

The background of the cover features several technical diagrams. At the top, there is a detailed cross-section of a robotic gripper with multiple fingers and a central mechanism. To its right is a diagram of a cylinder with internal components. Below these, there are several smaller diagrams showing various mechanical linkages, joints, and structural frames, some with labels like 'Cylindrical', 'Ball joint', and 'Universal joint'. The diagrams are rendered in a light blue/white color against the dark blue background.
