Empowering Networks Computer Conferencing In Education:

Empowering Networks Michael Waggoner, 1992 Collaborative Learning Through Computer Conferencing Anthony R. Kaye, 2012-12-06 The idea for the Workshop on which this book is based arose from discussions which we had when we both attended an earlier and more broadly based NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Computer Supported Collaborative Learning directed by Claire O Malley in Maratea Italy in 1989 We both felt that it would be interesting to organise a second Workshop in this area but specifically concerned with the use of computers and networking telematics as communication tools for collaborative learning outside the formal school setting We were particularly interested in examining the ways in which computer conferencing can be used for collaboration and group learning in the contexts of distance education adult learning professional training and organisational networking And we wanted to ensure that we included in the scope of the Workshop situations in which learning is a primary explicit goal e g an online training programme as well as situations where learning occurs as a secondary even incidental outcome of a collaborative activity whose explicit purpose might be different e g the activities of networked product teams or task groups Another goal was to try to bring together for a few days people with three different perspectives on the use of computer conferencing users researchers and software designers We hoped that if we could assemble a group of people from these three different constituencies we might collectively be able to make a small contribution to real progress in the field Educational Technology in the Classroom Patricia Ann Brock, 1994

Collaborative Dialogue Technologies in Distance Learning M. Felisa Verdejo, Stefano A. Cerri, 2012-12-06 In April 1993 an interdisciplinary NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Collaborative dialogue technologies in distance learning was held in Segovia Spain The workshop brought together researchers in fields related to distance learning using computer mediated communication The statement of justification of the NATO ARW follows hereafter Justification of the NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Collaborative Dialogue Technologies in Distance Learning Computer Mediated Communication CMC systems have features that reduce some temporal physical and social constraints on communication Theories of communication have shifted from viewing communication as a linear transmission of messages by a sender to a receiver to viewing it as a social paradigm where individuals are actors in a network of interdependent relationships embedded in organizational and social structures Recent research focuses on models of information sharing to support not only the activities of individuals but also the problem solving activities of groups such as decision making planning or co writing This area of research is called Computer Supported Cooperative Work CSCW The Artificial Intelligence AI approach uses knowledge based systems to enhance and facilitate all these processes including the possibility of using natural language The traditional model of distance education places a strong emphasis on independent study supported by well developed learning materials This model can be characterized as one way media However the potential of CMC to provide better guidance to the student in Higher Distance Education has been quickly recognized for at least two kind of activities information sharing and

Teaching as a Design Science Diana Laurillard, 2013-06-19 Teaching is changing It is no longer simply about passing on knowledge to the next generation Teachers in the twenty first century in all educational sectors have to cope with an ever changing cultural and technological environment Teaching is now a design science Like other design professionals architects engineers programmers teachers have to work out creative and evidence based ways of improving what they do Yet teaching is not treated as a design profession Every day teachers design and test new ways of teaching using learning technology to help their students Sadly their discoveries often remain local By representing and communicating their best ideas as structured pedagogical patterns teachers could develop this vital professional knowledge collectively Teacher professional development has not embedded in the teacher's everyday role the idea that they could discover something worth communicating to other teachers or build on each others ideas Could the culture change From this unique perspective on the nature of teaching Diana Laurillard argues that a twenty first century education system needs teachers who work collaboratively to design effective and innovative teaching

Advanced Educational Technology: Research Issues and Future Potential Thomas T. Liao,2012-12-06 As we approach the 21st century the need to better link research findings and practical applications of advanced educational technologies AET continues to be a priority During the five year NATO Special Programme on AET many advanced study institutes and research workshops focused on building bridges between researchers in and users of educational technology The organizing committee of the final capstone workshop which took place in September 1993 also chose to focus on this theme Three position papers written by members of the AET advisory committee provided the background and platform for the two day workshop that was designed to provide guidelines for future AET research and implementation projects Nicolas Balacheff kicked off the workshop with a philosophical review of the research issues and future research agendas Herman Bouma and his colleagues at the Institute for Perception Research discussed implementation issues and problems of technology transfer from research laboratories to educational product development

Computer Supported Collaborative Writing Mike Sharples,2012-12-06 M Sharples 1 1 The Collaborative Tradition Collaborative writing is nothing new The description below is from the introduction to a book published in 1911 Every page however has been debated and passed by the three of us Our usual method has been first to pick up a subject that interested us perhaps a subject we had been talking about for a long while then to discuss it and argue over it ashore and afloat in company and by ourselves till we came to our joint conclusion Then on a rough day in a set to discussion I would take down notes which frequently amounted in length to more than half the finished article From the notes I would make a rough draft which after more discussion would be re written and again after revision typewritten We would go through the printer s proofs together and finally after reading the matter in print we have once more revised it for book publication Collaboration could not be more thorough Reynolds et al 1911 p x The book Seems So A Working class View of Politics was written by an aca demic working closely with two fishermen
