Phenomenological Interpretation of Kant's Critique of Pure Reason Martin Heidegger, 1997-11-22 The eminent philosopher delivers an illuminating interpretation of Kant's magnum opus in what is itself a significant work of Western philosophy The text of Martin Heidegger's 1927-28 university lecture course on Emmanuel Kant's Critique of Pure Reason presents a close interpretive reading of the first two parts of this masterpiece of modern philosophy In this course Heidegger continues the task he enunciated in Being and Time as the problem of dismantling the history of ontology using temporality as a clue Heidegger demonstrates that the relation between philosophy ontology and fundamental ontology is rooted in the genesis of the modern mathematical sciences He also shows that objectification of beings as beings is inseparable from knowledge a priori the central problem of Kant's Critique He concludes that objectification rests on the productive power of imagination a process that involves temporality which is the basic constitution of humans as beings

Mystical Moments and Unitive Thinking Dan Merkur, 1999-02-11 Merkur proposes an alternative to the traditional psychoanalytic explanation of mystical experiences as regression to the solipsism of earliest infancy He does this by viewing unitive thinking as a line of cognitive development and mystical moments as creative inspirations on unitive topics Utilizing classical self reports by Christian Jewish and Muslim mystics Patanjali's Yoga Sutras and modern Western peak experiences Merkur argues that experiences of mystical union are manifestations of a broader category of psychological processes that manifest in scientific and moral thought as well as in mysticism Unconscious as well as conscious unitive thinking is sometimes realistic and sometimes fantastic in patterns that are consistent with cognitive development in general Mystical moments of unitive thinking may be considered moments of creative inspiration that happen to make use of unitive ideas Building on the psychoanalytic object relations theory that the self is always in relationship with an object Merkur argues that the solipsism of some varieties of mystical union always implies unconscious ideas of a love object who is transcendent
