Family Planning In The Legacy Of Islam:

Family Planning in the Legacy of Islam Abdel-Rahim Omran, 2012-09-10 How has the Islamic view of marriage family formation and child rearing developed and adapted over the centuries Is contraception just permitted or actively encouraged The family is the basic social unit of Islamic society Even without compelling population pressures there has been concern with spacing and family planning This book is the result of a massive research project gathering fourteen centuries the seventh to the twentieth of views on family formation and planning as expressed by leading Islamic theologians and jurists The work has been discussed and shaped at each stage by a committee of Islamic experts representing the majority of the Muslim countries The book provides a much needed source of reference and will be of equal value and interest to professionals in health care and development work and to those working in the academic disciplines of Middle East studies religion and population studies

Family planning in the legacy of Islam Abd al-Rahim Umran, 1998 Islamic Ethics of Life Jonathan E. Brockopp, 2021-02-09 2005 Choice Outstanding Academic Title A pioneering work on controversial issues within the Muslim world Islamic Ethics of Life considers three of the most contentious ethical issues of our time abortion war and euthanasia from the Muslim perspective Distinguished scholars of Islamic studies have collaborated to produce a volume that both integrates Muslim thinking into the field of applied ethics and introduces readers to an aspect of the religion long overlooked in the West This collective effort sets forth the relationship between Islamic ethics and law clearly revealing the complexity and richness of the Islamic tradition as well as its responsiveness to these controversial modern issues The contributors analyze classical sources and survey the modern ethical landscape to identify guiding principles within Islamic ethical thought Clarifying the importance of pragmatism in Islamic decision making the contributors also offer case studies related to specialized topics including wrongful birth claims terrorist attacks and brain death The case studies elicit possible variations on common Muslim perspectives The contributors situate Muslim ethics relative to Christian and secular accounts of the value of human life exposing surprising similarities and differences In an introductory overview of the volume Jonathan E Brockopp underscores the steady focus on God as the one who determines the value of human life and hence as the final arbiter of Islamic ethics A foreword by Gene Outka places the volume in the context of general ethical studies and an afterword by A Kevin Reinhart suggests some significant ramifications for comparative religious ethics

Family planning in the legacy of Islam Abdel R. Omran, 1994 Encyclopedia of Islam Juan Eduardo Campo, 2009 Explores the terms concepts personalities historical events and institutions that helped shape the history of this religion and the way it is practiced today

Terrorist Minds: From Social-psychological Profiling To Assessing The Risk Sagit Yehoshua, 2020-10-19 This book s excellent discussion of the theories and concepts involved in profiling terrorists including those who are incarcerated is a major contribution to the academic discipline on these issues Perspectives on Terrorism

Terrorist Minds From Social Psychological Profiling to Assessing the Risk explores the process of terrorist behavioural analysis from the social psychological profiling of terrorists to the development of risk assessment tools Most of the research for this book was conducted in cooperation with the Intelligence Department of the Israeli Prison Service via qualitative in depth interviews with leaders of terrorist organisations in Israeli prisons Once social psychological profiles were established terrorist risk assessment tools were developed to allow for better observation and practical management of associated problems This book fills the gaps in existing literature on the psychology of imprisoned terrorist group leaders through the analysis of individuals social professional and personal lives as well as their attitudes and perceptions The book also covers the practical aspects of risk assessment based on social psychological profiling and discusses relevant tools that have been developed in recent years It aims to better inform counter terrorism initiatives and policymaking as well as improve methods of communication counter terrorism and conflict resolution

Islam and Social Policy Stephen P. Heyneman, 2004 At a time when more nuanced understandings of Muslim countries and their legal and social practices are urgently needed in the West the appearance of this collection is especially welcome In these illuminating and accessible essays the contributors explain how Islam sees itself in terms of social policy how it treats women and how it encourages charity education and general social welfare The essays encompass many regional cultures and draw on court records and legal debates field work on government ministries and an extensive reading of Islamic law In his overview of waqf similar to the Western idea of a foundation in which an endowment is set aside in perpetuity for specified purposes Ahmad Dallal explains how charity a central organizing principle in Islam is itself organized and how waqf traditionally a source of revenue for charitable purposes can also become a source of tension and conflict Donna Lee Bowen in her essay on the position of women in Islamic law points out the crucial differences between the Islamic principles of family equity and the Western notion of individual equality In a subsequent essay Bowen addresses the problems surrounding family planning and the dilemmas that have arisen within the Muslim world over differing ideas about birth control The two final essays look at specific instances of how the modern state has treated Islamic social policy Gail Richardson examines zakat an Islamic tax used to assist the poor and its administration in Pakistan Carol Underwood meanwhile explores public health policy in Iran both before and after the Islamic revolution that deposed the Shah Addressing some of the most profound misunderstandings between Islamic and Western societies Islam and Social Policy will be of vital interest not only to scholars and policymakers but to anyone concerned with Islam s critical place in the modern world

The Great Social Laboratory Omnia El Shakry, 2007-10-29 This book charts the development of the social sciences anthropology human geography and demography in colonial and postcolonial Egypt exploring the broader significance of knowledge production and its relationship to colonialist and nationalist ideologies

Islam and the Securitisation of Population Policies Katrina Riddell, 2016-05-06 There has been much scholarly debate on the politically disruptive capabilities of Islam and the threats to global security posed by or to Muslim states and societies but within this dialogue there has been little recognition of the role of population policies in security issues Katrina Riddell's study focuses specifically on Islam and the securitization of population policies and sustainability Opening with a discussion of contemporary population discourses and their historical foundations the book examines how population growth has become an international security issue The author takes the examples of Pakistan and Iran to provide a nuanced understanding of Muslim states interaction with global debates on sustainability She also explores how Muslim and non Muslim states societies and agents perceive issues of population growth and control Providing an innovative approach to the pursuit of global sustainability and security this book presents useful material to scholars whose research focuses on Islam and the future

Reproduction and Biopolitics Silvia De Zordo, Milena Marchesi, 2016-02-05 The central theme of this volume is the notion of irrational reproduction the ways in which women's and couples reproductive choices and practices are deemed irrational or irresponsible because they result in the wrong number of children In a global context of declining fertility population policies have shifted to a neoliberal register which despite local differences includes both the deepening of economic and social inequalities and the intensification of rights discourses applied to the unborn Inspired by Foucault's theories on biopolitics and biopower and by a long tradition of feminist anthropological studies on reproduction the ethnographically based papers collected in this volume address the following crucial questions How does the notion of irrational reproduction emerge and play out in diverse socio political contexts and what forms of subjectivities and resistance does it generate How does the threat of too few or too many children itself constructed through expert knowledge of statistics and political concerns over the size of different ethnic populations or classes justify and support different biopolitical projects And how do the increasing privatization of healthcare and the dismantling of welfare states affect reproductive practices and decisions on the ground in the global North and South This book was originally published as a special issue of Anthropology and Medicine

Islamic Teachings and Social Structure Muḥammad Sultan Shah, Ayesha Farooq, 2022-02-06 This book corrects the long standing misconceptions of the masses about the religious beliefs of Islam and challenges the core social perceptions and deviations from its religious guidelines It offers the reader an opportunity to learn about the various social dimensions and Islamic views in the light of the Quran and Sunnah The book will appeal to a diverse readership and rarely uses terminology which is specific to a certain subject Where such terms are used and inevitable these are properly defined and explained in the given context

Islamic Biomedical Ethics Abdulaziz Sachedina, 2009-04-06 Biomedical ethics is a burgeoning academic field with complex and far reaching consequences Whereas in Western secular bioethics this subject falls within larger ethical theories and applications utilitarianism deontology teleology and the like Islamic biomedical ethics has yet to find its natural academic home in Islamic studies In this pioneering work Abdulaziz Sachedina a scholar with life long academic training in Islamic law relates classic Muslim religious values to the new ethical challenges that arise from medical research and practice He depends on Muslim legal theory but then looks deeper than juridical practice to search for the underlying reasons that determine the rightness or wrongness of a particular action Drawing on the work of diverse Muslim theologians he outlines a form of moral reasoning that can derive and produce decisions that underscore the spirit of the Shari'a These decisions he argues still leave room to revisit earlier decisions and formulate new ones which in turn need not be understood as absolute or final After laying out this methodology he applies it to a series of ethical questions surrounding the human life cycle from birth to death including such issues as abortion euthanasia and organ donation The implications of Sachedina's work are broad His writing is unique in that it aims at conversing with Jewish and Christian ethics moving beyond the Islamic fatwa literature to search for a common language of moral justification and legitimization among the followers of the Abrahamic traditions He argues that Islamic theological ethics be organically connected with the legal tradition of Islam to enable it to sit in dialogue with secular and scripture based bioethics in other faith communities A breakthrough in Islamic bioethical studies this volume is welcome and long overdue reading for anyone interested in facing the difficult questions posed by modern medicine not only to the Muslim faithful but to the ethically minded at large

Countless Blessings Barbara M. Cooper, 2019-07-01 A study of pregnancy and childbirth customs in Niger and how it has both a high fertility rate and high rates of maternal and infant mortality How do women in Niger experience pregnancy and childbirth differently from women in the United States or Europe Barbara M Cooper sets out to understand childbirth in a country with the world's highest fertility rate and an alarmingly high rate of maternal and infant mortality Cooper shows how the environment slavery and abolition French military rule and the rapid expansion of Islam have all influenced childbirth and fertility in Niger from the nineteenth century to the present day She sketches a landscape where fear of infertility generates intense competition between communities ethnicities and co-wives and creates a culture where concerns about infertility dominate concerns about overpopulation where illegitimate children are rejected and where the education of girls is sacrificed in the name of avoiding shame Given a medical system poorly adapted to women's needs a precarious economy and a political context where it is impossible to address sexuality openly Cooper discovers that it is little wonder that pregnancy and birth are a woman's greatest pride as well as a source of grave danger Beautifully written insightful and full of empathy A must read for anyone seeking to understand the damaging consequences of neglecting women's and infants' health Johanna Schoen author of Abortion after Roe Few experiences are more potent than reproduction Countless Blessings brilliantly unwinds the full import of this potency tracing a history of demography bodily peril parental joy and social religious and political meaning Cooper's tremendous skill and creativity as a scholar enable us to see the political stakes of reproduction even as they are grounded in the intimacies of embodied experience Julie Livingston author of Self-Devouring Growth A Planetary Parable as Told from Southern Africa Countless Blessings shows how women in Niger and in West Africa have long navigated the various states of social value personhood spirituality and childbirth and it paints a remarkable picture of how contested and embodied the social and material concerns of childbirth remain for women today Ampson Hagan University of North Carolina Chapel Hill

IJAHS Writing through the Visual and Virtual Renée Larrier,Ousseina Alidou,2015-11-12 Writing Through the Visual and Virtual Inscribing Language Literature and Culture in Francophone Africa and the Caribbean interrogates conventional notions of writing The contributors whose disciplines include anthropology art history education film history linguistics literature performance studies philosophy sociology translation and visual arts examine the complex interplay between language literature arts and the visual and virtual domains of expressive culture The twenty five essays explore various patterns of writing practices arising from contemporary and historical forces that have impacted the literatures and cultures of Benin Cameroon Cote d'Ivoire Egypt Guadeloupe Haiti Martinique Morocco Niger Reunion Island and Senegal Special attention is paid to how scripts though appearing to be merely decorative in function are often used by artists and performers in the production of material and non material culture to tell stories of great significance co mingling words and images in a way that leads to a creative synthesis that links the local and the global the classical and the popular in new ways Islam in the Era of Globalization Johan Meuleman,2005-09-30 Globalization modernity and identity are fundamental issues in contemporary Islam and Islamic Studies This collection of essays reflects the wide diversity that characterises contemporary Islamic Studies The case studies cover regions stretching from China and Southeast Asia to diaspora communities in the Caribbean and Tajikistan There is significant participation of intellectual voices from all areas concerned providing a real contribution to the academic exchange between the Muslim and the Euro American worlds Caring for Arab Patients Laeth Nasir,Arwa Kayed Abdul-Haq,Tony Lockett,2018-12-20 This practical and patient centred guide assists medical professionals in delivering better clinical care to Arab patients In examining the psychosocial underpinnings of Arab medicine this unique book summarises and assesses the latest research taking into account the needs and priorities of Arab patients Important issues covered include patient education compliance doctor shopping and psychiatric and mental health services The evidence based approach integrates academic research and first hand experience from the unique bicultural position of the contributors Caring for Arab Patients is vital for all healthcare professionals including doctors nurses pharmacists and occupational therapists with responsibilities for Arab patients throughout the world Students of medicine and nursing will find much of interest as will healthcare managers researchers academics policy makers and shapers Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph,Afsāna Nağmābādī,2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost 200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures T&T Clark Reader in Abortion and Religion ,2022-12-29 This volume introduces students to the history of cultural and theological responses to abortion as background for understanding a diversity of ethical positions in contemporary Christian Jewish and Muslim writings Politicized debates about abortion are often presented in terms of a binary rhetoric of prolife versus prochoice however this collection of essays shows how that binary often breaks down when abortion is seen from different religious perspectives and in light of the voices of women themselves

While abortion is a global phenomenon this volume focuses on the U S context American abortion politics and culture wars have been dominated by Christian voices nevertheless Jewish and Muslim abortion ethics engage many of the same issues from different cultural and religious perspectives Finally this volume presents important examples of recent social scientific studies about the relationship of religion and abortion in the diverse cultural racial and economic fabric of American society Pedagogical features include Introduction to the subject matter by the editors Introductory essays to all five parts of the book Questions for classroom discussion Additional pedagogical materials can be found at <https://abortionreligionreader.com>

Soft Force Ellen Anne McLarney, 2015-05-26 The unheralded contribution of women to Egypt's Islamist movement and how they talk about women's rights in Islamic terms In the decades leading up to the Arab Spring in 2011 when Hosni Mubarak's authoritarian regime was swept from power in Egypt Muslim women took a leading role in developing a robust Islamist presence in the country's public sphere Soft Force examines the writings and activism of these women including scholars preachers journalists critics actors and public intellectuals who envisioned an Islamic awakening in which women's rights and the family equality and emancipation were at the center Challenging Western conceptions of Muslim women as being oppressed by Islam Ellen McLarney shows how women used soft force a women's jihad characterized by nonviolent protest to oppose secular dictatorship and articulate a public sphere that was both Islamic and democratic McLarney draws on memoirs political essays sermons newspaper articles and other writings to explore how these women imagined the home and the family as sites of the free practice of religion in a climate where Islamists were under siege by the secular state While they seem to reinforce women's traditional roles in a male dominated society these Islamist writers also reoriented Islamist politics in domains coded as feminine putting women at the very forefront in imagining an Islamic polity Bold and insightful Soft Force transforms our understanding of women's rights women's liberation and women's equality in Egypt's Islamic revival

The Methods and Uses of Anthropological Demography Alaka Malwade Basu, Peter Aaby, 1998-09-24 This volume takes stock of the current status of the comparatively new discipline of Anthropological Demography and discusses its major methods its main strengths and its chief limitations It includes contributions from both mainstream demographers and foremost anthropologists all stressing the necessity of a shared agenda for each discipline to progress successfully and avoid marginalization While the unique research and personal satisfaction afforded by participant observation is described the book also highlights the potential contribution to the understanding of demographic events of much more than the field methods of traditional anthropology In particular it stresses the insights possible from qualitative focus group interviews from longitudinal studies and from a greater interest in armchair anthropology in which demographers complement their quantitative findings with qualitative information and understanding gleaned from a careful reading of the anthropological literature in the form of both ethnographies and anthropological theories In addition it stresses the larger world of the ideal anthropological demographer a world that includes the cultural context of course but also takes into account the historical and political forces that condition so much individual behaviour But the book is also a critical venture It includes therefore considerable discussion of the common limits of the purely anthropological approach for understanding demographic events and processes especially from a larger policy perspective at the same time as it emphasizes the crucial role of the anthropological approach to designing policy that is potentially effective as well as socially and culturally sensitive It reiterates the often complementary role of anthropological demography and also discusses some specific questions in demographic research which it does not as yet seem to have the capacity to illuminate The book is aimed primarily at demographers wishing to broaden their research agenda and deepen their understanding of demographic behaviour but it also hopes to convert mainstream anthropologists to take a more active interest in demographic issues Both disciplines after all have a common intense interest in the kind of life and death issues that they can fruitfully explore together or by using one another's research methods
