Industrial memory in North East England Victoria Claire Allen, 2025-09-30 Industrial memory in North East England examines how the region s industrial myth and memory have been articulated in the renegotiation of northernness The book offers a critical contextualisation of the concept of northernness and the English North and introduces the concept of the PopCultural Portfolio a mixed methods approach to conjunctural analysis in cultural and memory studies The book provides six richly illustrated case studies to demonstrate the practical application of cultural studies expansive and inclusive understanding of texts bringing together materials from North East football folk indie and exhibition culture to establish how the North East's industrial past continues to be remembered and functionalised as industrial memory. In turn the conjunctural analysis demonstrates how industrial memory is articulated and mythologised as north east-ness in contemporary popular culture.

Memory and Technology Jason R. Finley, Farah Naaz, Francine W. Goh, 2018-11-12 How is technology changing the way people remember? This book explores the interplay of memory stored in the brain (internal memory) and outside of the brain (external memory) providing a thorough interdisciplinary review of the current literature including relevant theoretical frameworks from across a variety of disciplines in the sciences, arts, and humanities. It also presents the findings of a rich and novel empirical data set based on a comprehensive survey on the shifting interplay of internal and external memory in the 21st century. Results reveal a growing symbiosis between the two forms of memory in our everyday lives. The book presents a new theoretical framework for understanding the interplay of internal and external memory and their complementary strengths. It concludes with a guide to important dimensions, questions, and methods for future research. Memory and Technology will be of interest to researchers, professors, and students across the disciplines of psychology, philosophy, library and information science, human factors, media and cultural studies, anthropology, and archaeology, photography, and cognitive rehabilitation, as well as anyone interested in how technology is affecting human memory.

_____ This is a novel book with interesting and valuable data on an important, meaningful topic, as well as a gathering of multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary ideas. The research is accurately represented and inclusive. As a teaching tool, I can envision graduate seminars in different disciplines drawing on the material as the basis for teaching and discussions. Dr. Linda A. Henkel, Fairfield University. This book documents the achievements of a vibrant scientific project; you feel the enthusiasm of the authors for their research. The organization of the manuscript introduces the reader into a comparatively new field the same way as pioneering authors have approached it. Prof. Dr. Wolfgang Schimpflug, Freie Universität Berlin.

Memories of a Remarkable Life Glenn Roland Beustring, 2012-01-27 This is the story about Roland John Beustring, 1916-2005, a member of The Greatest Generation, who was self-taught and self-reliant, a just man who lived with integrity. He was my father. Dad came from a poor, hard-working German family living on the banks of the Mississippi in St. Louis, Missouri. The stories of his boyhood are similar to that of Tom Sawyer. Recollections of his childhood are full of adventures and antics that are heartwarming and reminiscent of that era. Eager to enlist in the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), he used his older brother's name and signed up at an early age. His experiences at the CCC Camp known as Shady Lake in Mena, Arkansas, are retold. Interested in boxing at an early age, Rol was unbeatable among his childhood peers. In 1936, he won the welterweight championship in the Golden Gloves Amateur Boxing program in St. Louis, Missouri. His boxing successes could have evolved into a professional career if not for Dad's need to earn money to help out his family.
