Engaging The Past The Uses Of History Across The Social Sciences:

Engaging the Past Eric H. Monkkonen, 1994 Vigorous historical exploration has increased across the social sciences in the past two decades Originally published as a series of articles in the journal Social Science History the essays in this volume provide a guide to historical social science by surveying the use of historical data and methodologies in anthropology sociology political science economics and geography Each essay in Engaging the Past pays close attention to the unique problems and methods associated with its particular social scientific discipline By exploring questions raised by both contemporary and more established works within each field the authors show that some of the best and most innovative research in each of the social sciences includes a strong historical component Thus as Eric H Monkkonen's introduction shows these essays taken together make it clear that historical research provides a significant key to many of the major issues in the social sciences Intended for the growing community of both social scientists and historians interested in reading or researching historically informed social science Engaging the Past suggests future directions that might be taken by this work Above all by providing a set of user's guides written by respected social scientists it encourages future boundary crossings between history and each of the social sciences Contributors Andrew Abbott Richard Dennis Susan Kellogg Eric H Monkkonen David Brian Robertson Hugh Rockoff The History of the Social Sciences Since 1945 Roger E.
