Hahn,2006-09-19 Scott Hahn has the rare ability to explain the essential teachings of Catholicism in a totally accessible manner Rather than burdening the reader with difficult or arcane references and arguments he writes of familiar feelings and situations and allows the theology to unfold naturally In First Comes Love Hahn turns his attention to the search for a sense of belonging revealing the intimate connection between the families men and women create on earth and the divine family the Holy Trinity Delving into the Gospels Hahn shows that family terminology words like brother sister mother father and home dominates Jesus speech and the writings of His first followers and that these very words illuminate Christianity s central ideas As he explores the fatherhood of God the marriage of the Church to Christ and the all enveloping role of the Holy Spirit Hahn deepens readers understanding of the sacraments teaches them how to create a family life in the image of the Trinity and demonstrates the ways in which the analogy of the family applies to every aspect of Catholicism and its practices from the role of father embodied by the ancient patriarchs and contemporary parish priests to the comfort and guidance offered by the brothers and sisters who comprise the Communion of Saints to the nurturing embrace of Mary the mother of all Christians Through real life examples both humorous and compassionate and quotations drawn from the Scriptures Hahn makes it clear that no matter what sort of family readers come from no matter what sort of dysfunction they have experienced they can find a family in the Church Reaching out to newcomers and to lifelong Christians alike First Comes Love is an invitation to discover a true home in the divine

The Pictorial Expository Family Bible, Notes by J. Campbell ,1858 Leaves of Healing ,1927 The Family and Its Members Anna Garlin Spencer,1923 Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik,2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods
