End Zone Don DeLillo, 1986-01-07. A darkly funny satire of human nature and American college football set against the backdrop of the Cold War by the author of the National Book Award-winning novel White Noise. At Logos College in West Texas, huge young men vacuum-packed into shoulder pads and shiny helmets play football with intense passion. During an uncharacteristic winning season, the perplexed and distracted running back Gary Harkness has periodic fits of nuclear glee fueled by his fear of and fascination with nuclear conflict. As the line between football and nuclear warfare blurs, the actions of the players become unorthodox and even bizarre, reflecting the disconcerting reality of a world teetering on the brink of destruction. In this triumphantly funny, deeply searching novel, Don DeLillo explores the metaphor of football as war with rich original zeal.
