Handbook of Women, Stress and Trauma Kathleen A. Kendall-Tackett, 2013-01-11 The Handbook of Women Stress and Trauma focuses on the stresses and traumas that are unique to the lives of women It is the first text to merge research from the fields of trauma and women s health and development Using a lifespan developmental approach the text begins by addressing specific issues women face in their lives drawing upon theories of development and exploring how women s relationships with others buffer or sometimes cause stress and trauma Combining aspects of female development with empirical data from the fields of women s health family violence and stress and coping this volume helps sensitive care providers to the specific needs of women exposed to traumatic events

Helping Traumatized Families Charles Figley, Laurel Kiser, 2013-05-07 The new edition of the classic Helping Traumatized Families not only offers clinicians a unified evidence based theory of the systemic impact of traumatic stress it also details a systematic approach to helping families heal by promoting their natural healing resources Though the impact of trauma on a family can be growth producing some families either struggle or fail to adapt successfully Helping Traumatized Families guides practitioners around common pitfalls and toward a series of evidence based strategies that they can use to help families feel empowered and ultimately to thrive by developing tools for enhancing resilience and self regulation

Treatment of Complex Trauma Christine A. Courtois, Julian D. Ford, 2015-09-21 The research base on complex psychological trauma has grown significantly in recent years Yet even with the development of more effective techniques for treating complex trauma survivors therapists often struggle to build strong relationships with these severely distressed clients In this guide the authors present an approach for helping adult clients move through the three phases of posttraumatic recovery and for managing the inevitable roadblocks and relationship issues that occur The introductory chapters explore how complex trauma emerges from chronic victimization and the disruption of attachment bonds in childhood or adulthood and review diagnostic considerations Two extended case examples highlight clinical issues that arise with this population and running throughout the chapters show how to use a secure therapeutic alliance as a foundation for utilizing evidence based treatment strategies The authors demonstrate ways to weave together elements of cognitive behavioral psychodynamic relational and systemic therapies along with other proven approaches in the service of working toward clearly defined therapeutic goals In Phase 1 the emphasis is basic safety and personal stabilization Phases 2 and 3 address trauma processing and the challenges of creating a new more satisfying life Strategies for tailoring interventions to each individual s needs and strengths aided by ongoing assessment are detailed Applications in group couple and family therapy are also discussed
