Family Of God A Symbolic Study Of Christ

John R. Gillis

Family Of God A Symbolic Study Of Christ:

The Family of God William Lloyd Warner, 1975 The Family of God W. Lloyd Warner, 2003-01-01 Churches in the Family of God Dr Peter Uche Uzochukwu, 2012-04-04 The Divine Institution Sophie Bjork-James, 2021-03-12

The Divine Institution provides an account of how a theology of the family came to dominate a white evangelical tradition in the post civil rights movement United States providing a theological corollary to Religious Right politics This tradition inherently enforces racial inequality in that it draws moral religious and political attention away from problems of racial and economic structural oppression explaining all social problems as a failure of the individual to achieve the strong gender and sexual identities that ground the nuclear family The consequences of this theology are both personal suffering for individuals who cannot measure up to prescribed gender and sexual roles and political support for conservative government policies Exposure to experiences that undermine the idea that an emphasis on the family is the solution to all social problems is causing a younger generation of white evangelicals to shift away from this narrow theological emphasis and toward a more social justice oriented theology The material and political effects of this shift remain to be seen A World of Their Own Making John R. Gillis, 1997 Discusses ritual events we regard as family traditions and how they must be open to perpetual revision so we can satisfy our human needs and changing circumstances Culture, Consolation, and Continuing Bonds in Bereavement Dennis Klass, 2022-01-25 Culture Consolation and Continuing Bonds in Bereavement presents Dennis Klass's most important contributions to the scholarship of grief and bereavement Journal articles book chapters and previously unpublished works cover more than 40 years of study and practice on the forefront of our understanding of individual family and community grief The writings range widely including explorations of continuing bonds and consolation aspects of grief that were missing when Klass began his work studies of grief across different cultures and critical analyses of theories that were popular in grief scholarship but inadequately described bereaved parents experiences The book ends with a previously unpublished case study of Charles Darwin whose experience as a bereaved parent informed the worldview at the heart of his theory of natural selection This collection of essays offers an integral understanding of how individuals move through grief and is a valuable addition to the library of anyone working with topics relevant to grieving adults children and adolescents

God's Wounds Jeff B Pool, 2011-07-28 God's Wounds Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering Volume I Divine Vulnerability and Creation is the first of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering The larger study focuses its inquiry on the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely The goal is then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God In this first volume the author develops an approach to interpreting the contested claims about the suffering of God Through this approach to the Christian symbol of divine suffering he then investigates the two major presuppositions that the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally hold an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love When fully elaborated these presuppositions reveal the conditions of possibility for divine suffering and divine vulnerability with respect to creation Critical Review of Books in Religion, 1988 The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Family Studies, 4 Volume Set Constance L. attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God This second volume of studies proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of this symbol those implicit attestations that provide the conditions of possibility for divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation as identified and examined in the first volume of this project an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love The second volume then investigates the first two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally attest 1 divine grief suffering because of betrayal by the beloved human or human sin and 2 divine self sacrifice suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation Each divine wound thus constitutes a response to a creaturely occasion The suffering in each divine wound also occurs in two stages a passive stage and an active stage In divine grief God suffers because of human sin betrayal of the divine lover by the beloved human divine sorrow as the passive stage of divine grief and divine anguish as the active stage of divine grief In divine self sacrifice God suffers in response to the misery or bondage of the beloved human s infidelity divine travail focused on the divine incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth as the active stage of divine self sacrifice and divine agony focused on divine suffering in the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth as the passive stage of divine self sacrifice
