Falling Back Poetry Wales Poets 7:

Poetry Wales, 2007      The Anglo-Welsh Review, 1987      Writing on the Edge David T. Lloyd, 2022-06-08 Complex and controversial issues have accompanied the development of English language literature in Wales generating a continuing debate over the nature of Welsh writing in English The main issues include the claim of some Welsh language writers to represent the only authentic literature of Wales the question of whether or not an extended literary tradition in English has existed in Wales the absence until fairly recently of a publishing apparatus for English language writers the rise of a Welsh nationalism committed to preserving the Welsh language and the question of whether English language literature in Wales can be distinguished from English literature proper The primary impulse for the interviews with the thirteen writers and editors in Writing on the Edge was to explore these and other issues relating to the literary and cultural identity in Wales in the last decade The book's title reflects these ongoing debates about the nature and direction of contemporary Welsh literature in English which is often perceived as peripheral both to Welsh speaking Wales and to the literary culture of England As one of the contributors to the volume says This is what it is to be Welsh It's an edge There's no moment of life in Wales that hasn't got that edge unless you decide you're not Welsh      R. S. Thomas Daniel Westover, 2011-09-15 In R S Thomas A Stylistic Biography Daniel Westover traces Thomas's poetic development over six decades demonstrating how the complex interior of the poet manifests itself in the continually shifting style of his poems      Books in Series, 1876-1949 R.R. Bowker Company, 1982      Poetry, Geography, Gender Alice Entwistle, 2013-09-15 Poetry Geography Gender examines how questions of place identity and creative practice intersect in the work of some of Wales best known contemporary poets including Gillian Clarke Gwyneth Lewis Ruth Bidgood and Sheenagh Pugh Merging traditional literary criticism with cultural political and geographical analysis Alice Entwistle shows how writers different senses of relationship with Wales its languages history and imaginative as well as political geography feeds the form as well as the content of their poetry Her innovative critical study thus takes particular interest in the ways in which author text and territory help to inform and produce each other in the culturally complex and confident small nation that is twenty first century Wales      Gods Kate Johnson, 1987      Clay Hill Tim Liardet, 1988 Clay Hill is an exciting first collection which explores the collapse of the remnants of our Victorian and Edwardian past in poems of authentic atmosphere of beautifully sustained movements and silences More personal poems exist in this context relieved by the poet's humour and his feel for words and their texture Liardet's poems are as substantial as polished and as carefully packed as Victorian tallboys Christopher Meredith Tim Liardet is a real discovery Clay Hill is one of the best first collections from a Welsh publisher in years there is a secure mastery of the poetry line and a concern for language that is constantly rewarding a poet of real achievement and exciting potential Tony Curtis Tim Liardet was born in London and educated at the University of York He has travelled extensively and worked in the fields of Information Technology and Marketing Widely published he currently works as a freelance writer editor and tutor

Miraculous Simplicity William V. Davis, 1993-02 Pondering now the being and nature of God now the mystery of time now the assault of contemporary lifestyles on the natural world R S Thomas's poetry and prose reflect his Welsh heritage and his determination to be Welsh Moved by his own personal attraction to the work of Thomas and guided by his careful reading of it William V Davis brings us this excellent collection of essays exploring the distinguished yet controversial poet priest In the autobiographical essay Thomas reveals his passion for his homeland and his ever present hunger for spiritual and natural exploration As I stood in the sun and the sea wind with my shadow falling upon those rocks I certainly was reminded of the transience of human existence and my own in particular As Pindar put it A dream about a shadow is man I began to ponder more the being and nature of God and his relation to the late twentieth century situation which science and technology had created in the western world Where did the ancient world of rock and ocean fit into an environment in which nuclear physics and the computer were playing an increasingly prominent part

Press Record of Books in Print, 1992      Post-Romantic Aesthetics in Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Stefanie John, 2021-06-23 This book demonstrates the legacies of Romanticism which animate the poetry and poetics of Eavan Boland Gillian Clarke John Burnside and Kathleen Jamie It argues that the English Romantic tradition serves as a source of inspiration and critical contention for these Irish Welsh and Scottish poets and it relates this engagement to wider concerns with gender nation and nature which have shaped contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland Covering a substantial number of works from the 1980s to the 2010s the book discusses how Boland and Clarke as women poets from the Republic of Ireland and Wales react to a male dominated and Anglocentric lyric tradition and thus rework notions of the Romantic It examines how Burnside and Jamie challenge adopt and revise Romantic aesthetics of nature and environment The book is the first in depth study to read Boland Clarke Burnside and Jamie as post Romantics By disentangling the aesthetic and critical conceptions of Romanticism which inform their inheritance it develops an innovative approach to the understanding of contemporary poetry and literary influence      Court Poetry in Late Medieval England and Scotland Antony J. Hasler, 2011-03-10 This book explores the anxious and unstable relationship between court poetry and various forms of authority political and cultural in England and Scotland at the beginning of the sixteenth century Through poems by Skelton Dunbar Douglas Hawes Lyndsay and Barclay it examines the paths by which court poetry and its narrators seek multiple forms of legitimation from royal and institutional sources but also in the media of script and print The book is the first for some time to treat English and Scottish material of its period together and responds to European literary contexts the dialogue between vernacular and Latin matter and current critical theory In so doing it claims that public and occasional writing evokes a counter discourse in the secrecies and subversions of medieval love fictions The result is a poetry that queries and at times cancels the very authority to speak that it so proudly promotes      The Cambridge Paperback Guide to Literature in English Ian Ousby, 1996-02-23 Derived from the parent Guide to Literature in English this volume offers in concise form over 4 000 entries on literature in English from cultures throughout the world Writers and major works from the UK and the USA are represented as are those from Canada the Caribbean Australia India and Africa The coverage is broad from the classics of English literature to the best of modern writing Additionally the Guide has a wealth of entries on literary movements groups or schools in literature and criticism literary magazines genres and sub genres critical concepts and rhetorical terms      Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1831
