Last Words Karl S. Guthke, 1992-10-30 Whether Goethe actually cried More light on his deathbed or whether Conrad Hilton checked out of this world after uttering Leave the shower curtain on the inside of the tub last words regardless of authenticity have long captured the imagination of Western society In this playfully serious investigation based on factual accounts anecdotes literary works and films Karl Guthke explores the cultural importance of those words spoken at the border between this world and the next The exit lines of both famous and ordinary people embody for us a sense of drama and truthfulness and reveal much about our thoughts on living and dying Why this interest in last words Presenting statements from such figures as Socrates Nathan Hale Marie Antoinette and Oscar Wilde I am dying as I have lived beyond my means Guthke examines our fascination in terms of our need for closure our desire for immortality and our attraction to the mystique of death scenes The author considers both authentic and invented final statements as he looks at the formation of symbols and legends and their function in our culture Last words handed down from generation to generation like cultural heirlooms have a good chance of surviving in our collective memory They are shown to epitomize a life convey a sense of irony or play to an audience as in the case of the assassinated Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa who is said to have died imploring journalists Don't let it end like this Tell them I said something Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Best Books for Young Adults Holly Koelling, 2007-08-13 Rev ed of Best books for young adults Betty Carter with Sally Estes and Linda Waddle 2nd ed c2000 Dying, Death, and Grief Michael A. Simpson, 1987 Listing of over 1700 books published mostly since 1979 Most entries are annotated Main section is arranged alphabetically by titles separate sections cover murder terrorism and political uses of death and nuclear holocaust and megadeath Entries are rated with one to five asterisks Author subject categories indexes Best Sellers, 1980 Books of the Times, 1979 NLC Overtones Nebraska Library Commission, 1981 In the Twilight of Empire Solomon Wank, 2009 Count Aehrenthal Austro-Hungarian foreign minister 1906-1912 is well known to diplomatic historian for the annexation of Bosnia Herzegovina in 1908 Solomon Wank's biography the first since 1917 shows that Aehrenthal's life and work transcend diplomatic history and illuminate critical problems threatening the viability of the Habsburg Monarchy Wank focuses on the inseparable connection between foreign and internal affairs in Aehrenthal's thinking his involvement in domestic politics his attempt to transform the office of the foreign minister into that of an imperial chancellor his grand scheme of constitutional reform to solve the South Slav problem within the empire and his personality The work is based on unpublished documents in Austrian and Czech archives as well as recently published correspondence with Habsburg diplomats and aristocratic relatives and friends and with his parents Volume I covers the history of the Aehrenthal family Aehrenthals early years and education his personality and political outlook his diplomatic career and his involvement in domestic politics from 1878 to the eve of appointment as foreign minister

Making an Exit Sarah Murray, 2024-08-06 Thoughtful amusing and provocative Making an Exit will transform the way you look at life s last passage Because as Murray discovers death is for many not an ending but the start of something new Author and journalist Sarah Murray never gave much thought to what might ultimately happen to her remains that was until her father died While he d always insisted that the organic matter left after a person takes their last breath had no significance he surprised his family by setting down elaborate arrangements for the scattering of his own ashes This unexpected last request prompted Murray to embark on a series of voyages to discover how our end is commemorated around the globe and how we approach our own mortality Spanning continents and centuries Making an Exit is Murray s exploration of the extraordinary creativity unleashed when we seek to dignify the dead Along the way she encounters a cremation in Bali in which two royal personages are placed in giant decorative bulls and consigned to the afterlife in a burst of flames a chandelier in the Czech Republic made entirely from human bones a weeping ceremony in Iran and a Philippine village where the casketed dead are left hanging in caves She even goes to Ghana to commission her own fantasy coffin The accounts of these journeys are fascinating poignant and funny But this is also a very personal quest on her travels Murray is seeking inspiration for her own eventual send off

Best Books for Young Adults Betty Carter, Sally Estes, Linda Waddle, Young Adult Library Services Association, 2000 This is a classic standard resource for collection building and on the spot readers advisory absolutely indispensable for school and public libraries

The Meaning of Lives Richard A. Hutch, 1997 This study examines how the process of reading and writing other people s lives implicates readers and authors in what is ultimately an endeavour of autobiographical introspection and reflection The book starts from the assumption that the use of writing and reading about individual lives in recent scholarship in religion the human sciences and literary biography has greatly revived interest in the personal concrete and meaningful side of the study of world religions

Planning Memorial Celebrations Rob Baker, 1999 Memorial services are not so much rites for the dead as celebrations by the living and for the living of the lives of those who have died Such ceremonies are an important way of saying good bye yet most people are not sure exactly what to do when the task of arranging one falls to them Here is a practical and supportive guide explaining how to cope with all the details when efficiency is furthest from your mind Timing place and who should participate Selecting a minister or spiritual leader Choosing the right words and music Writing a eulogy Setting the scene with flowers photos and mementos Bringing closure by providing food drink and companionship afterward In addition to two sample memorial services an annotated bibliography and discography and a listing of memorial societies throughout the country Rob Baker offers helpful information and advice on funerals cremation undertakers including where to look on the Web to evaluate what they have to offer donating the body or its organs for medical purposes as well as a brief history of funerary traditions     Annual Booklist Young Adult Reviewers of Southern California,1980     American Book Publishing Record ,1981     Books Out-of-print ,1981     The Bowker annual of library & book trade information Filomena Simora,1981     The Missing Ending Moira Astin,2024-09-30 The Ascension is a key Christian doctrine that receives very little attention in the textbooks on Christian doctrine most widely used in ministerial training There are almost no books focusing solely on this topic and this dearth also affects those who preach at the Ascension a major feast day that concludes the Easter season and also at the Feast of Christ the King which concludes the Christian year and which has a central focus on the Ascension After more than twenty years of teaching ordinands and readers in training Moira Astin provides a comprehensive and readable book that also covers the required academic ground for those in training In straightforward language it considers the Ascension in the gospels in Paul s letters and in Hebrews and Revelation its heavenly and earthly meanings theological understandings over the centuries why the Ascension matters today its importance for understanding other key doctrines such as the incarnation and resurrection     Library Journal ,1980     Psychoanalysis, Psychology, and Literature, a Bibliography. 2nd Ed. 2 Vol Set Norman Kiell,1982 Almost 20 000 entries of worldwide literature related to psychology and psychiatry as these disciplines are dealt with in literary publications Most of the contents of the first edition are included in the second Divided into sections of such forms as drama poetry folklore and myths Each numbered entry includes bibliographical information Author title and subject indexes     Epistle to the Hebrews John Owen, Preface by Herbert W Lockyer Sr A one volume abridgment of the seven volume edition that condenses the essential arguments of every chapter     Life After Death Alan Segal,2010-06-23 A magisterial work of social history Life After Death illuminates the many different ways ancient civilizations grappled with the question of what exactly happens to us after we die In a masterful exploration of how Western civilizations have defined the afterlife Alan F Segal weaves together biblical and literary scholarship sociology history and philosophy A renowned scholar Segal examines the maps of the afterlife found in Western religious texts and reveals not only what various cultures believed but how their notions reflected their societies realities and ideals and why those beliefs changed over time He maintains that the afterlife is the mirror in which a society arranges its concept of the self The composition process for Judaism Christianity and Islam begins in grief and ends in the victory of the self over death Arguing that in every religious tradition the afterlife represents the ultimate reward for the good Segal combines historical and anthropological data with insights gleaned from religious and philosophical writings to explain the following mysteries why the Egyptians insisted on an afterlife in heaven while the body was embalmed in a tomb on earth why the Babylonians viewed the dead as living in underground prisons why the Hebrews remained silent about life after death during the period of the First Temple yet embraced it in the Second Temple period 534 B C E 70 C E and why Christianity placed the afterlife in the center of its belief system He discusses the inner dialogues and arguments within

Judaism and Christianity showing the underlying dynamic behind them as well as the ideas that mark the differences between the two religions In a thoughtful examination of the influence of biblical views of heaven and martyrdom on Islamic beliefs he offers a fascinating perspective on the current troubling rise of Islamic fundamentalism In tracing the organic historical relationships between sacred texts and communities of belief and comparing the visions of life after death that have emerged throughout history Segal sheds a bright revealing light on the intimate connections between notions of the afterlife the societies that produced them and the individual s search for the ultimate meaning of life on earth
