pacific Karst defenses have been hidden literally by the jungle and figuratively by history for over 70 years Based on a study of karst defenses and their related artifacts and oral histories in Saipan Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands this book uses karst defenses to investigate the varied human experiences before during and after the Pacific War Historically the book reveals new knowledge about the overall defense strategies used in the Pacific Karst defenses were a central component of Pacific War defense and were constructed and used by civilians the Japanese military and U S troops as early as 1942 Karst defenses also functioned as command posts hospitals shelters storage units and combat positions The book sheds light on the social aspects that influenced the construction and use of karst defenses including the fragmented relationship between the Imperial Japanese Navy and the Imperial Japanese Army the social status of civilians under Japanese rule and the clandestine plans of the U S in Micronesia The book also discusses the complex contemporary meanings of this dark shared heritage

Social Aspects of Funerary Culture in the Egy[ptian Old and Middle Kingdoms Harco Willems, 2001 Although Egyptian tombs and funerary texts have been intensively studied attention has been focused on art historical aspects archaeological documentation and theological content Attention for the relationship between burial practices and society has been restricted The symposium of which this volume presents the proceedings is an attempt to show the scientific potential of the sociology of burial The underlying philosophy is that both archaeological and textual sources are ultimately reflections of one social reality Therefore the volume offers contributions by archaeologists and philologists many of which frequently bridge the gap between the two disciplines Bourriau studies the evolution of body position in burials dating between the late Middle Kingdom and early New Kingdom Delrue reviews a recent interpretation of the predynastic cemetery N7000 at Naga ed Deir Fitzenreiter studies the sociological background of ritual scenes in Old Kingdom mastabas Frandsen's analysis touches upon funerary texts touching on substances inside the body which are considered bwt taboo The point of departure for Muller's study is a group of offering deposits at Tell el dab a which are studied in the light of textual information on ritual practice Seidlmayer argues that burial contexts of the First Intermediate Period at Elephantine reflect the same underlying ideas as contemporary tomb scenes Willems commentary of Coffin Texts spells 30 41 interprets these texts as a coherent mortuary liturgy and discusses the context in which the letters to the dead were transmitted to the deceased
