Psychomanagement Robert Spillane, 2017-04-28 The ultimate test of management is performance the achievement of actual results Why then do Australian managers concern themselves with their colleagues personalities and motives Why have they become infatuated with emotional intelligence and in bizarre cases with spiritual intelligence Traditionally managers who performed earned the right to argue with their colleagues Nowadays individuals who argue are said to lack soft skills while a sad few are thought to be suffering from a personality disorder The popularity of soft skill management has created psychomanagers managers who have entered into a Faustian bargain with psychologists Some managers work with psychologists to master themselves others work with psychologists to master other people As psychomanagement requires specialised knowledge many Australian managers have yielded their authority to counsellors coaches and consultants many of whom believe that human behaviour is determined by internal and external forces over which individuals have little or no control Accordingly psychologists have laboured to absorb the idea of the free and responsible individual into a pseudo scientific framework that denies moral agency The result is that ideas of right and wrong have been replaced with healthy and sick In their pursuit of a therapeutic state psychologists have medicalised morality and managers have embraced powerful myths about minds motive forces personality traits social conditioning leadership occupational stress and mental illness Consequently the twin ideas of personal freedom and responsibility have been sabotaged Freud Maslow Eysenck Skinner and other influential psychologists have denied or minimised the importance of personal responsibility And insofar as managers have entered into an unholy alliance with them they too have minimised personal responsibility at the workplace This book is about Australian managers and their long standing love affair with psychologists For fifty years the author has studied taught and consulted with managers and waltzed with several famous psychologists and an infamous psychiatrist Fortunately they represented both sides of the debate about personal responsibility and human freedom This book is therefore a personal and selective account of a professional life spent studying the problematic relationship between managers and psychologists Human Resource Management Theory and Research on New Employment Relationships Dianna L. Stone, James H. Dulebohn, 2016-10-01 This volume of the series Research in Human Resource Management HRM focuses on a number of important issues in HRM and OB including performance appraisal political skill gratitude psychological contracts the philosophical underpinnings of HRM pay and compensation messages and electronic human resource management For example the first article by Cleveland and Murphy considers a very controversial issue i e the reasons that organizations are abandoning the use of performance appraisal The next article by Harris Ferris Summers and Munyon is extremely interesting and focuses on how composite political skills e g social astuteness interpersonal influence helps individuals develop productive work relationships in organizations The third article by Scandura and Sharif presents a very innovative model of gratitude in organizations and the authors argue that gratitude is essential for maintaining positive social relations in organizations The fourth article by Suazo and Stone Romero provides an extremely comprehensive review of the theory and research on psychological contracts in organizations from 1960 2015 The subsequent article by Bae Kang and Kim presents a very unique perspective on HRM and considers the philosophical underpinnings of the field The sixth article by Murray Dulebohn Roehling and Werling presents a very innovative model to explain the role that organizational messages about changes in pay or compensation systems have on anticipatory pay satisfaction The final article in the series by Johnson Thatcher and Burleson presents a thought provoking framework for understanding the key role that information technology IT plays in the field of HRM The series should be useful to researchers and doctoral students in the fields of HRM OB and Industrial and Organizational Psychology It should also be relevant for doctoral courses and scientist practitioners in these fields Social Security Outside the Realm of the Employment Contract Mies Westerveld, Marius Olivier, 2019 All over the world countries face the challenge of inadequate social security coverage for workers without an employment contract In countries of the global south this phenomenon is a natural consequence of large informal economies Countries in the global north increasingly witness the same issue due to growing labour market flexibility flex contracts dependent self employment digitization of labour In this book authors from both hemispheres exchange insights experiments and practices with the intention of finding better ways to deal with the social security challenges facing workers Employee Relations in Context David Farnham, 2000-02

Labor Negotiations Richard E. Walton, Robert B. McKersie, 1991 In this book Walton and McKersie attempt to describe a comprehensive theory of labor negotiation The authors abstract and analyze four sets of systems of activities which they believe account for much of the behavior found in labor negotiations The first system of activities termed distributive bargaining comprises competitive behaviors that are intended to influence the division of limited resources The second system is made up of activities that increase the joint gain available to the negotiating parties referred to as integrative bargaining They are problem solving behaviors and other activities which identify enlarge and act upon the common interests of the parties The third system includes activities that influence the attitudes of the parties toward each other and affect the basic relationship bonds between the social units involved This process is referred to as attitudinal structuring The fourth system of activities which occurs as an integral aspect of the inter party negotiations comprises the behaviors of a negotiator that are meant to achieve consensus within one's own organizations This fourth process is called intra organizational bargaining Each sub process has its own set of instrumental acts or tactics Therefore each of the four model chapters is followed by a chapter on the tactics which implement the process These chapters translate the model into tactical assignments and include an abundance of supporting illustrations from actual negotiations This study should be of interest to several audiences including students and teachers of industrial relations social scientists interested in the general field of conflict resolution as well as practitioners of collective bargaining and other individuals directly involved in international negotiations The overall theoretical framework has been derived by a mixture of inductive and deductive reasoning Extensive fieldwork and several dozen printed case studies have provided the bulk of the empirical data In terms of meaning the study has three touchstones the field of collective bargaining the field of conflict resolutions and the underlying disciplines of economics psychology and sociology Handbook of Hospitality Human Resources Management Dana Tesone, 2008-09-10 Handbook of Hospitality Human Resources Management is an authoritative resource comprising an edited collection of papers which review and discuss this crucial aspect of hospitality whilst illustrating how theories and concepts can be applied to the hospitality industry Written by internationally recognized practitioners and academics this book provides thorough reviews and discussions The depth and coverage of each topic is unprecedented A must read for hospitality researchers and educators students and industry practitioners Managing the Psychological Contract ABM Abdullah, 2017-05-23 This book explores the differences between Western and non Western cultures to provide a more comprehensive understanding of psychological contract and its consequences on employees behavioral attitudinal and cognitive outcomes Further it discusses the culturally relevant elements of HR practices that affect employee expectations job satisfaction commitment and motivation based on their perceptions of the level of fulfilment of their psychological contract Integrating both qualitative and quantitative methods it is the first book to examine the current state of the South Asian workforce and will advance research on industrial relations employee relationship management and corporate
