End Of Life Decisions:

End-of-life Decision Making Robert H. Blank, 2005 Experts analyze death related issues and policies in twelve countries discussing health care costs advance directives pain management cultural social and religious factors and other topics

End-of-life Decisions Maurice Steinberg, Stuart J. Youngner, 1998 In recent years the lens of the media has narrowed issues of euthanasia and assisted suicide to a drama involving two players Dr Kevorkian and the law This has left suffering patients and their families unrecognized and isolated when facing the most painful life decision Here at last is a book that addresses the role of psychiatry in dealing with a major controversial topic in American medicine today treatment decisions at the end of life

End of Life Decisions A Psychosocial Perspective acknowledges and explores the role psychiatrists can play as advisers to the terminally ill and their loved ones It describes the wide range of emotional and psychiatric issues faced by the patient family and physician that affect choices patients make to limit treatment or seek physician assistance in dying A distinguished group of contributors all of whom have extensive experience dealing with end of life issues in clinical practice address topics that may not have been considered previously From dealing with issues of terminal illnesses in children to making difficult treatment decisions for patients with AIDS from judging the competency of clinically depressed patients for making sound decisions to understanding the influence of family dynamics economic forces and language differences on doctor patient communication the book uses specific case studies and data to explore the role of professionals in end of life decisions

End of Life Decisions strikes a careful balance between the need for patient autonomy and the challenge to make well formulated treatment decisions This book will heighten modern medicine's and society's consciousness concerning the difficult challenges faced by patients and their families when making end of life decisions

Palliative Care and End-of-Life Decisions G. Smith, 2013-10-22 Total pain management mandates that an ethic of adjusted care be implemented at the end stage of life which acknowledges ethically legally and clinically the use of terminal sedation as efficacious treatment

End-of-life Decisions in Dutch Neonatal Intensive Care Units Anton Albert Eduard Verhagen, 2008

Critically Impaired Infants and End of Life Decision Making Neera Bhatia, 2015-06-05 Decisions to withdraw or withhold life sustaining treatment are contentious and offer difficult moral dilemmas to both medical practitioners and the judiciary This issue is exacerbated when the patient is unable to exercise autonomy and is entirely dependent on the will of others This book focuses on the legal and ethical complexities surrounding end of life decisions for critically impaired and extremely premature infants Neera Bhatia explores decisions to withdraw or withhold life sustaining treatment from critically impaired infants and addresses the controversial question which lives are too expensive to treat Bringing to bear such key issues as clinical guidance public awareness and resource allocation the book provides a rational approach to end of life decision making where decisions to withdraw or withhold treatment may trump other competing interests The book will be of great interest and use to scholars and students of bioethics medical law and medical practitioners      Cultural Issues in End-of-Life Decision Making Kathryn L. Braun,James H. Pietsch,Patricia L.
