Chinese Capital Market Annette Kleinbrod, 2008-03-12 The significance of China's development reaches far beyond the country's domestic concerns. This is due to a variety of factors among them the country's rapid growth and development and its increasingly open borders allowing it to become a member of the regional and international community of states over the last twenty five years. China is not a major force yet but its voice is gaining influence. Simultaneously its development on domestic regional and international levels is a huge uncertainty which inheres both potential and risk and is likely best described by the title of Johnny Erling's book China der grosse Sprung ins Ungewisse China the Great Leap into the Unknown. Thereby the attempts to understand the relevant processes and related prospects often appear to be an endless puzzle which allows for further insight with every piece that can be added while a certain dimension of mystery remains as China develops further. Today China's development is challenged considerably by a number of factors in the fields of the society policy economy and environment. Finding a viable solution to these challenges and sustaining development is a concern of great priority to the Chinese government. A decisive question with this in mind is how the financial system could be enhanced to a level at which it would be an effective catalyst for development.

Mainstreaming Ageing Asghar Zaidi, 2017-09-29 The Madrid International Plan of Action on Ageing MIPAA adopted at the Second World Assembly on Ageing is the first international agreement that specifically recognises the potential of older people to contribute to the development of their societies. In monitoring its implementation two key approaches are evident a qualitative bottom up participatory approach and an approach that uses quantitative indicators to monitor sustainable progress and policies. With the European Centre for Social Welfare Policy and Research playing a pivotal role in the monitoring of the implementation process one of its key tasks has been to develop a list of indicators of achievement. This book contains extended and revised versions of policy briefs and background papers that support the implementation monitoring process. The analyses included in these chapters make concrete suggestions towards quantitative indicators with the aim of assisting national governments in mainstreaming ageing in their policies. The contributors provide an overview of the current situation with respect to population ageing and its consequences and also provide projections for the future. The book also includes the final list of quantitative indicators that arose out of consultations with international experts related to the four main topics addressed demography income and wealth labour market participation and social protection and financial sustainability.

Innovation, Employment and Growth Policy Issues in the EU and the US Paul J.J. Welfens, John T. Addison, 2009-07-21 Economic development has cyclical dynamics and long term dynamics the latter are typically related to demographical changes innovation and long term institutional changes in open economies Financial markets that means mainly capital markets and labor markets are affected in OECD countries both by innovations and institutional reforms As regards demographics ageing is a typical challenge on both sides of the Atlantic and pension reforms in industrialized countries have placed greater emphasis on capital markets than in previous decades Innovation dynamics certainly are also quite important for all high wage OECD countries The Lisbon Agenda has put particular emphasis on more growth higher innovation dynamics and better exploitation of the advantages of a digitally networked society Traditionally the US has a lead in global innovations and the US policy certainly has contributed to the American technological leadership There still is a per capita income gap in favor of the US and the US labor market situation also looks relatively favorable but in the ve years since 2001 employment growth in the euro area was higher than that of the US The euro area is however a rather heterogeneous set of countries which differ in terms of institutions attitudes and reform progress and everywhere governments are aware that there have to be reforms not least in the context of globalization which bring a more complex and dynamic spatial structure of value added
