Engendering History Caribbean Women In H:

Engendering History Verene Shepherd, Bridget Brereton, Barbara Bailey, 1995 Engendering History NA NA, 2016-04-30 Engendering History broadens the base of empirical knowledge on Caribbean women's history and re-evaluates the body of work that exists. The book is pan Caribbean in its approach though most articles are on the English speaking Caribbean highlighting the research pattern in Caribbean women's history Engendering Caribbean History Verene Shepherd, 2011-01-01 Entrepreneurial Women in the Caribbean Talia R. Esnard, 2022-10-27 Adopting an intersectional lens this book comparatively examines the multiple processes and systems of power that frame the experiences of female entrepreneurs in the Caribbean and the fluid ways in which they respond to these. Specifically it challenges entrepreneurial scholars who are concerned with the experiences of women within that sector to critically interrogate interlocking structures of power e.g. gender race class age industry based hierarchies that operate within that space the marginalizing effects of related processes and the extent to which these affect their thinking and practices of female entrepreneurs within the region. Through comparative lenses the book highlights the structural and relational realities and complexities that undergird the entrepreneurial landscape within the region the effects of these on the entrepreneurial identities positionality and practices of female entrepreneurs. It underscores the many ways in which they navigate that terrain. In so doing the book offers critical insights into the historical socio cultural and economic parameters within which female entrepreneurs in the region engage the lived realities associated with these the prospects or possibilities for re-presenting or re-framing such contextual and discursive spaces. It also provides necessary understandings of the motivations positions prospects possibilities and constraints of entrepreneurial women in the region and the policy implications of these realities. This book offers insights for scholars and policymakers that are important for i understanding the current gaps in entrepreneurial research and policy ii the tools methods and strategies that are needed to address these contextual and discursive realities and ultimately iii the ways in which policy makers and local governments can promote the authentic empowerment of female entrepreneurs in the region while giving considerations to precarious realities of women.

Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Professor Helen C. Scott, 2013-04-28 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism. Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns. Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism. In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott's persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women's studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies

Women Writing the West Indies, 1804-1939 Evelyn O'Callaghan, 2004-06-02 This pioneering study surveys nineteenth and twentieth century narratives of the West Indies written by white women English and Creole It introduces a fascinating wealth of relatively unknown material and constitutes a timely interrogation of the supposed homogeneity of Caribbean discourse especially with regard to race and gender

General History of the Caribbean Higman, B.W., UNESCO, 1905-06-21 This volume looks at the ways historians have written the history of the region depending upon their methods of interpretation and differing styles of communicating their findings The chapters discussing methodology are followed by studies of particular themes of historiography The second half of the volume describes the writing of history in the individual territories taking into account changes in society economy and political structure The final section is a full and detailed bibliography serving not only as a guide to the volume but also as an invaluable reference for the General History of the Caribbean as a whole

Port Towns and Urban Cultures Brad Beaven, Karl Bell, Robert James, 2016-05-04 Despite the port's prominence in maritime history its cultural significance has long been neglected in favour of its role within economic and imperial networks Defined by their intersection of maritime and urban space port towns were sites of complex cultural exchanges This book the product of international scholarship offers innovative and challenging perspectives on the cultural histories of ports ranging from eighteenth century Africa to twentieth century Australasia and Europe The essays in this important collection explore two key themes the nature and character of sailortown culture and port town life and the representations of port towns that were forged both within and beyond urban maritime communities The book's exploration of port town identities and cultures and its use of a rich array of methodological approaches and cultural artefacts will make it of great interest to both urban and maritime historians It also represents a major contribution to the emerging interdisciplinary field of coastal studies

The Politics of Passion Gloria Wekker, 2006 The Politics of Passion centers on an old institution among the Afro Surinamese working class in which women have multiple sexual relationships with both men and women These women reject marriage because of the bonds of dependency it fosters preferring to create their own families of kin lovers and children Gloria Wekker analyzes this phenomenon known as mati work as she vividly describes the lives of Afro Surinamese women She gives an account of women's sexuality that is not limited to either heterosexuality or same sex sexuality Her work offers new perspectives on black women's sexuality the lives of Caribbean women transnational gay and lesbian movements and an Afro Surinamese tradition that challenges conventional Western notions of marriage gender and sexuality By foregrounding the voices of Afro Surinamese women Wekker illuminates these women's daily lives in light of the changes occurring in Surinamese society She also considers the historical religious psychological economic linguistic cultural and political elements that have shaped their lives The book concludes with stories of women who have migrated to the Netherlands where they have created new vibrant mati communities White Creole Culture, Politics and Identity During the Age of Abolition David Lambert, 2005-07-21 This book explores the articulation of white creole identity in Barbados during the age of abolitionism Back to the Drawing Board Njoki Nathani Wane, Katerina Deliovsky, Erica Lawson, 2002 What are the fundamental tenets of African Canadian feminism What are the elements of feminist theory that have contributed to African Canadian feminist thought African American feminists have influenced thinking and writing in Canada As well Black Canadian feminists have published on a wide range of issues relating to Black women's lives history and experience Back to the Drawing Board builds on this existing literature and maps out a new space in which to articulate a stronger vision of African Canadian feminism While the essays focus on key concepts and debates that underlie Black feminist theory and challenge the dominant structures that continue to exclude Black women the objective is to bring the plurality of African Canadian women's voices and experiences into the centre of analysis To accomplish this the editors draw on different theories and insights The fourteen contributors come from different race and gender backgrounds and are committed to creating an empowering space where Black women can speak to and about each other and find a home for their words They write on the subjects of Black Canadian feminist thought African Canadian feminist historiography Black feminist political activism white mainstream feminism as a liberatory movement Black women in the white feminism and anti racist education Native education and spirituality that form and shape identity how the media and law construct Black identity the social consequences of interracial relationships Includes a Glossary Bibliography and Index Back to the Drawing Board initiates a dialogue critical for defining feminisms that validate the contributions and experiences of African Canadian women

History of Oral History Thomas Lee Charlton, Lois E. Myers, Rebecca Sharpless, 2007 Gathered here are parts I and II of the Handbook of Oral History which set the benchmark for knowledge of the field The eminent contributors discuss the history and methodologies of a field that once was the domain of history scholars who were responding to trends within the academy but which has increasingly become democratized and widely used outside the realm of historical research This handbook will be both a traveling guide and essential touchstone for anyone fascinated by this dynamic and expanding discipline Handbook of Oral History Thomas L. Charlton, Lois E. Myers, Rebecca Sharpless, 2008-03-13 In recent decades oral history has matured into an established field of critical importance to historians and social scientists alike Handbook of Oral History captures the current state of the art identifies major strands of intellectual development and predicts key direct

Thinking about Oral History Thomas L. Charlton, Lois E. Myers, Rebecca Sharpless, 2007-10-15 Part III and IV of Handbook of Oral History now available in paper for classroom use Routledge Handbook of the South Asian Diaspora Joya Chatterji, David Washbrook, 2014-01-03 South Asia's diaspora is among the world's largest and most widespread and it is growing exponentially It is estimated that over 25 million persons of Indian descent live abroad and many more millions have roots in other countries of the subcontinent in Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka There are 3 million South Asians in the UK and approximately the same number resides in North America South Asians are an extremely significant presence in Southeast Asia and Africa and increasingly visible in the Middle East This inter disciplinary handbook on the South Asian diaspora brings together contributions by leading scholars and rising stars on different aspects of its history anthropology and geography as well as its contemporary political and socio cultural implications The Handbook is split into five main sections with chapters looking at mobile South Asians in the early modern world before moving on to discuss diaspora in relation to empire nation nation state and the neighbourhood and globalisation and culture Contributors highlight how South Asian diaspora has influenced politics business labour marriage family and culture This much needed and pioneering venture provides an invaluable reference work for students scholars and policy makers interested in South Asian Studies The Cambridge World History: Volume 6, The Construction of a Global World, 1400-1800 CE, Part 1, Foundations Jerry H. Bentley, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2015-04-09 The era from 1400 to 1800 saw intense biological commercial and cultural exchanges and the creation of global connections on an unprecedented scale Divided into two books Volume 6 of the Cambridge World History series considers these critical transformations The first book examines the material and political foundations of the era including global considerations of the environment disease technology and cities along with regional studies of empires in the eastern and western hemispheres crossroads areas such as the Indian Ocean Central Asia and the Caribbean and sites of competition and conflict including Southeast Asia Africa and the Mediterranean The second book focuses on patterns of change examining the expansion of Christianity and Islam migrations warfare and other topics on a global scale and offering insightful detailed analyses of the Columbian exchange slavery silver trade entrepreneurs Asian religions legal encounters plantation economies early industrialism and the writing of history

Women Plantation Workers Shobita Jain, Rhoda Reddock, 2020-08-25 This pioneering collection of essays brings together a description and analysis of women workers and the socio economic systems of plantations world wide The plantation remains a formidable force in many areas of the world and new trends towards tree farming call for further examination of its agriculture Women have in the past constituted a considerable percentage of the work force in this milieu and continue to do so Using specific case studies of historical and contemporary plantations an account is given of the history of female labour focusing on the colonial and post colonial eras The essays examine reasons for women s degraded status and emphasize in particular issues relating to migrant workers The gradual move away from traditional family roles is to some extent reflected in variations in the position of the female plantation worker However where inequalities in class and status continue to characterize plantation life capitalist and patriarchal control prevails Both chilling and bracing the sufferings of plantation labourers may seem remote to most of us but they are still very much part of the contemporary world Providing a close insight into the lives of the female protagonists these essays have given an opportunity for their stories to be heard A History of Infanticide in Britain, c. 1600 to the Present A. Kilday, 2013-06-14 The killing of new born children is an intensely emotional and emotive subject The hidden nature of this crime has made it an area incredibly difficult subject area for historians to approach up until now This work provides the first detailed history of infanticide in mainland Britain from 1600 to the modern era Mother Outlaws Andrea O'Reilly, 2004-05-13 Feminist scholars of motherhood distinguish between mothering and motherhood and argue that the latter is a patriarchal institution that is oppressive to women Few scholars however have considered how mothering as a female defined and centred experience may be a site of empowerment for women This collection is the first to do so Mother Outlaws examines how mothers imagine and implement theories and practices of mothering that are empowering to women Central to this inquiry is the recognition that mothers and children benefit when the mother lives her life and practices mothering from a position of agency authority authenticity and autonomy

Parish behind God's Back George Gmelch, Sharon Bohm Gmelch, 2025-10-01 One of the first things any visitor to Barbados notices is Barbadian youths wearing baseball caps and T shirts sporting the logos of North American teams and these days one is more likely to find an American sitcom on television than a Caribbean program The Parish behind God's Back describes the social fabric and everyday life of one rural parish on the island St Lucy including its many links to the outside world It is a contemporary ethnography of the local that takes into account the enormous influence of global factors such as tourism television foreign travel and return migrants Written with students in mind the book contains several unique features Each chapter blends descriptions of Barbadian culture with comparisons to North America throughout the authors include tales of not only their own fieldwork experiences but those of their undergraduate students and personal narratives are emphasized to engage interest in individuals This highly readable and thought provoking account should appeal to general readers with an interest in the Caribbean as well as to students of anthropology George Gmelch is Professor and Chair Department of Anthropology Union College Sharon Bohn Gmelch is Professor of Anthropology and Director of Women's Studies Union College
