Goodness A Novel:

Any Small Goodness Tony Johnston, 2001 Filled with hope love and warmth this novel describes a Los Angeles far different from the place of movie stars and very poor people a place where random acts of generosity improve the lives of the community Reading the American Novel 1865 - 1914 G. R. Thompson, 2011-07-28 An indispensable tool for teachers and students of American literature Reading the American Novel 1865 1914 provides a comprehensive introduction to the American novel in the post civil war period Locates American novels and stories within a specific historical and literary context Offers fresh analyses of key selected literary works Addresses a wide audience of academics and non academics in clear accessible prose Demonstrates the changing mentality of 19th century America entering the 20th century Explores the relationship between the intellectual and artistic output of the time and the turbulent socio political context A Mad Marriage. Eigner, George J. Worth, 1985-11-07 By the end of the nineteenth century the novel unquestionably had become the most popular and influential of English literary forms Yet it has not always been clear how the Victorians themselves regarded the nature of prose fiction This volume is a collection of twelve landmark essays that chart the development of English theories of fiction during the great age of the novel Spanning the whole of the Victorian period from Bulwer Lytton s On Art in Fiction 1838 to Conrad s preface to The Nigger of the Narcissus 1897 the volume also includes pieces by George Eliot Henry James Robert Louis Stevenson and a number of the more important critics and reviewers of the time The editors introduction surveys the main issues such as the debate between realism and romance addressed by novel criticism throughout the period Each of the selections that follow is set in its historical context by a prefatory essay and is fully annotated for the student There is a helpful bibliography of further reading Essays on English and American Literature and a Sheaf of Poems ,2021-11-01 The Congregationalist and Christian World ,1904

MODERN AND ANCIENT LITERARY THEORIES Dr. P. C. Cambodia,2021-03-02 As breathing is essential for our life to sustain so is criticism for all types of literature to flourish It regulates and controls quality production of the literary activities It links the creators of literature to the readers It is of various types say for instance theoretical criticism practical criticism eco criticism and so on Critics of the different languages of the world have been contributing to the domain of criticism over a wide span of time period say from BC to AD They have set the yard sticks or the principles or parameters or the rules of evaluation of literature and collection of such rules is called as literary theories The present edition Modern and Ancient Literary Theories is an exhaustive critical commentary on the chosen critics of the world level We know the writers have been creating literature in almost every language which is written and read but who would keep an account of its worth It may or may not be up to the standard of quality reading and appreciation so it comes to share of critics to shoulder this responsibility to allow fine quality literature to flourish and worth less literature to sink down and for this process to administer the critics need the literary theories which this book supplies in short concise and appropriate form Besides the community of critics the collection of the literary theories is needed by the young aspirants of literary studies who want to be story writers poets dramatists novelists and the writers of the tales These guidelines of literary criticism tell them of the basic requirements with the help of which these literary genres can be composed These critical standards also sharpen their literary craftsmanship and intellectuality Every year so many college and university students prepare for their examination and they have to lay their hand on different books on literary theories but in this book sincere efforts have been done to induct the study material at one place to minimize the inconvenience that is caused to the community of the students This book is self sufficient and self explanatory to deal with the critical standards of the various critics and it will help those readers pursuing studies in the principles of criticism or literary theories The author would like to express his sincere thanks to the Publisher HORIZON BOOKS A DIVISION OF IGNITED MINDS EDUTECH PVT LTD and his friend Mr Maman Chand for motivating him to write this book and Mr Sunil Saini and Mr Nandan Singh for assisting him in the computer work to design this book Special thanks are also due to the members of the author s family who fully helped him to write this book Dr P C Cambodia Rosamond Lehmann and Her Critics Wendy Pollard,2017-11-28 This study of contemporary and later critical responses to the work of the novelist Rosamond Lehmann 1901 1990 offers an original approach to twentieth century literary history by foregrounding the cultural and commercial fields in which Lehmann s writing was situated Wendy Pollard examines the effect recent developments in literary theory and movements from modernism to feminism have had on Lehmann's literary reception. She also considers the interpolation of a damning third category between the and popular culture namely middlebrow a widening gender divide in readership controversies within book reviewing changes in the publishing world and the introduction of popularist means of book marketing. While considering the general privileging of male authors from the 1920s to the 1950s, Lehmann's most prolific period, Pollard argues that her novels have been unfairly subjected to specific forms of neglect and their exclusion from many academic comparative studies is due to a diversity of form and content that can also be considered their strength. Styles of Extinction: Cormac McCarthy's The Road Julian

Murphet, Mark Steven, 2012-06-28 Styles of Extinction: Cormac McCarthy's The Road brings together several leading literary scholars, one major philosopher as well as a handful of emerging critical voices, all of whom deploy their own specialist methods in order to think through this bestselling Zeitgeist-defining event of contemporary literature. There are two dominant modes of analysis gathered here: the first performed by Julian Murphet, Paul Sheehan, and Mark Steven is to locate the novel within its political, spiritual, and economic climates; the second, whose exponents include Paul Patton, Sean Pryor, Chris Danta, and Grace Hellyer, deals with the formal dimensions of McCarthy's characteristically brilliant prose in relation to its sparse narrative. By coupling historically sensitive analysis with incisive formal criticism, the contributors not only account for the matchless form of this exemplary novel; they also suggest that The Road has something unique to disclose about the world we inhabit. MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures, 2006

Masculinities in Literature of the American West Lydia R. Cooper, 2016-11-15 The Western genre provides the most widely recognized iconic images of masculinity in the United States: gun-slinging, laconic white male heroes who emphasize individualism, violence, and an idiosyncratic form of justice. This idealized masculinity has been fused with ideas of national identity and character. Masculinities in Literature of the American West examines how contemporary literary Westerns push back against the coded image of the Western hero, exposing pervasive anxieties about what it means to act like a man. Contemporary Westerns critique assumptions about innate connections between power, masculinity, and American character that influence public rhetoric even in the late 20th and early 21st centuries. These novels struggle with the monumental challenge of all Westerns: the challenge of being human in a place where being a man is so strictly coded, so unachievable, so complicit in atrocity, and so desirable that it is worth dying for, worth killing for, or perhaps worth nothing at all. Current Literature, 1912

You Can Write A Novel James V. Smith, Jr., 2010-11-02 Turn Your Big Idea into a Salable Novel. Do you have an idea for a great novel? Have you always dreamed of writing a bestseller? Are you at a loss for where to start? Look no further. You Can Write a Novel, 2nd Edition, gives you concrete, proven techniques to get from idea to manuscript to bookstore. Veteran author James V. Smith Jr. breaks down the novel writing process into ten logical steps. You'll start building the foundation for your book right away by taking your story's three most important incidents from brainstorm to final draft perfection Smith's approach will guide you through a practical sequence designed to keep you focused organized and moving forward You Can Write a Novel skillfully and simply addresses the essentials such as plot character setting dialogue and action You'll learn how to generate a salable idea develop your idea into a framework and build your framework into a finished manuscript This edition includes new brainstorming tools fresh plot and character organization strategies and innovative tools to evaluate your story's readability and pacing plus you'll find the one word key to every best selling novel And as always Smith's upbeat accessible style will cheer you on from start to finish New York and Toronto Novels after Postmodernism Caroline Rosenthal, 2011 Cities are material and symbolic spaces through which nations define their cultural identities The great cities that have arisen on the North American continent have stimulated the imaginations of the United States and Canada in very different ways This first comparative study of North American urban fiction starts out by delineating the sociohistorical and literary contexts in which cities grew into diverging symbolic spaces in American and Canadian culture After an overview of recent developments in the cultural conception of urban space the book takes New York and Toronto fiction as exemplary for exploring representations of the urban after postmodernism It analyzes four twenty-first century novels two set in New York Siri Hustvedt's What I Loved and Paule Marshall's The Fisher King and two set in Toronto Carol Shields's Unless and Dionne Brand's What We All Long For While these texts continue to echo the specific traditions of nation building and canon formation in the United States and Canada they also share certain features All of them investigate the affective crossroads of the city while returning to a more realistic mode of representation Caroline Rosenthal is Professor of American Literature at the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena Germany essays for a rainy day Michael Garmon, Current Literature Edward Jewitt Wheeler, 1904 Detoxing Masculinity in Anglophone Literature and Culture Sara Martín, M. Isabel Santaulària, 2023-03-07 This edited volume rethinks Masculinity Studies by breaking away from the notion of the perpetual crisis of masculinity It argues that not enough has been done to distinguish patriarchy from masculinity and proposes to detox masculinity by offering a collection of positive representations of men in fictional and non-fictional texts The editors show how ideas of hegemonic and toxic masculinity have been too fixed on the exploration of dominance and subservience and too little on the men and the male characters in fiction who behave following other ethical personal and socially accepted patterns Bringing together research from different periods and genres this collection provides broad multidisciplinary insights into alternative representations of masculinity
