Literature and Cartography Anders Engberg-Pedersen, 2017-11-24 The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf Catalog

How History Gets Things Wrong Alex

Rosenberg,2019-08-13 Why we learn the wrong things from narrative history and how our love for stories is hard wired To understand something you need to know its history Right Wrong says Alex Rosenberg in How History Gets Things Wrong Feeling especially well informed after reading a book of popular history on the best seller list Don t Narrative history is always always wrong It s not just incomplete or inaccurate but deeply wrong as wrong as Ptolemaic astronomy We no longer believe that the earth is the center of the universe Why do we still believe in historical narrative Our attachment to history as a vehicle for understanding has a long Darwinian pedigree and a genetic basis Our love of stories is hard wired Neuroscience reveals that human evolution shaped a tool useful for survival into a defective theory of human nature Stories historians tell Rosenberg continues are not only wrong but harmful Israel and Palestine for example have dueling narratives of dispossession that prevent one side from compromising with the other Henry Kissinger applied lessons drawn from the Congress of Vienna to American foreign policy with disastrous results Human evolution improved primate mind reading the ability to anticipate the behavior of others whether predators prey or cooperators to get us to the top of the African food chain Now however this hard wired capacity makes us think we can understand history what the Kaiser was thinking in 1914 why Hitler declared war on the United States by uncovering the narratives of what happened and why In fact Rosenberg argues we will only understand history if we don t make it into a story Bibliographic Guide to Maps and Atlases 2001 G.
