Making Change Sheila H. Kieran, Laidlaw Foundation, 2001 The Laidlaw Foundation was established in 1949 by Walter and Robert Laidlaw sons of the founder of the R Laidlaw Lumber Company This book is a history of the Laidlaw family how it amassed money and why the brothers decided to disperse it as they did Making Change is also a record of the work of the foundation over the past 50 years The impact has been to help children in need to train scholars and to support social cultural and environmental causes Overall this book seeks to identify what motivates people to act philanthropically and the implications of their doing so It is interesting to understand what persuades wealthy people to give away their money and provide leadership in areas where government stewardship is lacking Fundamental Change Michael Fullan, 2007-12-29 ANDY HARGREAVES Department of Teacher Education Curriculum and Instruction Lynch School of Education Boston College MA U S A ANN LIEBERMAN Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching Stanford U S A MICHAEL FULLAN Ontario Institute for Studies Education University of Toronto Canada DAVID HOPKINS Department for Education and Skills London U K This set of four volumes on brings together evidence and insights on educational change issues from leading writers and researchers in the field from across the world Many of these writers whose chapters have been specially written for these books have been investigating helping initiate and implementing educational change for most or all of their lengthy careers Others are working on the cutting edge of theory and practice in educational change taking the field in new or even more challenging directions And some are more skeptical about the literature of educational change and the assumptions on which it rests They help us to approach projects of understanding or initiating educational change more deeply reflectively and realistically Educational change and reform have rarely had so much prominence within public policy in so many different places Educational change is ubiquitous It figures large in Presidential and Prime Ministerial speeches It is at or near the top of many National policy agendas Everywhere educational change is not only a policy priority but also major public news Yet action to bring about educational change usually exceeds people s understanding of how to do so effectively International Handbook of Educational Change Andy Hargreaves, A. Gender, Place and the Labour Market Sarah Jenkins, 2017-11-30. Although research on the labour market has remained central to the development of work on gender in geography, there has been an absence of texts on the importance of space in relation to employment. This volume explores the geography of women's participation in the UK labour market and centres on the importance of work-home interdependencies and factors which both influence women's decision making processes and contribute to the formation of their perceived societal role. The book draws on interviews with individual women about the influential factors in deciding whether or not they participate in the formal labour market. It highlights the importance of social and cultural factors in addition to the availability of jobs in the local economy in influencing labour market participation. It also compares the choices the Government claims to provide with the choices individual women feel they have when it comes to negotiating their everyday lives.

Parents, Children, Teens, and Psychological Viewpoints on Parenting Practices in Kuwait and Greece Juliet Dinkha, 2023-05-08. Stories make up our lives from birth till the end; they help us make sense of ourselves, others and experiences in the world. Throughout this book, the authors explore one of the most vital of stories: childhood and child rearing with individuals from Greece and the Middle East. Each story presented shares a unique and subjective insight into the realm of parenting. What is parenting and how does it differ? The authors examine the unique cultural norms, generational disparities, childhood experiences and trauma that play a role in parenting. They offer a depth of insight into childhood needs and include tales from families sharing their perspectives. The authors invite readers to join them on an explorative journey to the East where narratives meet scientific literature, providing a close view into different homes and worlds.

Security, Insecurity and Migration in Europe Gabriella Lazaridis, 2016-04-01. Having often been framed in terms of security concerns, migration issues have simultaneously given rise to issues of insecurity. On the one hand, security of borders, political, societal and economic security; insecurity in the host country; on the other, social, legal and economic concerns about human security with regard to both EU citizens and migrants entering Europe. In terms of state security, migration is a core target of increasingly globally networked surveillance capabilities. Whilst with respect to human security, it exposes the gap between the protections that migrants formally enjoy under international law and the realities they experience as they travel and work across different countries. Drawing on the latest research from across the EU, Security, Insecurity and Migration explores the concerns of states with regard to migration and the need to protect the fundamental rights of migrants. An interdisciplinary examination of the issues of security and insecurity raised by migration.

for states their citizens and migrants themselves this book will be of interest to scholars of politics sociology and geography researching migration race and ethnicity human and state security and EU politics and policy
