Racial Migrations Jesse Hoffnung-Garskof, 2021-05-04 The gripping history of Afro Latino migrants who conspired to overthrow a colonial monarchy end slavery and secure full citizenship in their homelands In the late nineteenth century a small group of Cubans and Puerto Ricans of African descent settled in the segregated tenements of New York City At an immigrant educational society in Greenwich Village these early Afro Latino New Yorkers taught themselves to be poets journalists and revolutionaries At the same time these individuals including Rafael Serra a cigar maker writer and politician Sotero Figueroa a typesetter editor and publisher and Gertrudis Heredia one of the first women of African descent to study midwifery at the University of Havana built a political network and articulated an ideal of revolutionary nationalism centered on the projects of racial and social justice These efforts were critical to the poet and diplomat Jos Mart s writings about race and his bid for leadership among Cuban exiles and to the later struggle to create space for black political participation in the Cuban Republic In Racial Migrations Jesse Hoffnung Garskof presents a vivid portrait of these largely forgotten migrant revolutionaries weaving together their experiences of migrating while black their relationships with African American civil rights leaders and their evolving participation in nationalist political movements By placing Afro Latino New Yorkers at the center of the story Hoffnung Garskof offers a new interpretation of the revolutionary politics of the Spanish Caribbean including the idea that Cuba could become a nation without racial divisions A model of transnational and comparative research Racial Migrations reveals the complexities of race making within migrant communities and the power of small Reconstruction and Empire David Prior, 2022-02-15 This groups of immigrants to transform their home societies volume examines the historical connections between the United States Reconstruction and the country's emergence as a geopolitical power a few decades later It shows how the processes at work during the postbellum decade variously foreshadowed inhibited and conditioned the development of the United States as an overseas empire and regional hegemon In doing so it links the diverse topics of abolition diplomacy Jim Crow humanitarianism and imperialism In 1935 the great African American intellectual W E B Du Bois argued in his Black Reconstruction in America that these two historical moments were intimately related In particular Du Bois averred that the nation s betrayal of the South s fledgling interracial democracy in the 1870s put reactionaries in charge of a country on the verge of global power with world historical implications Working with the same chronological and geographical parameters the contributors here take up targeted case studies tracing the biographical ideological and thematic linkages that stretch across the postbellum and imperial moments With an Introduction eleven chapters and an Afterword this volume offers multiple perspectives based on original primary source research The resulting composite picture points to a host of countervailing continuities and changes The contributors examine topics as diverse as diplomatic relations with Spain the changing views of radical abolitionists African American missionaries in the Caribbean and the ambiguities of turn of the century political cartoons Collectively the volume unsettles familiar assumptions about how we should understand the late nineteenth century United States conventionally framed as the Gilded Age and Progressive Era It also advances transnational approaches to understanding America's Reconstruction and the search for the ideological currents shaping American power abroad Freedom's Captives Yesenia Barragan, 2021-07 Freedom's Captives offers a compelling narrative driven history of the gradual abolition of slavery in the majority black Colombian Pacific The Bonds of Freedom Jake Subryan Richards, 2025-09-02 The story of the long fight for freedom of African captives rescued from the illegal slave trade only to be forced back into bondage The Bonds of Freedom tells the forgotten story of people seized from slave ships by maritime patrols liberated then forced into bonded labor between 1807 and 1880 Using extensive archival research from Sierra Leone South Africa Brazil Cuba the United Kingdom and the United States historian Jake Subryan Richards uncovers the contrasting ideas and practices of authoritarianism and freedom that empires and liberated Africans developed during the protracted end of the illegal slave trade Following the Africans journeys from enslavement to liberation Richards recounts their capture and embarkation on ships that participated in the vast slave trade to Brazil and Cuba the maritime seizure of those ships and the adjudication that assigned freed captives to bonded labor The captives fought against their bondage as state agents limited their freedom of choice and movement The liberated Africans story shows that far from following a straightforward path to freedom these men and women navigated anti slave trade laws that both subjected them to authoritarian control and provided a domain for them to create their own visions of freedom Through meticulous research and engaging narrative Richards sheds light on their legal battles community building efforts and ongoing quest for justice and autonomy in the face of enduring challenges

Colonialism and Race in Luso-Hispanic Literature Jerome Branche, 2006 Branche examines a wide variety of Latin American literature and discourse to show the extent and range of racist sentiments throughout the culture He argues that racism in the modern period 1415 1948 was a tool used to advance Spanish and Portuguese expansion colonial enterprise and the international development of capitalism Provided by publisher Cuban Studies 31 Lisandro Perez, Uva de Aragon, 2000-12-15 Cuban Studies has been published annually by the University of Pittsburgh Press since 1985 Founded in 1970 it is the preeminent journal for scholarly work on Cuba Each volume includes articles in both English and Spanish a large book review section and an exhaustive compilation of recent works in the field Patchwork Freedoms Adriana Chira, 2022-02-17 In nineteenth century Santiago de Cuba the island of Cuba s radical cradle Afro descendant peasants forged freedom and devised their own formative path to emancipation Drawing on understudied archives this pathbreaking work unearths a new history of Black rural geography and popular legalism and offers a new framework for thinking about nineteenth century Black freedom Santiago de Cuba s Afro descendant peasantries did not rely on liberal abolitionist ideologies as a primary reference point in their struggle for rights Instead they negotiated their freedom and land piecemeal through colonial legal frameworks that allowed for local custom and manumission While gradually wearing down the institution of slavery through litigation and self purchase they reimagined colonial racial systems before Cuba s intellectuals had their say Long before residents of Cuba protested for national independence and island wide emancipation in 1868 it was Santiago s Afro descendant peasants who gradually and invisibly laid the groundwork for emancipation Spanish Colonialism Christopher Schmidt-Nowara, John M. Nieto-Phillips, 2005 Scholars from Spain Latin America the Caribbean and the United States discuss historical writings of the past and how our understanding of the colonial era has been influenced by the expectations of the day Transatlantic Bondage Lissette Acosta Corniel, 2024-06-01 This groundbreaking volume addresses the enslavement and experiences of Black Africans in Spain and the Spanish Caribbean particularly La Espa ola or Hispaniola and Puerto Rico two of the earliest colonies Spanning nearly four hundred years and rooted in extensive archival research Transatlantic Bondage sheds light on a number of relatively underexamined topics in these locales including the development and application of slavery laws disobedience and its consequences migration gender family lifestyle and community building among the free Black population and white allies In bringing together new and recent work by leading scholars including two essays translated into English here for the first time the book is also a call for further study of slavery in the Spanish Caribbean and its impact on the region Myths of Harmony Marixa Lasso,2007-08-12 This book centers on a foundational moment for Latin American racial constructs While most contemporary scholarship has focused the explanation for racial tolerance or its lack in the colonial period Marixa Lasso argues that the key to understanding the origins of modern race relations are to be found later in the Age of Revolution Lasso rejects the common assumption that subalterns were passive and alienated from Creole led patriot movements and instead demonstrates that during Colombia's revolution free blacks and mulattos pardos actively joined and occasionally even led the cause to overthrow the Spanish colonial government As part of their platform patriots declared legal racial equality for all citizens and promulgated an ideology of harmony and fraternity for Colombians of all colors The fact that blacks were mentioned as equals in the discourse of the revolution and later served in republican government posts was a radical political departure These factors were instrumental in constructing a powerful myth of racial equality a myth that would fuel revolutionary activity throughout Latin America Thus emerged a historical paradox central to Latin American nation building the coexistence of the principle of racial equality with actual racism at the very inception of the republic Ironically the discourse of equality meant that grievances of racial discrimination were construed as unpatriotic and divisive acts in its most extreme form blacks were accused of preparing a race war Lasso s work brings much needed attention to the important role of the anticolonial struggles in shaping the nature of contemporary race relations and racial identities in Latin America
