Menocal,2000 All three deal with Fallingwater built for Kaufmann in the 1930s and other projects planned for Pittsburgh which included a planetarium a civic center a parking garage and an apartment house BOOK JACKET Fallingwater Edgar Kaufmann,1987-10-29 Considered Frank Lloyd Wright's domestic masterpiece Fallingwater is recognized worldwide as the paradigm of organic architecture Here in beautiful photographs the first as built measured plans and an intimate narrative by a key figure is the fascinating story of this masterwork Fallingwater is the most famous modern house in America Indeed readers of the Journal of the American Institute of Architects voted it the best American building of the last 125 years Annually more than 128 000 visitors seek out Fallingwater in its remote mountain site in southwestern Pennsylvania Considered Frank Lloyd Wright's domestic masterpiece the house is recognized worldwide as the paradigm of organic architecture where a building becomes an integral part of its natural setting This charming and provocative book is the work of the man best qualified to undertake it who was both apprentice to Wright and son of the man who commissioned the house Edgar Kaufmann Jr closely followed the planning and construction of Fallingwater and lived in the house on weekends and vacations for twenty seven years until following the deaths of his parents he gave the house in 1963 to the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy to hold for public enjoyment and appreciation This is a personal almost intimate record of one man's fifty year relationship to a work of genius that only gradually revealed its complexities and originality With full appreciation of the intentions of both architect and client Mr Kaufmann described this remarkable building in detail telling of its extraordinary virtues but not failing to reveal its faults One section of the book focuses on the realities of Fallingwater as architecture A famous building right from its beginnings only partly because it was Wright's first significant commission in more than a decade. Fallingwater has accumulated considerable publicity and analysis much of it off the mark. Mr. Kaufmann outlined and dealt with the common misunderstandings that have obscured the building's true values and supplied accurate information and interpretations. In another section Mr. Kaufmann provided an in-depth essay on the subtleties of Fallingwater, the ideology underlying its esthetics. A key element of this is the close interweaving of the house and its rugged, challenging setting, which he explicated in fascinating detail. The author maintained throughout the direct approach of one who knew and loved Fallingwater. As an apprentice and loyal admirer of the architect, Mr. Kaufmann was well attuned to the architecture. And as a retired professor of architectural history and frequent lecturer and panelist, he had considerable experience in presenting and interpreting Wright's ideas. Thoroughly versed in the books, articles, drawings, and buildings of Frank Lloyd Wright, Mr. Kaufmann was eminently situated to place Fallingwater in that context. This unique record was presented in celebration of Fallingwater's fiftieth anniversary. Special features of this volume include numerous never before published photographs of the house under construction during its entire history and of the family in residence; a room-by-room pictorial survey in full color taken especially for this volume; isometric architectural perspectives that explain visually how the house was constructed; and the first accurate measured plans of the house as built.

Authors Jane Hession and Debra Prickel bring each of these unequalled characters to life, exploring the fascinating contradiction between Wright's often-voiced disdain of New York and his pride and pleasure of living in one of the city's greatest landmarks, the Plaza Hotel. From his suite on Taliesin III as it became known, Wright supervised construction of the Guggenheim, sparred with the New York press, and received many famous visitors such as Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller. Home Michael Carroll, a renowned astronomical and paleo artist for more than twenty years, has done work for NASA and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. Fallingwater Rising is a biography not of a person but of the most famous house of the twentieth century Scholars and the public have long extolled the house that Frank Lloyd Wright perched over a Pennsylvania waterfall in 1937 but the full story has never been told When he got the commission to design the house Wright was nearing seventy his youth and his early fame long gone It was the Depression and Wright had no work in sight Into his orbit stepped Edgar J Kaufmann a Pittsburgh department store mogul the smartest retailer in America and a philanthropist with the burning ambition to build a world famous work of architecture It was an unlikely collaboration the Jewish merchant who had little concern for modern architecture and the brilliant modernist who was leery of Jews But the two men collaborated to produce an extraordinary building of lasting architectural significance that brought international fame to them both and confirmed Wright's position as the greatest architect of the twentieth century Fallingwater Rising is also an enthralling family drama involving Kaufmann his beautiful cousin wife Liliane and their son Edgar Jr whose own role in the creation of Fallingwater and its ongoing reputation is central to the story Involving such key figures of the 1930s as Frida Kahlo Albert Einstein Henry R Luce William Randolph Hearst Ayn Rand and Franklin Roosevelt Fallingwater Rising shows us how E J Kaufmann's house became not just Wright's masterpiece but a fundamental icon of American life One of the pleasures of the book is its rich evocation of the upper crust society of Pittsburgh Carnegie Frick the Mellons a society that was socially reactionary but luxury loving and baronial in its tastes hobbies and sexual attitudes Kaufmann had so many mistresses that his store issued them distinctive charge plates they could use without paying Franklin Toker has been studying Fallingwater for eighteen years No one but he could have given us this compelling saga of the most famous private house in the world and the dramatic personal story of the fascinating people who made and used it A major contribution to both architectural and social history U.S. General Imports, 1967
