Fallen Empires John Orrell, 1981      Histoire Du Théâtre Au Canada, 1986      Reel Time Robert Morris Seiler, Tamara Palmer Seiler, 2013 In this authoritative work Seiler and Seiler argue that the establishment and development of moviegoing and movie exhibition in Prairie Canada is best understood in the context of changing late nineteenth century and early twentieth century social economic and technological developments From the first entrepreneurs who attempted to lure customers into movie exhibition halls to the digital revolution and its impact on moviegoing Reel Time highlights the pivotal role of amusement venues in shaping the leisure activities of working and middle class people across North America As marketing efforts the lavish interiors of the movie palace and the romantic view of the local movie theatre concealed a competitive environment in which producers exhibitors and distributors tried to monopolize the industry and drive their rivals out of business The pitched battles and power struggles between national movie theatre chains took place at the same time that movie exhibitors launched campaigns to reassure moviegoers that theatres were no longer the unclean and immoral places of amusement of yesteryear Under the leadership of impresarios the movie theatre rose up from these attacks to become an important social and cultural centre one deemed suitable for women and children An innovative examination of moviegoing as a social practice and movie exhibition as a commercial enterprise Reel Time depicts how the industry shaped the development of the Canadian Prairie West and propelled the region into the modern era      Residual Media Charles R. Acland, 2007 In a society that awaits the new in every medium what happens to last year's new From player pianos to vinyl records and from the typewriter to the telephone Residual Media is an innovative approach to the aging of culture and reveals that ultimately new cultural phenomena rely on encounters with the old      Parallel Lives Louise Fothergill-Payne, 1991 In Parallel Lives the contributors observe particular Spanish and English plays from the perspective of the numerous parallels and apparent similarities in the evolution of this art form in the two countries Illustrated

Canadian Plains Research Center, 1998 This collection of essays presents a variety of scholarly explorations of the nature and role of the Mounties in the Prairie Provinces from the formation of the North West Mounted Police in 1873-74 to its transformation into the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in 1919-20 The essays are grouped into five broad themes relations with First Nations law enforcement social issues including relations with minority groups and labour movements characteristics of the police force and crisis and change police immigrant relations response to labour unrest and the origins of domestic intelligence and counter subversion An epilogue presents the case for the dramatic change of the force after 1919-20 and the new force's use of the positive image created by the old force      Useful Pleasures Donald Grant Wetherell, Irene Kmet, Alberta.
