Framing Identities Autobiography And The Politics Of Pedagogy:

Framing Identities Wendy S. Hesford, 1999-01-01 How do historically marginalized groups expose the partiality and presumptions of educational institutions through autobiographical acts How are the stories we tell used to justify resistance to change or institutional complacency These are the questions Wendy S Hesford asks as she considers the uses of autobiography in educational settings This book demonstrates how autobiographical acts oral written performative and visual play out in vexed and contradictory ways and how in the academy they can become sites of cultural struggle over multicultural education sexual harassment institutional racism hate speech student activism and commemorative practices Within the context of Oberlin a small liberal arts college in Ohio this book looks at the uses of autobiographical practices in empowering groups traditionally marginalized in academic settings Investigating the process of self representation and the social spatial and discursive frames within which academic bodies and identities are constituted Framing Identities explores the use of autobiographical acts in terms of power influence risks involved and effectiveness Hesford provides a model for teacher researchers across the disciplines education English composition cultural studies women s studies to name a few to investigate the contradictory uses and consequences of autobiography and to carve out new pedagogical spaces Framing

Identities Wendy S. Hesford, 1999 Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography Sarah Brophy, Janice Hladki, 2014-01-01 With contributions by both artists and scholars Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography is a unique examination of visual autobiography s involvement in the global cultural politics of health disability and the body

Haunting Violations Wendy Hesford, Wendy Kozol, 2000-11-30 Feminist critics place a premium on the real stories told by the victimized and the oppressed Haunting Violations offers a corrective to such uncritical acceptance of the real in confessional testimonial and ethnographic narratives Through close readings of a wide variety of texts contributors argue that depictions of the real are inherently performative crafted within the limits and in the interests of specific personal political or social projects Haunting Violations explores the inseparability of discourse and politics in quasi autobiographical works such as I Rigoberta Mench and When Heaven and Earth Changed Places Contributors consider how the Sri Lankan Mother s Front movement exploits the sanctity of the maternal and how multiple political purposes on both sides bleed through government documentary photographs of Japanese American concentration camp internees This volume also investigates how South Asian feminists use the authority of their personal experience to critique the film Mississippi Masala and how realist narratives such as Janet Campbell Hale s autobiographical Bloodlines Margie Strosser s documentary film Rape Stories and Shekur Kapur s film Bandit Queen reexamine how assumptions about power and trauma are embedded in the promise of the real Knowledge in the Blood Jonathan D. Jansen, 2009 Discusses how white South African students learn and confront their Apartheid past and explores how this knowledge transforms both the students and the author the first black dean of an historically white university Spectacular Rhetorics Wendy Hesford, 2011-08-05 Scrutinizes spectacular rhetoric the use of visual images and imagery to construct certain bodies populations and nations as victims and incorporate them into human rights discourses geared toward Westerners

Latina/os and World War II Maggie Rivas-Rodriguez, B. V. Olguín, 2014-04-15 This eye opening anthology documents for the first time the effects of World War II on Latina o personal and political beliefs across a broad spectrum of ethnicities and races within the Latina o identity     Retrieving Experience Sonia Kruks, 2018-09-05 In Retrieving Experience Sonia Kruks engages critically with the postmodern turn in feminist and social theory She contends that although postmodern analyses yield important insights about the place of discourse in constituting subjectivity they lack the ability to examine how experience often exceeds the limits of discourse To address this lack and explain why it matters for feminist politics Kruks retrieves and employs aspects of postwar French existential theory a tradition that she argues postmodernism has obscured by militantly rejecting its own genealogy Kruks seeks to refocus our attention on the importance for feminism of embodied and lived experiences Through her original readings of Simone de Beauvoir and other existential thinkers including Sartre Fanon and Merleau Ponty and her own analyses inspired by their work Kruks sheds new light on central problems in feminist theory and politics These include debates about subjectivity and individual agency questions about recognition and identity politics and discussion of whether embodied experiences may sometimes facilitate solidarity among groups of different women

Laying Claim Patricia G. Davis, 2016-08-15 Laying Claim African American Cultural Memory and Southern Identity explores the practices and cultural institutions that define and sustain African American southernness demonstrating that southern identity is more expansive than traditional narratives that center on white culture     Documenting

Gendered Violence Lisa M. Cuklanz, Heather McIntosh, 2016-08-25 Documenting Gendered Violence explores the intersections of documentary and gendered violence Several contributors investigate representations through grounded textual analyses of key films and videos including Sex Crimes Unit 2011 and The Invisible War 2012 and other documentary texts including Youtube photographs and theater Other chapters use analysis and interviews to explore how gender violence issues impact production and how these documentaries become part of collaborations and awareness movements

Mothering a Bodied Curriculum Stephanie Springgay, Debra Freedman, 2012-02-10 This collection considers how embodiment mothering and curriculum theory are related to practices in education that silence conceal and limit gendered raced and sexual maternal bodies Advancing a new understanding of the maternal body it argues for a bodied curriculum a practice that attends to the relational social and ethical implications of being with other bodies differently and to the different knowledges such bodily encounters produce Contributors argue that the prevailing silence about the maternal body in educational scholarship reinforces the binary split between domestic and public spaces family life and work one s own children and others children and women s roles as mothers or others Providing an interdisciplinary perspective in which postmodern ideas about the body interact with those of learning and teaching Mothering a Bodied Curriculum brings theory and practice together into an ever evolving conversation

Autobiographical Writing by Early Modern Hispanic Women Elizabeth Teresa Howe, 2016-04-08 Women s life writing in general has too often been ignored dismissed or relegated to a separate category in those few studies of the genre that include it The present work addresses these issues and offers a countervailing argument that focuses on the contributions of women writers to the study of autobiography in Spanish during the early modern period There are indeed examples of autobiographical writing by women in Spain and its New World empire evident as early as the fourteenth century Memorias penned by Do a Leonor L pez de Cord ba and continuing through the seventeenth century Cartas of Sor Juana In s de la Cruz What sets these accounts apart the author shows are the variety of forms adopted by each woman to tell her life and the circumstances in which she adapts her narrative to satisfy the presence of male critics whether ecclesiastic or political actual or imagined who would dismiss or even alter her life story Analyzing how each of these women viewed her life and conversely how their contemporaries both male and female received and sometimes edited her account Howe reveals the tension in the texts between telling a life and telling a lie

Defying the Odds Donna

Dunbar-Odom, 2012-02-01 For me literacy is like trying to open a locked door with the wrong key I don't always see the meaning at first and usually I have to have someone let me in with their key I tend to think that being in college is enough but it still isn't going to guarantee higher literacy for me It is something I am trying to grasp but I am going about it slowly simply because I am not so sure of how important it is to me Rachel According to key literacy research working class students are far less likely to pursue higher literacy than their middle class counterparts yet there are countless examples of those who have defied the odds In this thoughtful look at why some determinedly pursue higher literacy against all expectations and predictions Donna Dunbar Odom explores the complex relationships people have with literacy paying particular attention to the relationship between literacy and class She shares the personal and often poignant literacy narratives of writers academics and her own students to reveal a great deal about what motivates desire for higher literacy as well as what gets in the way Bringing together these reflections with current literacy composition and class theories Dunbar Odom provides a better understanding of how to tap that desire in writing classrooms Ultimately the author argues that teachers need to focus less attention on how students should read and more on why they might want to Traversing

the Democratic Borders of the Essay Cristina Kirklighter, 2012-02-01 Scholarship on the personal essay has focused on Western European and U S varieties of the form In Traversing the Democratic Borders of the Essay Cristina Kirklighter extends these boundaries by reading the Latin American and Latino essayists Paulo Freire Victor Villanueva and Ruth Behar alongside such canonical figures as Montaigne Bacon Emerson and Thoreau In this fascinating journey into the commonalities and differences among these essayists Kirklighter focuses on various elements of the personal essay self reflexivity accessibility spontaneity and a rhetoric of sincerity in order to argue for a more democratic form of writing in academia one that would democratize the academy and promote nation building By using these elements in their teachings and writings Kirklighter argues educators can play a significant role in helping others who experience academic alienation achieve a better sense of belonging as they slowly dismantle the walls of the ivory tower Being with A/r/tography

, 2008-01-01 Being with A/r/tography is a collection of essays that explain and exemplify the arts based research methodology called a/r/tography Edited by four scholars who are artists researchers and teachers a/r/tographers this book is a methodology book for practitioners in arts based educational research In addition to an introductory essay which contextualizes and theorizes the methodological framework of a/r/tography the book is divided into three main thematic sections that are integral to a/r/tographical research 1 self study and autobiography 2 communities of a/r/tographic practice 3 ethics and activism The book concludes with a consideration of issues related to assessment validity and interpretation Being with A/r/tography will be an excellent core text in graduate courses that focus on arts based educational research as well as a valuable text in pre service teacher education programs The book will also be significant for qualitative research courses in all the social sciences and the health sciences including communication studies nursing counseling psychology and arts therapy The book provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to artography Even though artography as a research methodology is relatively new in the scholarly field Being with Artography spells out how scholarly practitioners who are artists and researchers and teachers have been pursuing this kind of research for a long time
