Goss And Souvenir Heraldic China:

Goss and Souvenir Heraldic China Lynda Pine, 2008-03-04 Heraldic china is keenly collected and here the author explains how the china was made what potteries produced it and how to identify and date individual pieces Welsh Armorial Porcelain Howell G. M. Edwards, 2022-05-05 Armorial porcelains comprised the output of most European ceramics factories in the 18th and 19th Centuries in response to the large quantity of armorial porcelain services that were being imported from China bearing the coats of arms and crests of aristocratic families Whereas these armorial services have been identified and covered for most porcelain manufactories the information relevant to their production by the two relatively short lived Nantgarw and Swansea China Works has not been addressed as a theme until now As an integral component of the holistic forensic appraisal of porcelain a functional and decorative artwork manifestly part of our cultural heritage and its ongoing preservation the recording and identification of such artefacts is material for the future establishment of a database of factory production The Nantgarw and Swansea factories only operated for a limited period in the second decade of the 19th Century and their porcelains were much appreciated for their high quality and desirability by Georgian households Today examples are to be found in many museums and ceramics collections and continue to excite the interest of specialists and the general public This text provides the first comprehensive assessment of armorial porcelains from these two factories and the methodology and procedure for the identification of unknown armorial bearings and crests is illustrated individual bearings are discussed in detail and existing incorrect assignments in the literature are re appraised The difficulties in attribution of armorial heraldic achievements that are only minimally depicted are considered and directions for further studies using historical documentation are invoked This book therefore fills a currently existing gap in the ceramics literature of the 19th Century Fabricating Lureland Julia Winckler, 2021-12-06 Through the analysis of surviving archival traces this book constructs a history of the imagination and memory of the town of Peacehaven Built as a speculative development atop iconic chalk cliffs on the Sussex Coast and marketed as a garden city by the sea the estate quickly attracted adverse publicity Influential voices such as the Bloomsbury group s Virginia and Leonard Woolf architect and writer Clough Williams Ellis and the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England soon began to criticise it as a blot on the rolling pastoral downland Instead of reading and appraising Peacehaven s story in a polarized way this book breaks new ground by critically interpreting visual representations and commissioned photographs of the Estate and re evaluating propositions from its inception which aspired to secure improved public health and home ownership in direct response to the negative impact of industrialization and WWI Focusing on the interwar period and tracing mutating agendas the book investigates contested marketing and construction narratives through Histoire Crois e methodology and its intercrossings with memory and the imagination By combining visual and creative research methods with oral history multi layered narratives of place come into focus The study tracks the visual programme of the developer s in house magazine Peacehaven

Post alongside previously underexplored blueprints photographs postcards and promotional guidebooks and considers the garden city narrative as a form of social Utopia Garden city ideals are once again evoked in debates as a potential solution to the ongoing national housing shortage giving this research additional urgency as new large scale redevelopment erases many of the few and fast disappearing original landmarks

The Coronation Chair and Stone of Scone Warwick

Rodwell,2013-06-02 Constructed in 1297 1300 for King Edward I the Coronation Chair ranks amongst the most remarkable and precious treasures to have survived from the Middle Ages It incorporated in its seat a block of sandstone which the king seized at Scone following his victory over the Scots in 1296 For centuries Scottish kings had been inaugurated on this symbolic Stone of Scone to which a copious mythology had also become attached Edward I presented the Chair as a holy relic to the Shrine of St Edward the Confessor in Westminster Abbey and most English monarchs since the fourteenth century have been crowned in it the last being HM Queen Elizabeth II in 1953 The Chair and the Stone have had eventful histories in addition to physical alterations they suffered abuse in the eighteenth century suffragettes attached a bomb to them in 1914 they were hidden underground during the Second World War and both were damaged by the gang that sacrilegiously broke into Westminster Abbey and stole the Stone in 1950 It was recovered and restored to the Chair but since 1996 the Stone has been exhibited on loan in Edinburgh Castle Now somewhat battered through age the Chair was once highly ornate being embellished with gilding painting and colored glass Yet despite its profound historical significance until now it has never been the subject of detailed archaeological recording Moreover the remaining fragile decoration was in need of urgent conservation which was carried out in 2010 12 accompanied by the first holistic study of the Chair and Stone In 2013 the Chair was redisplayed to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of the Coronation of HM The Queen The latest investigations have revealed and documented the complex history of the Chair it has been modified on several occasions and the Stone has been reshaped and much altered since it left Scone This volume assembles for the first time the complementary evidence derived from history archaeology and conservation and presents a factual account of the Coronation Chair and the Stone of Scone not as separate artifacts but as the entity that they have been for seven centuries Their combined significance to the British Monarchy and State and to the history and archaeology of the English and Scottish nations is greater than the sum of their parts Also published here for the first time is the second Coronation Chair made for Queen Mary II in 1689 Finally accounts are given of the various full size replica chairs in Britain and Canada along with a selection of the many models in metal and ceramic which have been made during the last two centuries

Souvenirs

Michael Hitchcock,Ken Teague,2019-09-16 This title was first published in 2000 Souvenirs broadly conceived are generally thought to be the material counterpart of travels events relationships and memories of all kinds The material items classed as souvenirs discussed in this text have memorial functions usually connected with the owner s travels But not all of the items are souvenirs of tourism they are also souvenirs of other past phenomena such as political events suffragettes colonial history

India former artistic pre eminence Awaji Ningyo puppetry or former ways of life South American ceramic archaisms The authors do not necessarily focus on material souvenirs in their memorial function as prompters of memory They also use their case studies as starting points for the discussion of many interesting contemporary phenomena such as cottage industries for economic development in Mexico and Ainu as devices to invigorate or maintain artistic practices as emblems of cultural conformity Surrealists or as symbolic weapons in national and international political arguments A key focus of many of the chapters is the question of meaning what is the meaning of any particular souvenir or collection and for whom does it bear that meaning
