Peabody in Vintage Postcards William R. Power, 2002 Peabody was settled in 1626 as Brooksby Village and was originally a part of the town of Salem In 1752 citizens joined in the area of town known as Salem Village to form the town of Danvers The separation of the two towns into Danvers and South Danvers took place in 1855 In 1868 the name of South Danvers was changed to Peabody to honor its native son George Peabody In Peabody vivid postcards offer a contrasting view of what it was like to live and work in a community having two distinct characters the town center with its bustling tanning industries which soon earned Peabody the sobriquet of Leather Capital of the World and the pastoral farming villages of Brookdale Locustdale Brooksby and West Peabody which portray a sense of life in rural America during this same era

The Lost Hamptons Steven Petrow, 2004 This collection of vintage postcards portrays the quiet villages white sand beaches historic homes and privet lined lanes that are the essence of Long Island s Hamptons Stunning in their color detail and composition these cards originally photographs depict a place and a way of life that has all but disappeared Filled with the high drama of celebrity the glorious architecture of the time and the quiet splendor of the East End s landscapes and seascapes The Lost Hamptons brings back the experience of a world all but swallowed by the march of time

East Hampton Richard Barons and Isabel Carmichael, 2016-05-30 East Hampton began as a fishing and farming community in the 1600s but by the late 18th century the area had grown to be a popular summer destination Within a year of its construction in 1796 the Montauk Lighthouse was already attracting tourists By the mid 19th century steamships and railroads were taking visitors to see the magnificent beaches and stay in the boardinghouses The smaller East Hampton communities such as Montauk Amagansett and Wainscott also became favored locations for people escaping the heat of the cities and they remain highly sought after destinations today Lost Attractions of Hampton Roads Nancy E. Postcards from Exeter Carol Walker Aten, 2003 In 1904 Frank W. Swallow left behind his short-lived car dealership and began a successful cottage industry printing his own hand-colored postcards. He was the first to introduce the Souvenir Post Card to one-half of New England according to the imprint of his trademark swallow. Many of Swallow's photographs are contained within this book which tells a special history of Exeter, New Hampshire between 1900 and 1940, a time when the horse and carriage era shifted to the automobile, hemlines rose a few inches and electricity came to town. Learn about a mysteriously lost statue, hidden waterways, great buildings that burned, forgotten parades and the famous Swallow Girls. Most images never before seen are from the Exeter Historical Society's collection and proceeds from the sales of this publication support the society in honor of its seventy-fifth anniversary. Postcard America Jeffrey L. Meikle, 2016-01-20 This illustrated history of the colorized linen postcards of the 1930s and 40s is an incredible tour. A veritable treasure trove of American culture. Crave Online From the Great Depression through the early postwar years, any postcard sent in America was more than likely a linen card. Colorized in vivid, often exaggerated hues and printed on card stock embossed with a linen-like texture, linen postcards celebrated the American scene with views of majestic landscapes, modern cityscapes, roadside attractions and other notable features. These colorful images portrayed the United States as shimmering with promise, quite unlike the black and white worlds of documentary photography or Life magazine. Linen postcards were enormously popular with close to a billion printed and sold. Postcard America offers the first comprehensive study of these cards and their cultural significance. Drawing on the production files of Curt Teich Co. of Chicago, the originator of linen postcards, Jeffrey L. Meikle reveals how photographic views were transformed into colorized postcard images, often by means of manipulation, adding and deleting details or collaging bits and pieces from several photos. He presents two extensive portfolios of postcards: landscapes and cityscapes that comprise a representative iconography of linen postcard views. For each image, Meikle explains the postcard's subject, describes aspects of its production and places it in social and cultural contexts. In the concluding chapter, he shifts from historical interpretation to a contemporary viewpoint, considering nostalgia as a motive for collectors and others who are fascinated today by these striking images. Hampton and Hampton Beach William H. Teschek, 1997-05-01 A mecca for families and beachgoers for over one hundred years, Hampton is situated along New Hampshire's short coastline. Composed of two distinct parts, town and beach, the town is a study in contrasts. The quiet colonial village three miles inland did not see much growth until after World War II Meanwhile the beach area progressed rapidly from a nearly deserted stretch of ocean occupied by fishermen and a few scattered hotels to a bustling beach resort that could draw more than 100 000 tourists on a hot Fourth of July weekend This fascinating volume contains over two hundred old photographs Vintage images of Hampton Beach show the resort through its many changes from its lazy beginnings through the era of the grand hotels electric trolley cars and swing bands who played at the Ballroom up to the 1950s when the beach became a popular family resort destination Maine History ,2001 Lighthouses of Hampton
