Francis Bacon And The Loss Of Self:

Francis Bacon and the Loss of Self Ernst van Alphen, 1993 Since his death in April 12 Francis Bacon has been acclaimed as one of the very greatest of modern painters Yet most analyses of Bacon actually neutralize his work by discussing it as an existential expression and as the horrifying communication of an isolated individual which simply transfers the pain in the paintings back to Bacon himself This study is the first attempt to account for the pain of the viewer It is also most challengingly an explanation of what Bacon's art tells us about ourselves as individuals For during this very personal investigation the author comes to realize that the effect of Bacon's work is founded upon the way that each of us carves our identity out of the inchoate evidence of our senses using the conventions of representation as tools It is in his warping of these conventions of the senses rather than in the superficial distortion of his images that Bacon most radically confronts art and ourselves as individuals Francis Bacon and the Loss of Self Ernst van Alphen, 1992

Bridging the Interpretive Abyss Luis Menéndez-Antuña, 2025-04-04 As readers and interpreters how might our understanding of the New Testament change if unlike historicism with its colonizing agenda and its focus on ancient contexts we took contemporary global crises including mass incarceration a pervasive culture of torture the HIV pandemic and the legacies of enslavement as our starting point for reading biblical texts Luis Menéndez Antuña demonstrates how a cultural studies approach that centers twenty first century queer existence and experiences of suffering illuminates rather than obscures ancient New Testament contexts Each chapter weaves together a biblical text different works of art and a political crisis This hermeneutical approach bridges the abyss between the past and present the Global North and the Global South biblical scholarship humanities and social sciences Readers coming to the New Testament text with political and ethical concerns will find new emancipatory strategies making this volume essential reading for scholars and students Bodies in China Eva Kit Wah Man, 2019-01-15 This book seeks to engage Chinese philosophy to reframe existing Western scholarship in the fields of gender body and aesthetics The assembled essays cover traditional and current global issues related to Chinese female bodies by addressing the following questions Does Confucianism rule out the capacity of women as moral subjects and hence as aesthetic subjects Do forms of Chinese philosophy in some ways contribute or correspond to the patriarchal Confucian culture In what ways can Chinese philosophy provide alternative perspectives sought by Western feminist scholars Professor Man uses an interdisciplinary approach to explore feminist philosophy through the issues of the body aesthetical representation and gender politics which are simultaneously historical and contextual The first section of the book Body Discourses in Chinese Philosophy brings in theoretical and philosophical discussions of Western traditions such as those of Plato Descartes and Kant to examine their views on body and mind and how the Chinese philosophical ideas offered by Confucians and Daoists provide alternative body ontologies for critical feminist practices The second section Chinese Bodies Aesthetics and Art reviews female aesthetical representations in classical traditional Chinese works ranging from The Books of Songs women s embroidery sexuality and suggested ways of kissing and the contemporary body art represented by the controversial body artist He Chengyao These chapters demonstrate the intertwining relationship among body sexuality aesthetics and the ascribed gendered roles in social environments The third section Chinese Bodies and Gender Matters aims to unfold the changing perceptions of femininity from imperial China to contemporary China Case studies touch on female body ideals in the literary fantasies in late Ming in the iron girls in Communist China and in the Olympics Hoopla at the 2008 Beijing Olympics This section also discusses Hong Kong women s fashion in the 1960s and how their bodies were shaped by colonial politics Finally the subject of sex and emotion in the development of ethical discourse of Chinese female sex workers from late Qing to contemporary society is discussed alongside the impact of the global economy on female beauty today Overall this book discusses new conceptual models that feminist scholars are using to displace dualism and emancipate notions of the body from Cartesian mechanistic models and metaphors The different chapters review traditional and contemporary alternatives to understanding female bodies in Chinese society Eva Man is professor of humanities and creative writing at Hong Kong Baptist University She publishes widely in comparative aesthetics feminist philosophy cultural studies art and cultural criticism

The Image in Dispute Dudley Andrew, 1997

Photography cinema and video have irrevocably changed the ways in which we view and interpret images Indeed the mechanical reproduction of images was a central preoccupation of twentieth century philosopher Walter Benjamin who recognized that film would become a vehicle not only for the entertainment of the masses but also for consumerism and even communism and fascism In this volume experts in film studies and art history take up the debate begun by Benjamin about the power and scope of the image in a secular age Part I aims to bring Benjamin s concerns to life in essays that evoke specific aspects and moments of the visual culture he would have known Part II focuses on precise instances of friction within the traditional arts brought on by this century s changes in the value and mission of images Part III goes straight to the image technologies themselves photography cinema and video to isolate distinctive features of the visual cultures they help constitute As we advance into the postmodern era in which images play an ever more central role in conveying perceptions and information this anthology provides a crucial context for understanding the apparently irreversible shift from words to images that characterized the modernist period It will be important reading for everyone in cultural studies film and media studies and art history
