Integrated Life-Cycle and Risk Assessment for Industrial Processes and Products Guido Sonnemann, Michael Tsang, Marta Schuhmacher, 2018-10-10

Life cycle assessment is a methodology used to evaluate the environmental impacts of a product process or service during its life cycle and risk assessment is a tool to evaluate potential hazards to human health and the environment introduced by pollutant emissions The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals call for among other objectives responsible consumption and production by decoupling environmental resource use and environmental impacts from economic growth and human well being Life cycle assessment and risk assessment are both analytical system approaches that allow scientists and other decision makers to address these issues and objectives according to the current understanding of environmental mechanisms This book is the first attempt to illustrate the existing interfaces between life cycle assessment and risk assessment and to indicate options for further integration of both tools The second edition Focuses on sustainability Considers new developments in life cycle assessment and environmental risk assessment over the last ten years at the international level Introduces broader concepts and discussions on integrative versus the complementary use of life cycle and risk assessments Extends the scope of integrated life cycle and risk assessments to critical raw materials Includes more case studies and discusses engineered nanomaterials Featuring contributions from leading experts Integrated Life Cycle and Risk Assessment for Industrial Processes and Products is a great reference for graduate students and professionals in environmental management and intends to catalyze communication between life cycle assessment and risk assessment experts and scientists in academia industry and governmental agencies The practical format of the book illustrated with flowcharts examples exercises and concrete applications makes it a useful manual for analyzing situations and making decisions

Guidelines for the Design of Agricultural Investment Projects Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1993-01-01

The Science of Composting Marco de Bertoldi, 2013-11-11 The European Union initially demonstrated its interest in waste in the late 70s with the programme on Waste Recycling Research and Development At that time composting was only present as a coordination activity and it was only later that specific research programmes in the area were within Europe which was largely instrumental in setting up a series of European conferences seminars and work shops Some of these have resulted in publications which have made significant contributions to developments in the understanding of composting and the use of composts In particular the outputs from meetings in Oxford 1984 Udine 1986

Neresheim 1988 and Angers 1991 are worthy of note Composting has seen significant changes since the 70s when the major thrust in Europe was using mixed municipal solid waste as a feed material Many com posting plants which were built to use this material were closed due to the poor quality of the compost which made it very difficult to market As a result the main areas of interest as far as the municipalities are concerned are now with biowaste and source separated organics This interest is apparent from the many new plants which are being constructed across Europe and the ready market which exists for the products In parallel with the renewed interest of the municipalities other areas such as agriculture and the wastewater treatment industries are also developing their own schemes Développez des applications pour iPhone Lee S.
