Energy In The Perspective Of Geography Foundations Of Economic Geography Series:

Geographical Dimensions of Energy F.J. Calzonetti, B. Solomon, 2012-12-06 This book is the first attempt to provide a comprehensive volume on the topic of energy geography. The book reviews research on energy geography, contains original refereed articles on energy, and provides a chapter on future research directions in this subfield of geography. The book provides an overview of the research activity underway and highlights the role of geographers and regional scientists in the study of energy topics. A diverse group of scholars contribute to the manuscript, and the chapters show how different research methodologies and approaches are employed in investigating a range of relevant energy problems. This book is intended for upper level undergraduate students and graduate students in geography, regional science, and related disciplines. It will also be useful to professional geographers who would like to know more about the energy geography subfield. Furthermore, the chapters will be interesting to applied geographers and energy policymakers who can see the value of the spatial perspective in addressing energy problems. Economics Selections, 1970 Mechanical Engineering, 1972-07

Human Settlements Sam Stuart, 2013-10-02 Human Settlements: An Annotated Bibliography is an annotated bibliography on human settlements and includes books, journal articles, reports, and documents. Documents from Habitat United Nations Conference on Human Settlements with National Reports are arranged alphabetically by country, along with other Conference documents. This book is comprised of four chapters and begins with a list of books, journal articles, reports, and documents dealing with topics such as housing policies, housing problems in underdeveloped areas, and the effects of land reform and rural ordinance programs. The next chapter is devoted to a bibliography of bibliographies covering topics ranging from land use planning to rural roads and their potential. The third chapter includes national reports from countries such as Afghanistan, Algeria, and Bangladesh. The bibliography concludes with a subject index of key words, subdivided geographically, a secondary author index that includes personal and corporate authors, editors, compilers, and authors of significant introductions, and a list of libraries consulted. This monograph should be of interest to housing officials and policymakers.
