Australia, 1992 No. 75 Australian Bureau of Statistics, 1978 The Strategic Implications of China's Energy Needs Philip Andrews-Speed, Xuanli Liao, Roland Dannreuther, 2014-08-27 China is frequently described as a threat to regional and global stability and its rapidly rising demand for imported energy is seen as one cause of this threat This book shows that domestic politics and foreign policy have both played a part in China's recent major energy policy decisions However China's increasing involvement in the global energy markets can be seen as an opportunity to enhance cooperation and interdependence rather than as a threat Climate Change in the South Pacific: Impacts and Responses in

Australia, New Zealand, and Small Island States Alexander Gillespie, William C.G. Burns, 2006-04-11 ALEXANDER GILLESPIE WILLIAM C G BURNS The idea for this book grew out of the Ecopolitics conference in Canberra Australia in 1996 The conference captured the ferment of the climate change debate in the South Pacific as well as some of its potential implications for the region's inhabitants and ecosystems At that conference one of the editors Gillespie delivered a paper on climate change issues in the region as did Ros Taplin and Mark Diesendorf who are also contributors to this volume This book focuses on climate change issues in Australia New Zealand and the small island nations in the Pacific as the world struggles to cope with possible the impacts of environmental change and to formulate effective responses While Australia and New Zealand's per capita emissions of greenhouse gases are among the highest in the world their aggregate contributions are small However both nations may exert a disproportionate influence in the global greenhouse debate because their obstinate positions at recent conferences of the parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) may provide justification for other developed nations as well as developing countries to refuse to make meaningful reductions in their greenhouse gas emissions Slick Royce Kurlmelovs,2024-07-30 A riveting expose of the global oil industry's multi-decade conspiracy to muddy the waters around the science of climate change and use the Australian government to undermine worldwide efforts to address environmental devastation Researched and written by one of Australia's most fearless investigative journalists Slick reveals how the US petroleum industry was warned about its environmental impacts back in the 1950s and yet went on to build the Australian oil industry which in turn tried to drill the Great Barrier Reef sought to strongarm governments and joined a global effort to bury the science of climate change and delay action despite knowing the harms it would cause Slick also tells the stories of fire and flood survivors as well as of the activists engaged in a high risk fight for the future of Australia and of the efforts being made to save ourselves from catastrophe In this superb in depth work of journalism Royce Kurlmelovs provides an on the ground examination of how the fossil fuel industry captured Australia and outlines what's at stake for the survival of the planet and our democracy Year Book Australia, 1989 No. 72,1988 Mathematical Economics of Multi-Level Optimisation Sardar M.N. Islam,2012-12-06 Since there exists a multi level policy making system in the market economies choices of decision makers at different levels should be considered explicitly in the formulation of sectoral plans and policies To support the hypothesis a theoretical energy planning approach is developed within the framework of the theory of economic policy planning policy systems analysis and multi level programming The Parametric Programming Search Algorithm has been developed On the basis of this theoretical model an Australian Energy Policy System Optimisation Model AEPSOM has been developed and is used to formulate an Australian multi level energy plan Annual Catalogue of Commonwealth Publications Australian Government Publishing Service,1981

Digest of Ethiopia's National Policies, Strategies and Programs Taye Assefa,2008 Having just emerged from a prolonged civil war and faced with the urgent tasks of establishing political stability and reinvigorating an economy in tatters the Transitional Government of Ethiopia 1991-1995 had to set a new direction for the economic reconstruction and social rehabilitation of the war torn and poverty ridden country During the Transitional Period a spate of new policies and strategies defining the development priorities goals and implementation instruments of the new regime led by the EPRDF was introduced This work is a synthesis of various sectoral policies and an attempt to trace the genesis of the policies highlight the continuities significant departures and other salient features Each of the reviews in this digest briefly analyses the critical elements of the policies identifies major gaps in the conceptualisation of the policy as well as the achievements registered and the challenges encountered in its implementation The authors also try to identify the outstanding issues to be addressed by policymakers and suggest remedies The policy reviews have been grouped into three parts and presented under social economic and governance sectors Oil and Gas Law in Kazakhstan Ilias Bantekas,John Paterson,Maidan

Suleimanov, Ma?dan Kontuarovich Sule?menov, 2004-01-01 Central Asia has emerged as potentially the most important new hydrocarbon province in decades Among the countries whose natural resources are now the focus of world attention Kazakhstan is very much in the front rank The scale and strategic importance of its reserves mean that it is set to become one of the key players in the global market Realising that potential depends on many factors not least its legal treatment of the oil and gas industry The contributors to this volume consider the various dimensions of that legal treatment including investment and contractual issues dispute settlement transport and refining environmental issues and taxation The importance of the international context for Kazakhstan s domestic law is a key feature of this book as is a concern with identifying existing problems and suggesting the most fruitful direction for reform The book will be of interest to practitioners and academics working in the specific field as well as in the more general area of legal relations between the oil and gas industry and transition economies Ilias Bantekas is Reader in Law at the University of Westminster London UK He has written widely in the field of international law and won the International Committee of the Red Cross Paul Reuter prize in 2000 Visiting Fellow at Harvard Law School 2003 04 John Paterson is Reader in Law at the University of Westminster London UK He has written on the regulation of the oil and gas industry and acts as a consultant to the OECD Nuclear Energy Agency Maidan Suleimenov is Professor of Law at the Kazakh State Academy of Law and Adilet Higher Law School Almaty Kazakhstan He was directly involved in Kazakhstan s accession to the Energy Charter Treaty and has also been responsible for legislative drafting in the field

Putting a Price on Carbon in South Africa and Other Developing Countries Harald Winkler, Marquard Andrew, 2020-12-14 How should we be putting a price on carbon particularly in developing countries This volume takes up this contested issue and examines how different economic instruments might apply in developing countries with a special focus on South Africa The papers included address a variety of themes in this area Emissions trading carbon taxes fiscal and non fiscal instruments policy and institutional dimensions and lessons from the Clean Development Mechanism Presenting the very latest research the volume will be of interest to academics and policymakers in economics policy and development

The Evolving Role of China in the Global Economy Yin-Wong Cheung, Jakob De Haan, 2012-11-30 Experts analyze four factors in China s economic growth exchange rate policy savings and investments monetary policy and foreign direct investments China is now the world s second largest economy and may soon overtake the United States as the world s largest Despite its adoption of some free market principles China considers itself a socialist market economy suggesting that the government still plays a major role in the country s economic development This book offers a systematic analysis of four factors in China s rapid economic growth exchange rate policy savings and investment monetary policy and capital controls and foreign direct investment FDI Contributors offer fresh perspectives on the undervaluation of the renminbi the dollar peg and China s macroeconomic relationships with the rest of the world They review factors shaping China s saving dynamics and analyze the growth of the private sector despite limited access to external finance They examine the monetary policy independence of the People's Bank of China offshore markets for China's currency and the effectiveness of China's capital controls Finally they consider Chinese FDI in terms of China's growing demand for energy and raw materials exploring the factors that drive China's FDI in the conventional oil producing countries and in Africa NBS Technical Note ,1975-02 Nuclear Renaissance William J. Nuttall,2004-12-31 With growing concerns over environmental issues and global energy consumption there is increasing interest in nuclear power generation despite its diminished role in the West over the last few decades Many of those involved with nuclear power and environmental agencies see controlled expansion of nuclear plants as the most environmentally friendly way of meeting growing energy demands Nuclear Renaissance Technologies and Policies for the Future of Nuclear Power examines the future of nuclear power in the contexts of economics environmental sustainability and security of electricity supplies A range of future technologies is considered illustrating the technical challenges and opportunities facing nuclear power This semi technical overview of modern technologies meets the growing interest from scientists environmentalists and governments in the potential expansion of nuclear power Various countries are starting to announce plans for new nuclear plants either to replace those being decommissioned or to provide additional power Many commentators regard this renaissance as just beginning Nuclear Renaissance Technologies and Policies for the Future of Nuclear Power is essential reading for physicists engineers policy makers researchers energy analysts and graduate students in energy sciences engineering and public policy Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1982-10 Hydrogen-future Fuel Neil A.
