Radical Theology Jeffrey W. Robbins, 2016-08-08 Radical theology and political theology are terms that have gained a lot of currency among philosophers of religion today In this visionary new book Jeffrey W Robbins explores the contemporary direction of these movements as he charts a course for their future Robbins claims that radical theology is no longer bound by earlier thinking about God and that it must be conceived of as postsecular and postliberal As he engages with themes of liberation gender and race Robbins moves beyond the usual canon of death of God thinkers thinking against them as much as with them He presents revolutionary thinking in the face of changing theological concepts from reformation to transformation transcendence to immanence messianism to metamorphosis and from the proclamation of the death of God to the notion of God's plasticity

Deconstruction, Feminist Theology, and the Problem of Difference Ellen T. Armour, 1999-06-15 The term feminism conjures up the promise of resistance to the various forms of oppression women face But feminism's ability to fulfill this promise has been undermined by its failure to deal adequately with the difference that race makes for gender In this book Ellen T Armour forges an alliance between deconstruction and feminist theology and theory by demonstrating deconstruction's usefulness in addressing feminism's trouble with race Armour shows how the writings of Jacques Derrida and Luce Irigaray can be used to uncover feminism's white presumptions so that race and gender can be thought of differently In clear concise terms she explores the possibilities and limitations for feminist theology of Derrida's conception of woman and Irigaray's multiple woman as well as Derrida's thinking on race and Irigaray's work on religion Armour then points a way beyond the race gender divide with the help of African American theorists such as bell hooks Hortense Spillers and Patricia Hill Collins
