Family Services Raymond T. Coward, William M. Smith, Jr., 1983-01-01      Emerging Issues in the Delivery of Rural Health Services, 1984      Rural America Caroline S. Kelsohn, 2002 Thomas Jefferson once envisioned the United States as a nation of yeomen farmers Looking around today however illustrates that nothing could be further from the truth In a globalised world and techno centred society urban sprawl is overtaking rural America For over a century farming was the backbone of the American economy and though it is still critical to American productivity many rural areas are plagued by poverty and job reduction Agricultural issues have a hold over national politics as in the debates over farm subsidies but they cannot change several significant trends in America today the movement toward fewer and larger farms environmental pressures from urban and suburban interests and changing food consumption patterns In order to assist the remaining yeomen farmers a comprehensive and integrated agricultural policy must be initiated to sustain the nation s farming communities This book analyses the status of the farm industry in rural America providing a historical context for agriculture and assessing its future for the nation and the information provided in this book is necessary to understanding the nature of what has historically been a key component of American industry and life      Rural Women's Health Raymond T. Coward, PhD, Lisa A. Davis, MHA, Carol H. Gold, PhD, Helen Smiciklas-Wright, PhD, Luanne E. Thorndyke, MD, Fred W. Vondracek, PhD, 2005-11-22 Rural Women s Health encompasses the breadth and depth of the unique physical and psychological needs facing rural women throughout the United States and Canada and identifies positive interventions and outcomes Raymond T Coward founding editor of The Journal of Rural Health along with five leading practitioners and researchers with contributions from over 25 educators authors program leaders and researchers representing the multidisciplinary spectrum of rural health professionals present the most comprehensive coverage on rural women s health that exists today Key issues covered include Socio cultural stressors Policy changes Barriers to accessing mental health treatment Obesity and risk factors Behavioral risk factors Chronic diseases Exercise nutrition and health promotion programs Education and telehealth This is a valuable resource for mental health service providers gerontologists social workers psychologists counselors and primary care physicians      Adolescents and Their Families Richard M. Lerner, Domini R. Castellino, 2013-12-02 First published in 1999 The adolescent period is marked by changes in the biological psychological cognitive and social dimensions of the individual as well as by changes in the adolescents multilevel context i e the peers family school and other institutions in his or her ecology Adolescence is a dynamic period one which exemplifies the importance of understanding the relations between the developing individual and his or her changing context The articles included in this volume represent the current range of scholarship pertaining to adolescents and their families and exemplify the use of such an approach The articles underscore the continual importance of the family across adolescence      Stress, Coping, and Resiliency in Children and Families E. Mavis Hetherington, Elaine A. Blechman, 2014-02-25 Concern with stress and coping has a long history in biomedical psychological and sociological research The inadequacy of simplistic models linking stressful life events and adverse physical and psychological outcomes was pointed out in the early 1980s in a series of seminal papers and books The issues and theoretical models discussed in this work shaped much of the subsequent research on this topic and are reflected in the papers in this volume The shift has been away from identifying associations between risks and outcomes to a focus on factors and processes that contribute to diversity in response to risks Based on the Family Research Consortium's fifth summer institute this volume focuses on stress and adaptability in families and family members The papers explore not only how a variety of stresses influence family functioning but also how family process moderates and mediates the contribution of individual and environmental risk and protective factors to personal adjustment They reveal the complexity of current theoretical models research strategies and analytic approaches to the study of risk resiliency and vulnerability along with the central role risk family process and adaptability play in both normal development and childhood psychopathology

Family Services Raymond T. Coward, William Martin Smith, 1983 Health and Health Care Utilization in Later Life Jon Hendricks, 2019-04-04 The debate over national health insurance has renewed attention on the health and health care utilization of the elderly Few questions have been more poignant than the health of the United States elderly As a broad ranging critical look Health and Health Care Utilization in Later Life brings the central questions facing the elderly into bold relief It spans the range of health concerns the elderly face daily The debates over health care rage often without having the relevant facts Health and Health Care Utilization in Later Life brings the facts to the fore but just as importantly it brings a sensitive feeling for the realities of health as a driving force in the daily lives of old people

Parental Belief Systems Irving E. Sigel, Ann V. McGillicuddy-DeLisi, Jacqueline J Goodnow, 2014-02-25 Research on the topic of parent beliefs or parent cognition has increased tremendously since the original publication of this volume in 1985 For this revised second edition the editors sought to reflect some of the new directions that research on parent cognition has taken By offering a greater variety of topics it gives evidence of the intellectual concerns that now engage researchers in the field and testifies to the expanding scope of their interests Although a unique collection because it reflects the diversity that exists among major researchers in the field it evinces a common theme that the ideas parents have regarding their children and themselves as parents have an impact on their actions This emphasis on parents' ideas shifts the focus on sources of family influence to ideas or beliefs as determinants of family interactions The implication of this way of thinking for practitioners is that it suggests the shift to ideas and thoughts from behavior and attitudes

General Technical Report RM., 1990 Human Services in the Rural Environment, 1996 Contributions of Social Sciences to Multiple-use Management, 1990 Aging in Rural America C. Neil Bull, 1993 Focusing on some of the major issues that have arisen in research of the rural elderly contributors to this book review the literature highlight the controversies and examine methodological and substantive issues in research An introductory section looks at the demographic characteristics of the rural elderly Issues related to resource development are then examined looking at the rural elderly in terms of their social needs their economic contributions to communities the development of senior centres as community focal points and the need for transportation alternatives Physical and mental health issues are also discussed and finally attention is given to social support such as home and community care

Rural Health Nursing Patricia Winstead-Fry, Julia Churchill Tiffany, Raelene V. Shippee-Rice, 1992 Explores the challenges of nursing in the rural environment especially the unique situations encountered and the opportunity for autonomy and creativity on the part of the nurse This book will provide the reader with an examination of rural nursing from the perspectives of theory research education clinical practice and public policy from Back Cover

Rural Nursing Angeline Bushy, 1991-04 Delivering health care to rural populations in comparison to urban populations requires unique considerations due to the geographic social and cultural differences that must be taken into consideration These volumes provide a basis for anticipating issues and options confronting rural nurses in the future The first volume discusses background and theory necessary for the study of rural nursing and vulnerable rural populations such as pregnant women heart patients and people with AIDS Addressing a wide range of concerns of interest to rural nurses Rural Nursing makes a much needed contribution to the literature of the field

Ethnic Elderly and Long-term Care Charles M. Barresi, 1993

Child Poverty in America Today Barbara A. Arrighi, David J. Maume, 2007-05-30 In a 2004 study by the Annie E Casey Ford and Rockefeller Foundations it was reported that a large number of American families are currently faring poorly in their struggle to provide for themselves Low income and poor families were found to contain one third of all of the children in American working families Low wage jobs without benefits mean that families at or below the poverty line live a precarious existence This four volume set is designed to reveal explicate analyze and assess the effects of an inadequate income on children Each volume contains original essays written by an interdisciplinary roster of contributors The first volume Children and the State addresses policy and legislation that affect low income families One issue that is considered in this volume is the lack of a national housing policy in the United States The second volume Health and Medical Issues includes discussions on the status of Medicaid the lack of mental health services available for low income families and the difficult to access healthcare for the rural poor Volume three Families and Children explores the effects of welfare reform especially the issue of childcare and the increased work expectations of parents Other compelling topics in this volume include low income families and the Family and Medical Leave Act poor children and the internet and the increase in economic insecurity among low income families who increasingly live on credit In the final volume The Promise of Education universal pre kindergarten Head Start and the education of immigrant children are all explored
