Abed El Rahman Hassoun, Adrienne J. Sutton, Sam Dupont, Jose Martin Hernandez-Ayon, Xianghui Guo, 2025-04-15 Ocean acidification is a global phenomenon with local effects Marine ecosystems are facing multiple stressors leading to significant changes Time series observations are the basis to understand these changes and distinguishing between natural and anthropogenic variability of physical chemical and biological components of marine environments Moreover field monitoring is often neglected as a tool to document the responses of marine organisms and key habitats to ocean acidification Time series observations of ocean acidification are thus critical to understanding the current threats that the ocean's ecosystems are witnessing and efficiently developing and implementing adaptation and mitigation solutions Time series dedicated to observing ocean acidification other stressors as well as biological parameters are the baseline for long term assessment of the ocean's health and for evaluating the efficiency of local and global actions toward achieving climate targets. Therefore the goal of this Research Topic is to highlight the latest research efforts conducted to document ocean acidification patterns and trends and their consequences on marine life. In this issue we will focus on new and old time series stations efforts to bridge physical, chemical and biological observations and their application for modeling and future projections.

Interactions of Land, Ocean and Humans Chris Maser, 2014-10-14 Written by Chris Maser one of the architects of the sustainability movement Interactions of Land Ocean and Humans A Global Perspective explores a critical number of the myriad aspects that comprise the great reciprocal feedback loops between the mountain peaks the deep sea and everywhere in between Maser s exploration of these connections gives us the tools required to open our imaginations and our scientific literacy offering insights into the relationships between the land sea and people that could influence us toward better decisions The author examines the hydrological cycle hydrological continuum and anthropogenic pollution of various kinds from the atmosphere to deep belowground He also highlights connections by detailing how human behavior changes the atmosphere which changes the oceans which alters the climate which alters the atmosphere and thus the ocean and so on The book then explores the biophysical commonalities between landscapes and seascapes as well as the habitats in each realm It covers marine fisheries marine protected areas oceans as a commodity as part of the global commons as a biophysical living trust for which we are the trustees and the children of today and beyond are the beneficiaries and more Can we arrest this deleterious process Yes but it will take a dramatic shift in human behavior worldwide Why Because just as the collective human behavior and lack of awareness caused the problems in the first place the level of consciousness that caused the problem is not the level of consciousness that can fix it We must shift our thinking from that which is symptomatic to that which is systemic if we are to have a sustainably productive environment through time Maser gives us the understanding of the biophysical interactions among the lands oceans and peoples of the world needed to create sustainable solutions to environmental problems
