Annotation Energy Politics provides a broad introduction to the ways in which energy affects domestic and regional political developments Drivers of Energy Transition Wolfgang Gründinger,2017-03-16 Wolfgang Gründinger explores how interest groups veto opportunities and electoral pressure formed the German energy transition nuclear exit renewables coal CCS and emissions trading His findings provide evidence that logics of political competition in new German politics have fundamentally changed over the last two decades with respect to five distinct mechanisms the end of fossil nuclear corporatism the new importance of trust in lobbying green path dependence the emergence of a Green Grand Coalition and intra party fights over energy politics The Politics of Nuclear Energy in the European Union Pamela Mary Barnes,Ian Barnes,2018-04-23 For the foreseeable future the overall use of nuclear electricity in the European Union is unlikely to change significantly despite the controversies surrounding its use amongst the EU's nation states The author questions the role that nuclear electricity plays in meeting the challenges of providing secure competitive and sustainable energy to support the development of the low carbon economy in the EU Analysis presented focuses on the evolution of the discourse on nuclear energy amongst policy makers at European and national levels as well as amongst the public Public Forces and Private Politics in American Big Business Timothy Werner,2012-06-21 Examines the nature and process of private policymaking in US firms and how this interacts with public policymaking A Liberal Actor in a Realist World Andreas Goldthau,Nick Sitter,2015-08-13 Since 1992 the European Union has put liberalisation at the core of its energy policy agenda This aspiration was very much in line with an international political economy driven by the neo liberal Washington consensus The central challenge for the EU is that the energy world has changed while the EU has not The rise of Asian energy consumers China and India more assertive energy producers Russia and the threat of climate change have securitized the IPE of energy and turned it more realist The main research question is therefore What does a liberal actor do in a realist world The overall answer as far as the EU is concerned is that it approaches energy challenges as a problem of market failure imperfect competition on the supply side inadequate supply of public goods on the demand side and in terms of infrastructure and large externalities that arise both from non energy events and from large scale consumption of fossil fuels A Liberal Actor in a Realist World assesses the changing nature of the global political economy of energy and the European Union's response and the external dimension of the regulatory state The book concludes that the EU's soft power has a hard edge which is derived primarily from its regulatory power This works best when it targets companies rather than governments and it is more effective in the Near Abroad than at the global level This makes the EU emerge an actor in its own right in the global political economy of energy a Regulatory Power Europe
