Energy Research Abstracts, 1979-05 Energy and Sustainability VIII Tadeu, A., 2019-09-10 Originating from the 8th edition of the Energy and Sustainability conference the research included in this volume contribute to the increasing amount of interest in renewable energy resources and the search for maintainable energy policies Energy production and distribution need to respond to the modern world's dependency on conventional fuels Recent Developments in the Social Sciences Charles Abram Ellwood, 1927 Community Energy and Sustainable Energy Transitions Vanesa Castán Broto, 2024-05-17 This open access book engages with the difficulties of delivering community energy in practice building on practical experiences in Ethiopia Malawi and Mozambique In these countries where many people lack access to electricity community energy is an alternative to advance universal energy access This book argues that besides providing access community energy is essential for achieving justice and resilience in sustainable energy transitions Community energy combines off grid infrastructures with innovative forms of governance to incorporate the perspectives of beneficiaries in the generation and distribution of electricity Community energy has multiple benefits for communities such as facilitating the adoption of renewable technologies providing energy access where it is lacking and building resilience They also offer societal benefits beyond beneficiary communities such as providing additional capacity to existing grids delivering off grid services where the grid is absent and bridging on grid and off grid systems Despite its promises however the adoption of community energy has been slow This book presents a feminist informed perspective on community energy to advance energy justice that puts disadvantaged communities at the centre of sustainable energy transitions It also explores the room for manoeuvre within existing regulatory systems supply chains and delivery systems to facilitate its development By engaging with existing experiences in community energy the book demonstrates the potential of communities to gain control over their energy needs and resources and argues for the need to develop a wide range of transdisciplinary skills among policymakers technicians and communities to deliver a just energy transition In Search of Good Energy Policy Marc Ozawa, Jonathan Chaplin, Michael Pollitt, David Reiner, Paul Warde, 2019-06-20 Offers an innovative look at why science and technology cannot alone meet the needs of energy policy making in the future
