Amitendu Palit,Gloria Spittel,2012-10-04 At the beginning of the second decade of the new millennium South Asia has emerged as a key regional variable in the contemporary global order The last decade saw the region experiencing a robust phase of economic growth and development Over time South Asia s economic progress is expected to accelerate given its favourable demography and strategic location The prospects of faster economic growth and development however will materialize depending upon the region s success in handling various challenges including security climate change political instability and ethnic strife It is in this context that the Sixth International Conference on South Asia brought together academics and policy specialists to provide insights and contribute to an understanding of the challenges and prospects facing the region in the new decade This volume is a collection of the papers presented at the Conference and assembles a large and diverse set of viewpoints and perceptions on the region Human Capital Formation and Economic Growth in Asia and the Pacific Wendy Dobson, 2013-07-18 The entire planet looks to Asian and other emerging markets to sustain growth momentum as traditional markets in the USA and Europe struggle with the slow and arduous processes of deleveraging after the global financial crisis At the same time there is growing recognition in Asia that the sources of growth must shift to sustain their own growth momentum in the years ahead Heavy reliance on the region's high savings rates and plentiful supplies of low cost labour will have to shift towards increasing the human capital embodied in more educated and skilled labour forces capable of contributing to productivity growth and innovation as future drivers of growth Human Capital Formation and Economic Growth in Asia and the Pacific focuses on why and how countries are making this shift The demographic transition is shown to be a significant factor as ageing populations in Japan South Korea and China manage declining growth in the labour force by stepping up investments in education and by changing policies and institutions Lessons to be learned from these experiences by more youthful populations in Southeast Asia are explored In addition attention is paid to the consequences of cross border differentials in technical knowledge and the quantity and quality of human capital Several implications for public policy and for international cooperation on human capital issues in the Asian region are identified The chapters in this volume are edited versions of papers presented at the 35th Pacific Trade and Development conference held in Vancouver Canada in June 2012 The conference goal was to better understand how governments and business in Asia and the Pacific can apply the key insight that one of the reasons economies grow is because of human capital formation the quality and diversity of the labour force are augmented not just because the labour force grows in size Students of Asia's growth prospects will find several aspects of this volume of particular value It includes chapters on the big picture conceptual and measurement issues on country experiences in meeting the imperatives of the demographic transition and investing in education and skills training and on country experiences with attracting foreign knowledge and the supply and recruitment of skills across borders in Asia and the Pacific Policymakers will also find useful the discussions of policy implications and the menu of issues requiring intergovernmental cooperation within the Asian region

The Challenge Of Making Cities Liveable In East Asia John Wong, Liang Fook Lye, 2016-06-03 The rate of urbanisation will accelerate in the years ahead The massive influx of people to cities will result in the demand for more services expending more resources and generating more waste The forces of globalisation and better connectivity will hasten this urbanisation process Although the developed and developing countries in East Asia are at different stages of development they have to grapple with the common challenge of improving the quality of life for urban residents and making cities liveable This book brings together a collection of articles that traces the process of urbanisation in selected countries in East Asia including the achievements and challenges encountered. It seeks to promote the sharing of best practices and experiences that can be a reference for governments and relevant stakeholders to facilitate the process of urbanisation that brings about the greatest benefits to residents and lessens the negative impact on the environment.

Transition and Challenge Zhongwei Zhao, Fei Guo, 2007-02-22 With the largest population in the world, China has experienced significant demographic, social and economic changes in recent decades. Extraordinary demographic changes took place in China in the second half of the twentieth century, having wide-ranging consequences. This book, written by a group of leading experts, examines these profound changes in an effort to understand their long-term impact and provide an up-to-date account of China's demographic reality. The volume provides a comprehensive and authoritative analysis of a wide range of issues such as China's unprecedented family planning program, the impact of falling birth rates coupled with increasing life expectancy, changes in marriage patterns and increasing rural-urban migration. Anyone who is interested in China and its recent demographic changes will benefit from the rich materials and thorough analysis provided in this book.

America's Challenge Michael D. Swaine, 2012-05-01 The emergence of the People's Republic of China on the world scene constitutes the most significant event in world politics since the end of World War II. As the world's predominant political, economic and military power, the United States faces a particularly significant challenge in responding to China's rising power and influence, especially in Asia. Offering a fresh perspective on current and future U.S. policy toward China, Michael Swaine examines the basic interests and beliefs behind U.S.-China relations, recent U.S. and Chinese policy practices in seven key areas, and future trends most likely to affect U.S. policy. American leaders, he concludes, must reexamine certain basic assumptions and approaches regarding America's position in the Western Pacific, integrate China policy more effectively into a broader Asian strategy, and recalibrate the U.S. balance between cooperative engagement and deterrence toward Beijing.

Emerging Asia Challen: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Emerging Asia Challen : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
