Flora Portrayed:

Portraying the Lady Donatella Izzo, 2001-01-01 From Daisy Miller to Isabel Archer to Maisie female characters dominate the work of Henry James and often critical discussion of James's work Donatella Izzo shifts that discussion to a different more revealing plane in this original interpretation of James's short fiction By redirecting criticism from a biographical emphasis to a focus on James's engagement with the issues of representation Izzo shows how these short stories actually question and investigate the cultural and ideological practices that produced women both in literature and in society Portraying the Lady brings to light the experimental quality and inherent consistency of stories that have received little critical attention all of which revolve around ideas at the core of the cultural representation of femininity at the time Izzo shows how James by testing and stretching these ideas in his imagery and plots exposed and exploded the perverse logic and the ultimate implications of such culturally shared versions of femininity thus revealing their oppressive quality for women and laying bare literature's complicity in reproducing and circulating them Exposing James's texts as sensitive registers of women's roles during the Victorian Edwardian era this book demonstrates that his texts make readers aware of how those stereotypes operated Blending literary art and feminist criticism with narratological analysis and postmodern theory this groundbreaking work restores a formal awareness to James studies within the wider theoretical concerns of feminist gender and cultural critiques

The Figure of the Nymph in Early Modern Culture, 2018-03-20 Throughout the early modern period the nymph remained a powerful figure that inspired and informed the cultural imagination in many different ways Far from being merely a symbol of the classical legacy the nymph was invested with a surprisingly broad range of meanings Working on the basis of these assumptions and thus challenging Aby Warburg's famous reflections on the nympha that both portrayed her as cultural archetype and reduced her to a marginal figure the contributions in this volume seek to uncover the multifarious roles played by nymphs in literature drama music the visual arts garden architecture and indeed intellectual culture tout court and thereby explore the true significance of this well known figure for the early modern age Contributors Barbara Baert Mira Becker Sawatzky Agata Anna Chrzanowska Karl Enenkel Wolfgang Fuhrmann Michaela Kaufmann Andreas Keller Eva Bettina Krems Damaris Leimgruber Tobias Leuker Christian Peters Christoph Pieper Bernd Roling and Anita Traninger

Appalachian Ecocriticism and the Paradox of Place Laura Wright, Jessica Cory, 2023-05 Ecocriticism and Appalachian studies continue to grow and thrive in academia as they expand on their foundational works to move in new and exciting directions When researching these areas separately there is a wealth of information However when researching Appalachian ecocriticism specifically the lack of consolidated scholarship is apparent With Appalachian Ecocriticism and the Paradox of Place editors Jessica Cory and Laura Wright have created the only book length scholarly collection of Appalachian ecocriticism Appalachian Ecocriticism and the Paradox of Place is a collection of scholarly essays that engage environmental and ecocritical theories and Appalachian literature and film These essays many from well established Appalachian studies and southern studies scholars and ecocritics engage with a variety of ecocritical methodologies including ecofeminism ecospiritualism queer ecocriticism and materialist ecocriticism to name a few Adding Appalachian voices to the larger ecocritical discourse is vital not only for the sake of increased diversity but also to allow those unfamiliar with the region and its works to better understand the Appalachian region in a critical and authentic way Including Appalachia in the larger ecocritical community allows for the study of how the region its issues and its texts intersect with a variety of communities thus allowing boundless possibilities for learning and analysis

Reconstructing Violence Deborah E. Barker, 2015-11-11 In this bold study of cinematic depictions of violence in the south Deborah E Barker explores the ongoing legacy of the southern rape complex in American film Taking as her starting point D W Griffith s infamous Birth of a Nation Barker demonstrates how the tropes and imagery of the southern rape complex continue to assert themselves across a multitude of genres time periods and stylistic modes Drawing from Gilles Deleuze s work on cinema Barker examines plot dialogue and camera technique as she considers several films The Story of Temple Drake 1933 Sanctuary 1958 Touch of Evil 1958 To Kill a Mockingbird 1962 and Cape Fear 1962 Placing this body of analysis in the context of the historical periods when these films appeared and the literary sources on which they are based Barker reveals the protean power of cinematic racialized violence amid the shifting cultural and political landscapes of the South and the nation as a whole By focusing on familiar literary and cinematic texts each produced or set during moments of national crisis such as the Great Depression or the civil rights movement Barker s Reconstructing Violence offers fresh insights into the anxiety that has underpinned sexual and racial violence in cinematic representations of the South

The Comic Mind Gerald Mast, 1979-09-15 Although books on the comedies of the silent era abound few have attempted to survey film comedy as a whole its history and evolution how the philosophical visions of its greatest artists and directors have shaped its traditions and how these visions have informed both the meaning and manner of their work Blending information with interpretation description with analysis Mast traces the development of screen comedy from the first crude efforts of Edison and Lumi re to the subtlety and psychological complexity of Annie Hall As he guides the reader through detailed discussions of specific films Mast reveals the structures the values and the cinematic techniques which have appeared and reappeared in comic cinema The second edition of The Comic Mind treats the comic developments of the 1970s in terms of the traditions of film comedy set forth in the first edition including a discussion of the evolution of Jacques Tati and the emergence of Mel Brooks and Woody Allen as the two greatest American comic stylists of the seventies The most comprehensive study of film comedy yet written in English The book s extensive index with references to companies from which 16mm prints of many of the cited films may be rented will be of great value to the film teacher and audiovisual librarian Choice

Cultivated Power Elizabeth Hyde, 2005-03-07 Cultivated Power explores the collection cultivation and display of flowers in early modern France at the historical moment when flowering plants many of which were becoming known in Europe for the first time piqued the curiosity of European gardeners and botanists merchants and ministers dukes and kings Elizabeth Hyde reveals how flowers became uniquely capable of revealing the curiosity reason and taste of those elite men who engaged in their cultivation The cultural and increasingly political value of such qualities was not lost on royal panegyrists who seized upon the new meanings of flowers in celebrating the glory of Louis XIV Using previously unexplored archival sources Hyde recovers the extent of floral plantations in the gardens of Versailles and the sophisticated system of nurseries created to fulfill the demands of the king s gardeners She further examines how the successful cultivation of those flowers made it possible for Louis XIV to demonstrate that his reign was a golden era surpassing even that of antiquity Cultivated Power expands our knowledge of flowers in European history beyond the Dutch tulip mania and restores our understanding of the importance of flowers in the French classical garden The book also develops a fuller perspective on the roles of gender rank and material goods in the age of the baroque Using flowers to analyze the movement of culture in early modern society Cultivated Power ultimately highlights the influence of curious florists on the taste of the king and the extension of the cultural into the realm of the political Jet ,1998-11-09
