Garrett,2010-07-27 Since 1992 there have been 250 violent deaths in schools and in virtually every one bullying has been a contributing factor to the violence As in the Columbine High School shooting in Littleton Colorado most of the students who committed these violent crimes were victims of bullying who decided to get revenge Such violence has become one of the most serious problems in America today and both bullies and their victims need help Chapter One defines bullying as a form of violence among children and discusses characteristics of bullies Chapter Two identifies myths about bullies and presents research that dispels those myths Chapter Three considers how serious violence begins with seemingly innocent put downs and teasing Chapter Four explores how bullying may indicate the beginning of a generally antisocial and rule breaking behavior pattern that can extend into adulthood and presents successful programs and interventions Chapter Five presents useful solutions and strategies to stop bullying

National Library of Medicine Audiovisuals Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Reimagining Advocacy Elizabeth C. Britt, 2018-05-17 Domestic violence accounts for approximately one fifth of all violent crime in the United States and is among the most difficult issues confronting professionals in the legal and criminal justice systems In this volume Elizabeth Britt argues that learning embodied advocacy a practice that results from an expanded understanding of expertise based on lived experience and adopting it in legal settings can directly and tangibly help victims of abuse Focusing on clinical legal education at the Domestic Violence Institute at the Northeastern University School of Law Britt takes a case study approach to illuminate how challenging the context aims and forms of advocacy traditionally embraced in the U S legal system produces better support for victims of domestic violence She analyzes a wide range of materials and practices including the pedagogy of law school training programs interviews with advocates and narratives written by students in the emergency department and looks closely at the forms of rhetorical education through which students assimilate advocacy practices By examining how students learn to listen actively to clients and to recognize that clients have the right and ability to make decisions for themselves Britt shows that rhetorical education can succeed in producing legal professionals with the inclination and capacity to engage others whose values and experiences diverge from their own By investigating the deep relationship between legal education and rhetorical education Reimagining Advocacy calls for conversations and action that will improve advocacy for others especially for victims of domestic violence seeking assistance from legal professionals
