

THE FALLEN

A black and white photograph of a long, curved stone wall or path, possibly a memorial, leading towards a distant structure. The wall is made of rough-hewn stones and curves from the foreground into the distance. In the background, a tall, thin monument or structure is visible against a dark sky. The overall mood is somber and reflective.

Fallen A Photographic Journey Through The War Cemeteries And Memorials Of The Great War 1914-18:

The Fallen John Garfield, 2003 This book contains beautiful and moving photographs covering the war cemeteries and memorials from nine theaters of the First World War It also contains a short text which briefly explains who was fighting whom and the place and date of each encounter The Memorial to the Missing of the Somme Gavin Stamp, 2010-08-06 Edwin Lutyens Memorial to the Missing of the Somme at Thiepval in Northern France visited annually by tens of thousands of tourists is arguably the finest structure erected by any British architect in the twentieth century It is the principal tangible expression of the defining event in Britain's experience and memory of the Great War the first day of the Battle of the Somme on 1 July 1916 and it bears the names of 73 000 soldiers whose bodies were never found at the end of that bloody and futile campaign This brilliant study by an acclaimed architectural historian tells the origin of the memorial in the context of commemorating the war dead it considers the giant classical brick arch in architectural terms and also explores its wider historical significance and its resonances today So much of the meaning of the twentieth century is concentrated here the Thiepval Memorial to the Missing casts a shadow into the future a shadow which extends beyond the dead of the Holocaust to the Gulag to the disappeared of South America and of Tianenmen Reissued in a beautiful and striking new edition for the centenary of the Somme Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1991 Liverpool and Manchester Photographic Journal, 1991 The Fallen John Garfield, 1990 A haunting photographic journey through the vast war cemeteries and memorials of the Great War of 1914-1918 The British Journal of Photography, 1991 The Fallen John Garfield, 1990 Markers, 2004 Art Index Retrospective, 1992 Monuments, Memorials and the Local Historian Alex Bruce, Jane McDermid, 1997 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2003 Jahresbibliographie Bibliothek für Zeitgeschichte (Germany), 1993 □□□□ □□□□, 2008-06-20

Twenty Years After; the Battlefields of 1914-18 Ernest Dunlop Swinton, 1936 A group of writers drawn from men who served in the great war recall those far off days Editor's foreword France '98 Fodor's, Fodor's Travel Publications, Inc. Staff, 1997 A phone call at two thirty in the morning is never good news Lucie Montgomery's semiestranged brother Eli calls her in France to tell her their father Leland has been killed in a hunting accident on the family's five hundred acre Virginia vineyard just as the fall harvest is about to begin By the time he calls Eli has already made funeral arrangements with what Lucie argues is indecent haste It is an emotional trip home the first since an automobile accident two years ago which left Lucie disabled and dependent on a cane Her family's once elegant home and winery are now shabby and run down thanks to her father's penchant for fringy business deals Eli also cash strapped and desperate to support his new wife's extravagant lifestyle has already convinced their rebellious younger sister Mia to sell the debt ridden estate and reap the profits from the valuable land it sits on overruling Lucie's protests On the eve of the funeral Lucie's godfather Fitz a partner in the family business tells her Leland's death was no accident Whoever killed him was motivated by the potential sale of the vineyard It is the last conversation she will have with Fitz Now the lone holdout preventing the vineyard sale Lucie realizes she s next in line for another accident With her greedy brother hell raising sister and a seemingly cut rate vintner hired by Leland just before he died all the suspects axe disturbingly close to home Unsure whom she can trust Lucie must uncover the truth about the deaths of her father and godfather and oversee a successful harvest to save the vineyard she loves BOOK JACKET

For the Fallen ,2014 A photographic tribute to the fallen of World War I through their final resting places Before World War I soldiers who died while serving in the army of the British Empire could not expect a lasting or fitting memorial so it was often their fate to be forgotten their individuality lost in mass graves that largely went unmarked and unnoticed World War I was to change that because for the first time a remarkable organization the Commonwealth War Graves Commission CWGC was created to ensure the dead would never be forgotten In For the Fallen stunning images illustrate the work the CWGC does around the world and captions provide insight into the history of this unique organization the character of the cemeteries and memorials it built after World War I and some of those who care for them The book has been beautifully designed as a special centenary publication to honor those who died and provide a fitting tribute to the CWGC s work

Photographing the Fallen Jeremy Gordon-Smith,2017-09-30 Ivan Bawtree has left behind a vast array of archives that tell the story of his work as a photographer with the Graves Registration Units on the Western Front from 1915 to 1919 He traveled to numerous parts of Northern France and Flanders most notably the Ypres Salient to photograph and record graves of fallen soldiers on behalf of grieving relatives He was one of only three professional photographers assigned to this task hired by the newly formed Graves Registration Commission in 1915 Through his pencil and lens we gain detailed insight not just into the work he did and the men he worked with but also aspects of the military zones the perils of proximity to the Front Line the devastation of war and the birth and early work of the Imperial War Graves Commission Today the war cemeteries that Ivan saw spring up across battle scarred landscapes and provide the most widespread and enduring reminder of the scale of loss and sacrifice of the Great War
