Engaging Feminism Students Speak Up Speak Out Feminist Issues Practice Politics Theory:

Engaging Feminism Jean F. O'Barr, Mary Wyer, 1992 During recent years the field of women's studies has emphasized the growth of new scholarship on women as scholars began to recover women's history women's literature and both qualitative and quantitative data about women's lives in disciplines as diverse as classics and psychology religion and medicine philosophy and sociology As a result argue O Barr and Wyer in this work the amount of new material in women's studies is nothing short of staggering Yet work that addresses itself to the question of delivering this information in the classroom is scarce We must begin again to examine our early pedagogical commitments this time in light of the expectations of 1990s women's studies students and their campus environment

Unheard Voices Anne Firor Scott, 1993 In this collective biography one of the preeminent historians of her generation retrieves the work and lives of the few who preceded her in writing the history of women in the South

Women and Laughter Frances B. Gray, 1994 Famous Last Words Alison Booth, 1993 Famous Last Words traces a broad historical transition from the 1840s to the 1980s from the more rigid dichotomy of the Victorian novel in which good women must marry and fallen women die to the more open alternatives of twentieth century fiction which sometimes permit the independent female protagonist to survive and occasionally allow alternative constructions of gender as well as plot Each essay treats a narrative novel novella or novel poem by a single author in light of conventions of closure and of gender in historical context The contributors recover forgotten texts revise our understanding of women writers once successful but now somewhat marginalized and give voice to cultural others Works by the already canonized George Eliot are reassessed and the representation of women in the canonical novels of male writers William Thackeray and Henry James is explored

Carolyn G. Heilbrun, Feminist in a Tenured Position Susan Kress, 1997 Preeminent feminist critic Carolyn G Heilbrun's life experience echoes that of a generation of professional women often isolated and marginalized within inhospitable institutions Incorporating interviews with friends colleagues and Heilbrun herself author Susan Kress illuminates Heilbrun's various public identities and places her in the context of the developing women's movement

Nietzsche and the Feminine Peter J. Burgard, 1994 In this innovative and wide ranging volume Peter Burgard has brought together new studies by outstanding scholars in philosophy feminism comparative literature and German studies

Women in Exile Mahnaz Afkhami, 1994 If as has been said exiles refugees and emigrants are the defining figures for the twentieth century the thirteen women of Women in Exile give unforgettable life to the metaphor Their stories offer a rare and special opportunity to witness the harrowing experience of flight and dislocation and to marvel at the resilience of the human spirit

Nineteenth-century Women Learn to Write Catherine Hobbs, 1995 What and how were nineteenth century women taught through conduct books and hymnbooks What did women learn about reading and writing at a state normal school and at the Cherokee Nation's female seminary What did Radcliffe women think of rhetoric classes imported from Harvard How did women begin to gain their voices through speaking and writing in literary societies and by keeping diaries and journals How did African American women use literacy as a tool for social action How did women s writing portray alternative views of the western frontier The essays in this volume address these questions and more in exploring the gendered nature of education in the nineteenth century These essays give a more complete picture of literacy in the nineteenth century Part one presents a panoply of sites and cultural contexts in which women learned to write including ideological contexts institutional sites and informal settings such as literary circles Part two examines specific genres texts and voices of literate women and students of writing and speaking Nineteenth Century Women Learn to Write interweaves thick feminist social history with theoretical perspectives from such diverse fields as linguistics and folklore feminist literary theory and African American and Native American studies The volume constitutes a major addition to traditional social science studies of literacy

Women as Subjects Nita Kumar,1994 Women as Subjects affords a rare opportunity to consider the changing identity and status of women in India today how they view themselves and how they are viewed through the current work of seven scholars anthropologists historians and sociologists from India the United Kingdom and the United States These essays combined with Nita Kumar s substantial theoretical introduction illustrate the overall problem of women s subjectivity extraordinarily well and serve to question modify and adapt Western based feminist theory and Eurocentric postmodern theory building a bridge both to non South Asian feminist work and to nonfeminist South Asian work

Subject to Negotiation Elaine Neil Orr,1997 Challenges the subversive model of feminist criticism and argues for the importance of negotiation for feminist practice within a plurality of critical positions and identities presenting an empirical method for a negotiating feminist criticism and demonstrating the model with analysis of the writing of five American women authors Edith Wharton Zora Neale Hurston Eudora Welty Toni Morrison and Marge Piercy For scholars of feminist literary theory and 20th century American literature Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Under Construction Elizabeth A. Scarlett,1994 Scarlett reveals significant correlations between gender and figurations of the female and male body and traces a history of the mind body connection in Spanish novels from the late nineteenth century to the present

Rereading Aphra Behn Heidi Hutner,1993 Aphra Behn was the first Englishwoman to earn her living from writing This collection of critical essays explores the different genres in Behn s canon including her plays criticism fiction and poetry from a wide variety of feminist theoretical approaches
