Navajo Weaving Way Noel Bennett, Tiana Bighorse, 1997-07 This revision of the authors Working with the wool with much Navajo tradition and many photos added is a guide to Navajo rug weaving from carding spinning through set up and weaving American Indian Quarterly, 1993 Reflections of the Weaver's World Ann Lane Hedlund, 1992 Swept Under the Rug Kathy M'Closkey, 2002 Debunks the romanticist stereotyping of Navajo weavers and Reservation traders and situates weavers within the economic history of the southwest AB Bookman's Weekly, 1987-09 The American West, 1987 The Bloomsbury Review, 1987 Dine Bibliography to the 1990s Howard M. Bahr, 1999-06 The Navajo are the largest tribe of Indians in the United States and due in part to a fascination with their relative isolation have been analyzed in numerous documentaries In this timely supplement to the Navajo Bibliography Howard M Bahr engages in a unique postmodern approach to his bibliography of the Navajo culture by combining health related artistic economic religious social scientific and other literature on the Navajo into one study The bibliography skillfully downplays disciplinary boundaries by unifying literature that has previously only offered separate classification and access The more than 6 300 entries are selectively annotated and cover Navajo literature from 1970 to 1990 as well as newly discovered literature including Franciscans literature that was not included in the original Navajo Bibliography This bibliography is not only the most comprehensive bibliography to date in its coverage of more than two decades of new material but the only source that supplements the professional literature with local and cultural works An exhaustive resource that effectively doubles the expanse of Navajo literature surveyed and indexed Dine Bibliography to the 1990s is an invaluable tool that both highlights the literature already available and expands such data to include coverage of genres that have been previously underrepresented Navajo and Photography James C. Faris, 1996 This thorough critical examination of photographic practices calls attention to the inability of most photography to communicate the lived experiences of native people or their history Faris s survey beginning with the earliest photographs of Navajos in captivity at the Bosque Redondo and including the most recent glossy picture books and calendars points up the western assumptions that have always governed photographic representation of Navajo people Drawing on exhaustive archival research to unearth rarely published photographs as well as unpublished photographs by well known photographers Faris documents Navajo resistance to the West s view and viewfinder and persistent attempts to overcome or dismiss such resistance He challenges the photographic history of the Navajo people as presented by photographers historians and anthropologists and explores the social and legal conditions that make such photography possible Confronting many readers nostalgic expectations Navajo and Photography will appeal to all those with an interest in the juxtaposition of cultures Recent Publications in Natural History, 1988 American Indian Culture and Research Journal, 1996 Indians of North and South America Carolyn E. Wolf, 1997 The Willard E Yager Library Museum at Hartwick College has remained committed to maintaining a collection of resources relating to Native Americans since Scarecrow first published Indians of North and South America in 1977 This updated bibliography includes items added to the collection after the first supplement was compiled in 1987 and before November 1 1995 All materials circulate and are available for interlibrary loans except rare books Connections ,1993
