phase of post 1960s U S Latino literature The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao by Junot Diaz and Caramelo by Sandra Cisneros both engage in unique networks of paratexts that center on the performance of latinidad Here Ellen McCracken re envisions Gerard Genette s paratexts for the present day arguing that the Internet increases the range authorship and reach of the paratextual portals and that they constitute a key element of the creative process of Latino literary production in 21st century America This smart and useful book examines how both novelists interact with the interplay of populist and hegemonic multiculturalism and allows new points of entry into these novels

The Family in English Children's Literature Ann Alston, 2008-06-03 From the trials of families experiencing divorce as in Anne Fine's Madame Doubtfire to the childcare problems highlighted in Jacqueline Wilson's Tracy Beaker it might seem that the traditional family and the ideals that accompany it have long vanished However in The Family in English Children's Literature Ann Alston argues that this is far from the case She suggests that despite the tales of family woe portrayed in children's literature the desire for the happy contented nuclear family remains inherent within the ideological subtexts of children's literature Using 1818 as a starting point Alston investigates families in children's literature at their most intimate focusing on how they share their spaces their ideals of home and even on what they eat for dinner What emerges from Alston's study are not so much the contrasts that exist between periods but rather the startling similarities of the ideology of family intrinsic to children's literature The Family in English Children's Literature sheds light on who maintains control who behaves and how significant children's literature is in shaping our ideas about what makes a family good
