Engaging Film Geographies Of Mobility And Identity:

Engaging Film Tim Cresswell, Deborah Dixon, 2002 Engaging Film is a creative interdisciplinary volume that explores the engagements among film space and identity and features a section on the use of films in the classroom as a critical pedagogical tool. Focusing on anti-essentialist themes in films and film production, this book examines how social and spatial identities are produced or dissolved in films and how mobility is used to create different experiences of time and space. From popular movies such as Pulp Fiction, Bulworth, Terminator 2 and The Crying Game to home movies and avant-garde films, the analyses and teaching methods in this collection will engage students and researchers in film and media studies, cultural geography, social theory and cultural studies. The Routledge Research Companion to Media Geography Paul C. Adams, Jim Craine, 2016-03-23 This Companion provides an authoritative source for scholars and students of the nascent field of media geography. While it has deep roots in the wider discipline, the consolidation of media geography has started only in the past decade with the creation of media geography's first dedicated journal Aether as well as the publication of the sub-discipline's first textbook. However, at present, there is no other work which provides a comprehensive overview and grounding. By indicating the sub-discipline's evolution and hinting at its future, this volume not only serves to encapsulate what geographers have learned about media but also will help to set the agenda for expanding this type of interdisciplinary exploration. The contributors, leading scholars in this field including Stuart Aitken, Deborah Dixon, Derek McCormack, Barney Warf and Matthew Zook, not only review the existing literature within the remit of their chapters but also articulate arguments about where the future might take media geography scholarship. The volume is not simply a collection of individual offerings but has afforded an opportunity to exchange ideas about media geography with contributors making connections between chapters and developing common themes. Spanish Spaces Ann Davies, 2012-04-13 A pioneering study that fuses cultural geography and contemporary Spanish culture, asking what it means to think of space and place in specifically Spanish terms. It examines how themes of memory and forgetting, nationalism and terrorism, crime and detection, gender, tourism and immigration are explored in contemporary Spanish film and literature. Ecologies of the Moving Image Adrian J. Ivakhiv, 2013-10-07 This book presents an ecophilosophy of cinema, an account of the moving image in relation to the lived ecologies, material, social and perceptual relations within which movies are produced, consumed and incorporated into cultural life. If cinema takes us on mental and emotional journeys, the author argues that those journeys have reshaped our understanding of ourselves, life and the Earth and universe. A range of styles are examined, from ethnographic and wildlife documentaries, westerns and road movies, sci-fi blockbusters and eco-disaster films to the experimental and art films of Tarkovsky, Herzog, Malick and Brakhage to YouTube's expanding audio-visual universe. Documenting the American Student Abroad Kelly Hankin, 2021-01-15 Documenting the American Student Abroad explores the documentary media cultures that shape our views of study abroad, drawing our attention to the broad range of stakeholders and documentary modes involved in defining the core values and practices of study abroad Author Kelly Hankin shows how the institutional values of global citizenship intercultural communication and cultural immersion emerge in contradictory ways through their representation
