Science, Entertainment and Television

Documentary Vincent Campbell, 2016-05-13 The shift from traditional documentary to factual entertainment television has been the subject of much debate and criticism particularly with regard to the representation of science New types of factual programming that combine documentary techniques with those of entertainment formats such as drama game shows and reality TV have come in for strident criticism Often featuring spectacular visual effects produced by Computer Generated Imagery these programmes blur the boundaries between mainstream science and popular beliefs Through close analysis of programmes across a range of sciences this book explores these issues to see if criticisms of such hybrid programmes as representing the rotting carcass of science TV really are valid Campbell considers if in fact when considered in relation to the principles practices and communication strategies of different sciences these shows can be seen to offer more complex and rich representations that construct sciences as objects of wonder awe and the sublime

Evolution on British Television and Radio Alexander Hall, 2021-09-30 This book charts the history of how biological evolution has been depicted on British television and radio from the first radio broadcast on evolution in 1925 through to the 150th anniversary of Charles Darwin's Origin of the Species in 2009 Going beyond science documentaries the chapters deal with a broad range of broadcasting content to explore evolutionary themes in radio dramas educational content and science fiction shows like Doctor Who The book makes the case that the dominant use in science broadcasting of the evolutionary epic a narrative based on a progressive vision of scientific endeavour is part of the wider development of a standardised way of speaking about science in society during the 20th century In covering the diverse range of approaches to depicting evolution used in British productions the book demonstrates how their success had a global influence on the genres and formats of science broadcasting used today

International Media Research John R. Corner, Philip Schlesinger, Professor Philip R Schlesinger, Roger Silverstone, 2004-01-14 International Media Research offers a rigorous and critical review of key approaches and concerns that have recently defined the field of media research In this clearly argued collection of essays the contributors analyze and reflect upon dominant themes and debates that have made media research an increasingly important element of cultural theory The volume begins with a critical evaluation of the work of the leading media scholar Elihu Katz and continues with an exploration of the relationship between media studies and adjacent disciplines cultural studies and gender and sexuality Contributors drawn from Britain America Canada and Belgium consider the relationships between media research and media policy in different national and international contexts Focusing on the European Union East Central Europe North America and Latin America chapters assess the impact of social economic and political circumstances on policy debates and the shaping of the research agenda The final chapter adopts a transatlantic perspective in tracing and analysing the history of the media's role in reporting war

Picturing Culture Jay Ruby, 2000-08-15 Here Jay Ruby a founder of visual anthropology distills his thirty year exploration of the relationship of film and anthropology Spurred by a conviction that the ideal of an anthropological cinema has not even remotely begun to be realized Ruby argues that ethnographic filmmakers should generate a set of critical standards analogous to those for written ethnographies Cinematic artistry and the desire to entertain he argues can eclipse the original intention which is to provide an anthropological representation of the subjects The book begins with analyses of key filmmakers Robert Flaherty Robert Garner and Tim Asch who have striven to generate profound statements about human behavior on film Ruby then discusses the idea of research film Eric Michaels and indigenous media the ethics of representation the nature of ethnography anthropological knowledge and film and lays the groundwork for a critical approach to the field that borrows selectively from film communication media and cultural studies Witty and original yet intensely theoretical this collection is a major contribution to the field of visual anthropology

Mainstreaming Gays Eve Ng, 2023-09-15 Mainstreaming Gays discusses a key transitional period linking the eras of legacy and streaming analyzing how queer production and interaction that had earlier occurred outside the mainstream was transformed by multiple converging trends the emergence of digital media the rising influence of fan cultures and increasing interest in LGBTQ content within commercial media The US networks Bravo and Logo broke new ground in the early 2000s and 2010s with their channel programming as well as bringing in a new cohort of LGBTQ digital content creators providing unprecedented opportunities for independent queer producers and hosting distinctive spaces for queer interaction online centered on pop culture and politics rather than dating These developments constituted the ground from which recent developments for LGBTQ content and queer sociality online have emerged Mainstreaming Gays is critical reading for those interested in media production fandom subcultures and LGBTQ digital media

The Sociolinguistics of Narrative Joanna Thornborrow, Jennifer Coates, 2005 This book aims to appraise sociolinguistic work devoted to the form and function of storytelling and to examine in detail the ways in which narrative constitutes a fundamental discursive resource across a range of contexts The chapters presented here bring together some of the most recent work in the theory and practice of narrative analysis from a broad sociolinguistic perspective They address some of the questions left implicit whenever stories are brought within the analytic frame of sociolinguistics What exactly do we mean by story what kind of social and contextual variations can determine the production and shape of situated stories and what are the core elements of narrative as a discursive unit and interactional resource how is the relationship between narrative discourse and social context articulated in the construction of cultural identities The data come both from institutional settings such as workplaces courtrooms schools and the media as well as from informal everyday settings
