End Of Empire And The Making Of Malaya:

The End of Empire and the Making of Malaya T. N. Harper, 1999-09-02 This is the first general social and political history of Malaya Focusing on the years 1945 to 1957 the last years of British rule and the achievement of independence it embraces a wealth of social economic and cultural as well as political themes It contains new research on the impact of the Second World War in Malaya the origins and course of the Communist Emergency and the response of Malaya s various ethnic communities to nationalism and social change A concluding chapter takes these themes forward into the 1990s to shed new light on the emergence of this important Southeast Asian nation

The End of Empire and the Making of Malaya Timothy Norman Harper, 1999 Singapore Edwin Lee, 2008 In 2015 Singapore celebrates its 50th anniversary of independence This book covers the complex historical forces and circumstances that shaped this nation It tells of Britain s imperial visions and schemes and of how their failure cast a shadow on the story of Singapore s incorporation into the Federation of Malaysia and expulsion from it Networks of Rebellion Paul Staniland, 2014-04-18 Insurgent cohesion is central to explaining patterns of violence the effectiveness of counterinsurgency and civil war outcomes Cohesive insurgent groups produce more effective war fighting forces and are more credible negotiators organizational cohesion shapes both the duration of wars and their ultimate resolution In Networks of Rebellion Paul Staniland explains why insurgent leaders differ so radically in their ability to build strong organizations and why the cohesion of armed groups changes over time during conflicts He outlines a new way of thinking about the sources and structure of insurgent groups distinguishing among integrated vanguard parochial and fragmented groups Staniland compares insurgent groups their differing social bases and how the nature of the coalitions and networks within which these armed groups were built has determined their discipline and internal control He examines insurgent groups in Afghanistan 1975 to the present day Kashmir 1988 2003 Sri Lanka from the 1970s to the defeat of the Tamil Tigers in 2009 and several communist uprisings in Southeast Asia during the Cold War The initial organization of an insurgent group depends on the position of its leaders in prewar political networks These social bases shape what leaders can and cannot do when they build a new insurgent group Counterinsurgency insurgent strategy and international intervention can cause organizational change During war insurgent groups are embedded in social ties that determine they how they organize fight and negotiate as these ties shift organizational structure changes as well

Defence and Decolonisation in Southeast Asia Karl Hack, 2001 This text explains British defence policy by examining the overlapping of colonial military economic and Cold War factors in Southeast Asia Massacre in Malaya Christopher Hale, 2013-10-01 The Malayan Emergency 1948 60 was the longest war waged by British and Commonwealth forces in the twentieth century Fought against communist guerrillas in the jungles of Malaya this undeclared war without a name had a powerful and covert influence on American strategy in Vietnam Many military historians still consider the Emergency an exemplary even inspiring counterinsurgency conflict Massacre in Malaya draws on recently released files from British archives as well as eyewitness accounts from both the government forces and communist fighters to challenge this view. It focuses on the notorious Batang Kali Massacre known as Britain's My Lai that took place in December 1948 and reveals that British tactics in Malaya were more ruthless than many historians concede. Counterinsurgency in Malaya as in Kenya during the same period depended on massive resettlement programmes and ethnic cleansing, indiscriminate aerial bombing and ruthless exploitation of aboriginal peoples, the Orang Asli. The Emergency was a discriminatory war. In Malaya, the British built a brutal and pervasive security state and bequeathed it to modern Malaysia. The Malayan Emergency was a bitterly fought war that still haunts the present.

Islam in Malaysia Syed Muhd. Khairudin Aljunied, 2019. This book surveys the growth and development of Islam in Malaysia from the eleventh to the twenty-first century, investigating how Islam has shaped the social lives, languages, cultures and politics of both Muslims and non-Muslims in one of the most populous Muslim regions in the world. Khairudin Aljunied shows how Muslims in Malaysia built upon the legacy of their pre-Islamic past while benefiting from Islamic ideas, values and networks to found flourishing states and societies that have played an influential role in a globalizing world. He examines the movement of ideas, peoples, goods, technologies, arts and cultures across into and out of Malaysia over the centuries. Interactions between Muslims and the local Malay population began as early as the eighth century, sustained by trade and the agency of Sufi as well as Arab, Indian, Persian and Chinese scholars and missionaries. Aljunied looks at how Malay states and societies survived under colonial regimes that heightened racial and religious divisions and how Muslims responded through violence as well as reformist movements. Although there have been tensions and skirmishes between Muslims and non-Muslims in Malaysia, they have learned in the main to co-exist harmoniously, creating a society comprising a variety of distinct populations. This is the first book to provide a seamless account of the millennium-old venture of Islam in Malaysia.

Contending With Nationalism and Communism P. Lowe, 2009-02-27. This volume provides a lucid, concise analysis of the development of British policy in Southeast Asia in the twenty years following the defeat of Japan. The principal themes concern nationalism and communism and how Britain worked to achieve accommodation with nationalism while containing communist challenges.

Emergency Propaganda Kumar Ramakrishna, 2013-04-15. Sheds new light on the hitherto neglected years of the Emergency, 1955-58, demonstrating how it was British propaganda which decisively ended the shooting war in December 1958. The study argues for a concept of propaganda that embraces not merely words in the form of film, radio and leaflets but also deeds.

Decolonization and Conflict Martin Thomas, Gareth Curless, 2017-06-15. Insurgency-based irregular warfare typifies armed conflict in the post-Cold War age. For some years now, western and other governments have struggled to contend with ideologically driven guerrilla movements, religiously inspired militias and systematic targeting of civilian populations. Numerous conflicts of this type are rooted in experiences of empire breakdown. Yet few multi-empire studies of decolonisation's violence exist. Decolonization and Conflict brings together expertise on a variety of different cases to offer new perspectives on the colonial conflicts that engulfed Europe's empires after 1945. The contributors analyse multiple forms of colonial counter insurgency from the military engagement of anti colonial movements to the forced removal of civilian populations and the application of new doctrines of psychological warfare. Contributors to the collection also show how insurgencies, their propaganda and methods of action were inherently transnational and inter connected. The resulting study is a vital contribution to our understanding of contested decolonization. It emphasises the global connections at work and reveals the contemporary resonances of both anti colonial insurgencies and the means devised to counter them. It is essential reading for students and scholars of empire, decolonization and asymmetric warfare.

Early Southeast Asia O. W. Wolters, 2018-08-06 A collection of the classic essays of O. W. Wolters reflecting his radiant and meticulous lifelong study of premodern Southeast Asia: its literature, trade, government and vanished cities. Included is an intellectual biography by the editor which covers Wolters's professional lives as a member of the Malayan Civil Service and later as a scholar. This volume displays the extraordinary range of Oliver Wolters's work in early Indonesian, Vietnamese, Cambodian and Thai history.

Singapore in the Malay World Lily Zubaidah Rahim, 2010-11-09 This new appraisal of their relationship offers groundbreaking new insights into the way in which the Malaysian and Singapore states see both themselves and each other.

The Special Operations Executive in Malaya Rebecca Kenneison, 2019-05-30 During World War II, agents of the Special Operations Executive (SOE) infiltrated Japanese-occupied Malaya. There they worked with Malayan guerrilla groups, including the communist-sponsored Malayan Peoples Anti-Japanese Army (MPAJA), regarded as the precursor of the communist insurgent army of the Malayan Emergency. This book traces the development of SOE's Malayan operations and analyses the interactions between SOE and the various guerrilla groups. It explores the reasons for and the extent of Malay disillusionment with Japanese rule and demonstrates how guerrilla service acted as a training ground for some later Malay leaders of the independent nation. However, the reports written about the MPAJA by SOE operatives just after the war failed to draw out the likely future threat posed by the communists to the returning colonial administration. Rebecca Kenneison shows that the British possessed a wealth of local information but failed to convert it into active intelligence in the period prior to the Malayan Emergency. In doing so, she provides new insights into the impact of SOE on Malayan politics, the nature of Malayan communism's challenge to colonial rule and British post-war intelligence in Malaya.

A History of Malaysia Barbara Watson Andaya, Leonard Y. Andaya, 2001-01-01 Malaysia's multicultural society supports one of the most dynamic economies in Asia. This completely revised new edition of the standard text, first published twenty years ago, traces the history of the country from early times to the present day. The authors give particular attention to the evolution of Malay politics and their close links with indigenous groups who lived on the coasts and in the deep jungles of the region from Sumatra to Borneo. This provides the background to the establishment of the Malay port of Melaka, which was conquered by the Portuguese in 1511, foreshadowing the establishment of a British colonial regime in the late nineteenth century. Although the large numbers of Chinese and Indian migrants who arrived to work in the tin and rubber industries contributed to economic expansion colonial policies did not encourage communal interaction The authors trace the process by which post independence leaders in Malaya attempted to counter the legacy of ethnic hostility while answering Malay demands for an affirmation of their rights and a stronger commitment to Islam The incorporation of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah into the Federation of Malaysia in 1963 rendered the goal of welding a nation from areas that were geographically separated and culturally disparate even more problematic The intense emotions attached to issues of race were made tragically evident in the racial riots of May 1969 which this book sees as a watershed in modern Malaysian history As Malaysia enters the twenty first century the government is determined to oversee the transition to an economy focused on manufacturing and advanced technology and to eliminate poverty and the association between occupation and race While several recent studies deal with the impact of colonial rule and Malaysia s spectacular economic transition this book is unique because it tracks developments from early times and identifies continuities as well as change Combining the authors specialist knowledge of precolonial sources with the most recent contemporary research this new edition reinforces the position of A History of Malaysia position as a standard reference for all those interested in the historical processes which led to the emergence of this culturally varied and economically energetic country

Defence and Decolonisation in South-East Asia Karl Hack,2013-12-16 This book explains why British defence policy and practice emerged as it did in the period 1941-67 by looking at the overlapping of colonial military economic and Cold War factors in the area Its main focus is on the 1950s and the decolonisation era but it argues that the plans and conditions of this period can only be understood by tracing them back to their origins in the fall of Singapore Also it shows how decolonisation was shaped not just by British aims but by the way communism communalism and nationalism facilitated and frustrated these

The Transformation of Southeast Asia Marc Frey,Ronald W. Pruessen,Tai Yong Tan,Tan Tai Yong,2015-01-28 This book provides the basis for a reconceptualization of key features in Southeast Asia s history Scholars from Europe America and Asia examine evolutionary patterns of Europe s and Japan s Southeast Asian empires from the late nineteenth century through World War II and offer important insights into the specific events of the 1940s 1950s and 1960s In turn their different perspectives on the political economic and cultural currents of the post colonial era including Southeast Asia s gradual adjustment to globalizing forces enhance understanding of the dynamics of the decolonization process Drawing on new and wide ranging research in international relations economics anthropology and cultural studies the book looks at the impact of decolonization and the struggle of the new nation states with issues such as economic development cultural development nation building ideology race and modernization The contributors also consider decolonization as a phenomenon within the larger international structure of the Cold War and the post Cold War eras

The Historical Development of British Investment in Malaya Before the Second World War Uqbah Iqbal,Nordin Hussin,Ahmad Ali Seman,2014-12-16 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2014 in the subject History Asia National University of Malaysia course History language English abstract This study will examine and analyze the historical development of British investment in Malaya before the Second World War The research is based on the method of observation of the resources available in the library and the National Archives of Malaysia This study will examine the factors that contributed to the British investment as well as the parties involved in making this investment In addition this study will also look at the policy of the British government to help control their investments in Malaya The study will also analyze the impact of economic changes brought by the British on the socio economic structure of the Malays This allows for an in depth investigation to what extent the socio economic structure of the Malays change as a result of British intervention All these aspects will be explored in depth by the researcher British Business in Post-Colonial Malaysia, 1957-70 Nicholas J. White, 2004-08-02 This book explores the limits of the idea of neo colonialism the idea that in the period immediately after independence Malaya Malaysia enjoyed only pseudo independence because of the dominant position of British business interests

Colonial Documentary Film in South and South-East Asia Ian Aitken, 2016-12-05 Based on rare archival documents and films this anthology is the first to focus primarily on the use of official and colonial documentary films in the South and South East Asian regions Drawing together a range of international scholars the book sheds new light on historical theoretical and empirical issues pertaining to the documentary film in order to better comprehend the significant transformations of the form in the colonial late colonial and immediate post colonial period Covering diverse geographical and colonial contexts in countries like Singapore Malaysia the Philippines and Hong Kong and focusing on under researched or little known films it demonstrate the complex set of relations between the colonisers and the colonised throughout the region The International Order of Asia in the 1930s and 1950s Dr Nicholas J White, Professor Shigeru Akita, 2013-06-28 This book reconsiders the nature and formation of Asia s economic order during the 1930s and 1950s in light of the new historiographical developments in Britain and Japan Recently several Japanese economic historians have offered a new perspective on Asian history arguing that economic growth was fuelled by the phenomenon of intra Asian trade which began to grow rapidly around the turn of the 19th 20th centuries On the other side British imperial historians P J Cain and A G Hopkins have presented their own interpretation of gentlemanly capitalism in which they emphasize the leading role of the service sector rather than that of British industry in assessing the nature of the British presence overseas In order to assess and test these new perspectives this volume addresses three key issues The first is to reconsider the metropolitan peripheral relationship in Asia focusing particularly on the role of the sterling area and its implications for Asian economic development The second is to examine the formation of inter regional trade relations within Asia in the 1930s and their revival and transformation in the 1950s The final issue is the comparison of the international order of Asia of the 1930s with the 1950s and the degree to which the Second World War represented a break point in Asia s economic development Dealing with issues of trade economy nationalism and imperialism this book provides fresh insights into the development of Asia

during the mid twentieth century Drawing on the latest scholarship it will prove invaluable to all who wish to better understand the position of countries such as Japan China India Singapore Malaysia and Korea within the wider international order
