Writing in Early Modern England Michelle M. Dowd, Julie A. Eckerle, 2016-04-15 By taking account of the ways in which early modern women made use of formal and generic structures to constitute themselves in writing the essays collected here interrogate the discursive contours of gendered identity in sixteenth and seventeenth century England The contributors explore how generic choice mixture and revision influence narrative constructions of the female self in early modern England Collectively they situate women's life writings within the broader textual culture of early modern England while maintaining a focus on the particular rhetorical devices and narrative structures that comprise individual texts Reconsidering women's life writing in light of recent critical trends most notably historical formalism this volume produces both new readings of early modern texts such as Margaret Cavendish's autobiography and the diary of Anne Clifford and a new understanding of the complex relationships between literary forms and early modern women's selves This volume engages with new critical methods to make innovative connections between canonical and non canonical writing in so doing it helps to shape the future of scholarship on early modern women

What You See Is What You Hear Dario Martinelli, 2020-01-01 What You See Is What You Hear develops a unique model of analysis that helps students and advanced scholars alike to look at audiovisual texts from a fresh perspective Adopting an engaging writing style the author draws an accessible picture of the field offering several analytical tools historical background and numerous case studies Divided into five main sections the monograph covers problems of definitions history and most of all analysis The first part raises the main problems related to audiovisuality including taxonomical and historical questions The second part provides the bases for the understanding of audiovisual creative communication as a whole introducing a novel theoretical model for its analysis The next three parts focus elaborate on the model in all its constituents and with plenty of case studies taken from the field of cinema TV music videos advertising and other forms of audiovisuality Methodologically the book is informed by different paradigms of film and media studies multimodality studies structuralism narratology auteur theory in the broad sense communication studies semiotics and the so called Humanities What You See Is What You Hear enables readers to better understand how to analyze the structure and content of diverse audiovisual texts to discuss their different idioms and to approach them with curiosity and critical spirit

The School Examined Vincent Edward Smith, 1960 Pedagogy and Edusemiotics Inna Semetsky, Andrew Stables, 2014-11-27 This book represents an essential resource exploring semiotics for education Edusemiotics It opens new pathways of engaging with signs inside outside schools and across theory practice poetry art technology and politics Peter Pericles Trifonas Ontario Institute for Studies in Education University of Toronto Author of Reading Culture and Deconstructing the Machine with Jacques Derrida This trenchant collection of essays successfully integrates the scientific rigors of semiotics with a sophisticated application of creative arts in the context of both formal and informal pedagogy The groundbreaking research in this volume represents a long overdue inquiry into multiple relations and cross currents in education worldwide and as informed by such luminaries as Peirce Bakhtin Greimas Kristeva Havel and other thinkers A must to read Thomas E Peterson University of Georgia USA Author of The Revolt of the Scribe in Modern Italian Literature and numerous essays in Educational Philosophy and Theory The book comprises a series of ingenious semiotic approaches to educational theory practice and research It represents a synthesis of analytic reason with poetics and images to enrich the meaning of education John Deely Professor of Philosophy University of St Thomas Houston USA Author of Four Ages of Understanding The First Postmodern Survey of Philosophy from Ancient Times to the Turn of the Twenty First Century Reading-to-write Linda Flower,1990 The Social and Cognitive Studies in Writing and Literacy Series is devoted to books that bridge research theory and practice exploring social and cognitive processes in writing and expanding our knowledge of literacy as an active constructive process as students move from high school to college This descriptive study of reading to write examines a critical point in every college student s academic performance when he or she is faced with the task of reading a source integrating personal ideas and creating an individual text with a self defined purpose Offering an unusually comprehensive view of this process the authors chart a group of freshmen as they study and write in their dormitories recording their think aloud strategies for reading writing and revising their interpretation of the task and their broader social cultural and contextual understanding of college writing Flower Stein and colleagues convincingly conclude that the legacy of schooling in general makes the transition to college difficult and more important that the assumptions students hold and the strategies they use in undertaking this task play a significant role in their academic performance Embracing a broad range of perspectives from rhetoric composition literacy research literary and cultural theory and cognitive psychology this rigorous analysis treats reading to write as both a cognitive and social process It will interest researchers and theoreticians in rhetoric and writing teachers working with students in transition from high school to college and educators involved in the links between cognition and the social process The Literary Churchman ,1855

Perspectives Jalal Uddin Khan,2015-02-05 Perspectives Romantic Victorian and Modern Literature is an up to date explication of various popular and classic subjects and authors arranged chronologically The book composed of thirteen essays examines Blake Coleridge Byron Shelley Keats Victorian medievalism the Victorian reaction to British India Ben Jonsonian elements in Yeats Yeats and Maud Gonne the treatment of the Irish civil war and Irish nationalism in Yeats and the treatment of the Spanish civil war in the selected works of modern fiction and nonfiction Marked by an originality of approach and a freshness and simplicity the book takes note of contemporary theoretical interdisciplinary and cultural discourse drawn from literature history politics and religion as necessary However it is far from being unnecessarily outweighed by the loaded clichés oft repeated jargon and overused euphemisms of modern literary or critical theory The result is regardless of its specialized treatment of otherwise commonplace or well known texts or topics that the overall discussion is as lucid introductory and expository as it is deep and scholarly making the book easily accessible and understandable to non specialist readers in addition to specialist researchers and academics The Encyclopædia

Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1911 Reading W. G. Sebald Deane Blackler, 2007 A daring new view of Sebald's works and the reading practice they call forth W G Sebald was born in 1944 in Germany He found his way as a young academic to England and a career as professor of German Only between the late 1980s and his untimely death in 2001 did he concentrate on nonacademic writing crafting a new kind of prose work that shares features with but remains distinct from the novel essay travel writing and memoir forms and gaining elevation to the first rank of writers internationally No less a critic than Susan Sontag was moved to ask Is literary greatness still possible implying that it was and that she had found it embodied in his writing Deane Blackler explores Sebald's biography before analyzing the reading practice his texts call forth that of a disobedient reader a proactive reader challenged to question the text by Sebald's peculiar use of poetic language the pseudoautobiographical voice of his narrators the seemingly documentary photographs he inserted into his books and by his exquisite representations of place Blackler reads Sebald's fiction as adventurous and disobedient in its formulation an imaginative revitalization of literary fiction for the third millennium Deane Blackler received her Ph D in Comparative Literature in 2005 from the University of Tasmania The Encyclopædia Britannica, 1911 The Encyclopaedia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1911 Rhetorical Traditions and the Teaching of Writing C. H. Knoblauch, Lil Brannon, 1984 The argument of this book is that the earliest tradition of Western rhetoric the classical perspective of Aristotle and Cicero continues to have the greatest impact on writing instruction albeit an unconscious impact This occurs despite the fact that modern rhetoric no longer accepts either the views of mind language and world underlying ancient theory or the concepts about discourse knowledge and communication presented in that theory As a result teachers are depending on ideas as outmoded as they are unreflectively accepted Knoblauch and Brannon maintain that the two traditions are fundamentally incompatible in their assumptions and concepts so that writing teachers must make choices between them if their teaching is to be purposeful and consistent They suggest that the modern tradition offers a richer basis for instruction and they show what teaching from that perspective looks like and how it differs from traditional teaching The Encyclopedia Britannica, 1911
