George Washington Cable,2011-11-25 The following diary was originally written in lead pencil and in a book the leaves of which were too soft to take ink legibly I have it direct from the hands of its writer a lady whom I have had the honor to know for nearly thirty years For good reasons the author s name is omitted and the initials of people and the names of places are sometimes fictitiously given Many of the persons mentioned were my own acquaintances and friends When some twenty years afterward she first resolved to publish it she brought me a clear complete copy in ink It had cost much trouble she said for much of the pencil writing had been made under such disadvantages and was so faint that at times she could decipher it only under direct sunlight She had succeeded however in making a copy verbatim except for occasional improvement in the grammatical form of a sentence or now and then the omission for brevity s sake of something unessential Famous
