Southern Writers at Century's End Jeffrey J. Folks, James A. Perkins, 2021-12-14 Since the end of World War II the South has experienced a greater awareness of growth and of its accompanying tensions than other regions of the United States The rapid change that climaxed with the war in Vietnam the Cold War civil rights demonstrations and Watergate has forced the traditional South to come to terms with social upheaval As the essays collected in Southern Writers at Century's End point out southern writing since 1975 reflects the confusion and violence that have characterized late twentieth century public culture These essays consider the work of twenty one of the foremost southern writers whose most important fiction has appeared in the last quarter of this century As the region's contemporary writers have begun to gain a wide audience critics have begun to distinguish what Hugh Holman has called the fresh the vital and the new in southern literary culture Southern Writers at Century's End is the first volume to take an extensive look at the current generation of southern writers Authors considered include James Lee Burke Fred Chappell Robert Drake Andre Dubus Clyde Edgerton Richard Ford Kaye Gibbons John Grisham Barry Hannah Mary Hood Josephine Humphreys Randall Kenan Richard Marius Bobbie Ann Mason Cormac McCarthy Tim McLaurin T R Pearson Lee Smith Anne Tyle r Alice Walker and James Wilcox

Possessing the Past Lisa Hinrichsen, 2015-06-15 Employing recent theories of memory from multiple areas of study Possessing the Past illuminates the tangled relationships among trauma fantasy and the public sphere and their impact on the South in imagination and in reality Focusing on the roles that narrative and fantasy play in creating a sense of regional distinctiveness Lisa Hinrichsen brings a wealth of critical scholarship to her consideration of memory and southern literature Hinrichsen's nuanced readings of a diverse group of southern authors including William Faulkner Roberto Fernandez Erna Brodber Monique Truong and Katharine Du Pre Lumpkin offer new ways of conceptualizing memory place and history She unravels southern literature's critical confrontation with the region's history through complex systems of remembrance and erasure and she traces how fantasy mediates trauma and adjudicates identity Expansive in its psychoanalytical approach her work explores issues of law testimony and social justice the role of nostalgic fantasies of gentility at midcentury the relationship between white empathy and social fantasy the resemblance of regional patterns of disavowal to national ideologies of forgetting in Vietnam era fiction and the impact of contemporary multicultural literature on memory and community Possessing the Past broadens the theoretical framework used to conceptualize memory and trauma while grounding traumatic testimony in the specifics of time and place amply offered by southern literature It provides new readings of an array of southern writers and deepens our understanding of the continuing importance of history memory and fantasy in the literature of the U S South Southern

Rough South, Rural South Jean W. Cash, Keith Perry, 2016-02-12 Essays in Rough South Rural South describe and discuss the work of southern writers who began their careers in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries They fall into two categories Some born into the working class strove to become writers and learned without benefit of higher education such writers as Larry Brown and William Gay Others came from lower or middle class backgrounds and became writers through practice and education Dorothy Allison Tom Franklin Tim Gautreaux Clyde Edgerton Kaye Gibbons Silas House Jill McCorkle Chris Offutt Ron Rash Lee Smith Brad Watson Daniel Woodrell and Steve Yarbrough Their twenty first century colleagues are Wiley Cash Peter Farris Skip Horack Michael Farris Smith Barb Johnson and Jesmyn Ward In his seminal article Erik Bledsoe distinguishes Rough South writers from such writers as William Faulkner and Erskine Caldwell Younger writers who followed Harry Crews were born into and write about the Rough South These writers undercut stereotypes forcing readers to see the working poor differently The next pieces begin with those on Crews and Cormac McCarthy major influences on an entire generation Later essays address members of both groups the self educated and the college educated Both groups share a clear understanding of the value of working class southerners Nearly all of the writers hold a reverence for the South's landscape and its inhabitants as well as an affinity for realistic depictions of setting and characters

Vietnam and the Southern Imagination Owen W. Gilman, 1992 Much recent fiction from the American South has spotlighted the American ordeal in Vietnam and a generation of southern writers has been imaginatively preoccupied with ironic parallels that rise out of the Vietnam experience and their own region's tragic past This stimulating study of American cultural history discovers the powerful and intriguing links It shows how profoundly the Vietnam experience has penetrated the imaginations of some of America's most acclaimed writers and how their compulsive sense of southern history unites their vision with the history of the Vietnam War Set against the backdrop of their homeland Vietnam reveals striking parallels Works by a profusion of southern writers have disclosed this astonishing connection in their heritage James Webb Bobbie Ann Mason Jayne Anne Phillips Clyde Edgerton Madison Smartt Bell Barry Hannah Winston Groom Gustav Hasford Harry Crews Larry Brown Sydney Blair Pat Conroy David Huddle Yusef Komunyakaa and Walter McDonald have found in Vietnam many provocative echoes of fundamental issues that first came to a head in the American Civil War Out of the past the issue of race and the dedication to the land remain distinct themes in contemporary southern fiction about Vietnam This absorbing study of cultural echoes that have charged the creative imaginations of fifteen southern writers unites shades of the southern past with the reality of the American present Both periods have evinced an alarming impulse toward violence In this context James Dickey's Deliverance although not a novel about Vietnam becomes a paradigm of force and southern violence It serves to reveal the modern southern storyteller's imaginative vision of violence both past and present Whether writing of soldiers at war or of the tumult at home whether expressing the persisting anxiety about race relations or sustaining the community through storytelling southern writers have found in Vietnam a weirdly revelatory mirror of their own cultural heritage
