Revisiting Crimes of the Powerful Steven Bittle, Laureen Snider, Steve Tombs, David Whyte, 2018-06-13. Frank Pearce was the first scholar to use the term 'crimes of the powerful'. His ground-breaking book of the same name provided insightful critiques of liberal orthodox criminology, particularly in relation to labelling theory and symbolic interactionism, while making important contributions to Marxist understandings of the complex relations between crime, law and the state in the reproduction of the capitalist social order. Historically, crimes of the powerful were largely neglected in crime and deviance studies, but there is now an important and growing body of work addressing this gap. This book brings together leading international scholars to discuss the legacy of Frank Pearce's book and his work in this area, demonstrating the invaluable contributions a critical Marxist framework brings to studies of corporate and state crimes nationally, internationally and on a global scale. This book is neither a hagiography nor a review of random areas of social scientific interest. Instead, it draws together a collection of scholarly and original articles which draw upon and critically interrogate the continued significance of the approach pioneered in Crimes of the Powerful. The book traces the evolution of crimes of the powerful empirically and theoretically since 1976, shows how critical scholars have integrated new theoretical insights derived from post-structuralism, feminism and critical race studies, and offers perspectives on how the crimes of the powerful and the enormous ongoing destruction they cause can be addressed and resisted.

Revisiting Gender Inequality Qi Wang, Min Dongchao, 2016-04-08. One of the widely acknowledged consequences of the economic reforms in China over the past four decades has been a widened social gender gap and hence increased gender inequalities. In recent years, there is a rising concern of inequality in China and a mounting intellectual reflection and critique of the growth-focused development path China has followed so far. This collection can be seen as a part of this critique, but the focus is on gender and various forms of inequality pertaining to gender and gender relations. The book shows how various gender inequality issues are approached and analysed in the location of China by Chinese gender social science scholars and how studies of gender inequality constitutes an astute critique of the neo-liberal capitalist development in China. The book brings forth a distinctive gender perspective to the Chinese intellectual and political analysis of social inequality and a Chinese perspective to the bulks of international scholarship on gender inequality in China.

Revisiting Feminist Approaches to Art Therapy Susan Hogan, 2012-06-15. Art therapy has been slow to embrace the critical and theoretical viewpoints including feminism that have made a huge impact on other areas of the humanities and social sciences Art therapists are ideally situated however to respond to the growing awareness of how language media and images influence gender inequality and the pressures that can lead to poor mental health and diminished well being among women The contributors explore the ways in which gender issues can be addressed through art therapy By being sensitive to the socio cultural dimensions of women s lives therapists can become more receptive to the needs of their female clients The case studies included here illustrate how issues of class ethnicity and gender introduce a social element into what is sometimes described as a purely personal cathartic process By discussing empowerment sexuality pregnancy and childbirth this volume provides a comprehensive survey of women s issues within art therapy and will prompt a reevaluation of current training and practice in the field     Journal of the Town Planning Institute Town Planning Institute (London, England),1966 Includes Proceedings of the Institute s meetings     Thus to Revisit Ford Madox Ford,1921     The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004     The British Journal of Photography William Crookes,T.
