Francis Bacon In Camera:

In Camera, Francis Bacon Martin Harrison, 2005 In Camera Martin Harrison, 2005 In Camera Martin Harrison, 2005 Draws on a broad range of source images and documents to discuss the role of photography film stills and mass media imagery in some of Francis Bacon's most important paintings and stylistic development in an account that places Bacon's work in a context of the mechanical reproduction process and the influences of his time Francis Bacon - In the Mirror of Photography Katharina Günther, 2022-05-09 The British painter Francis Bacon 1909-1992 is famed for his idiosyncratic mode of depicting the human figure Thirty years after his death his working methods remain underexplored New research on the Francis Bacon Studio Archive at Hugh Lane Gallery Dublin sheds light on the genesis of his works namely the photographic source material he collected in his studios on which he consistently based his paintings The book brings together the artist's pictorial springboards for the first time delineating and interpreting recurring patterns and methods in his preparatory work and adoption of photographic material In addition it correctly locates chance as a driving force in Bacon's working method and qualifies the significance of photography for the painter German Photo Book Award 2024 Gold in the category Text Volume Photo Theory After Francis Bacon Nicholas Chare, 2017-07-05 Like an analyst listening to a patient this study attends not just to what is said in David Sylvester's interviews with Francis Bacon but also crucially to what is left unspoken to revealing interruptions and caesuras Through interpreting these silences After Francis Bacon breaks with stereotypical ideas about the artist's work and provides new readings and avenues of research After Francis Bacon is the first book to give extended consideration to the way the reception of Bacon's art including Gilles Deleuze's influential text on the artist has been shaped by the Sylvester interviews and to move beyond the limiting effects of the interviews providing fresh interpretations Nicholas Chare draws upon recent developments in psychoanalysis and forensic psychology to present innovative readings of Bacon's work primarily based on the themes of sadomasochism and multi-sensory perception Through bringing Bacon's paintings into dialogue with Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness and the film Alien he also provides original insights into the ethical relevance the artist's works have for today This study addresses the complexities of the artist's practice particularly in relation to sexuality and synaesthesia and additionally forms a crucial intervention within current debates about creative writing in art history Ecce Homo Kent L. Brintnall, 2024-05-31 Images of suffering male bodies permeate Western culture from Francis Bacon's paintings and Robert Mapplethorpe's photographs to the battered heroes of action movies Drawing on perspectives from a range of disciplines including religious studies gender and queer studies psychoanalysis art history and film theory Ecce Homo explores the complex ambiguous meanings of the enduring figure of the male body in pain Acknowledging that representations of men confronting violence and pain can reinforce ideas of manly tenacity Kent L. Brintnall also argues that they reveal the vulnerability of men's bodies and open them up to eroticization Locating the roots of our cultural fascination with male pain in the crucifixion he analyzes the way narratives of Christ's death and resurrection both support and subvert cultural fantasies of masculine power and privilege Through stimulating readings of works by Georges Bataille Kaja Silverman and more Brintnall delineates the redemptive power of representations of male suffering and violence

The Wall Beside the Work Derek Pigrum, 2021-06-23 This book is about the way artists generate an endless chain of substitute objects for something they can never quite find It explores the work involved in art with a focus upon finding gathering and assembling charged and auratic objects on the wall beside the work The author employs the term Das Gegenwerk or the work towards the work This concept avoids definitive closure and expands the notion of drafting and related practices to include qualitative research methods The multi mode transitional practices of Das Gegenwerk are devoid of any demand for a preconceived goal but instead hinge upon the provisional and indeterminate As such it is a far cry from the binary logic of the computer and the design cycle but is of interest to an audience engaged with both Das Gegenwerk hinges on our capacity to respond to the outside rather than the inwardness often attributed to creative agency A fundamental belief of the book is that by investigating and adapting the practices of expert practitioners we can gain an understanding of high level creativity It is neither a recipe nor a linear or cyclic approach Rather artistic creation is an interweave of transitional multi mode practices where the overriding emphasis is on the handling or habituation of transitional materials in physical place The author addresses the urgent need to provide a balance between the promise of new technology and our capacity to both respond to and work with what the world bestows

Ecce Homo Kent Brintnall, 2011 Drawing on perspectives from a range of disciplines including religious studies gender and queer studies psychoanalysis art history and film theory Ecce Homo explores the complex ambiguous meanings of the enduring figure of the male body in pain

Francis Bacon Gilles Deleuze, 2005-01-01 Francis Bacon is Deleuze's long awaited work on Bacon widely regarded as the one of the most radical painters of the twentieth century The book presents a deep engagement with Bacon's work and the nature of art Deleuze analyses the distinctive innovations that came to mark Bacon's style while introducing a number of his own famous concepts Deleuze links Bacon's work to Cezanne's notion of a logic of sensation which reaches its summit in colour Investigating this logic Deleuze explores Bacon's crucial relation to past painters such as Velasquez Cezanne and Soutine as well as Bacon's rejection of expressionism and abstract painting

The Architecture of David Lynch Richard Martin, 2014-10-23 From the Red Room in Twin Peaks to Club Silencio in Mulholland Drive the work of David Lynch contains some of the most remarkable spaces in contemporary culture Richard Martin's compelling study is the first sustained critical assessment of the role architecture and design play in Lynch's films Martin combines original research at Lynchian locations in Los Angeles London and L dz with insights from architects including Adolf Loos Le Corbusier and Jean Nouvel and urban theorists such as Jane Jacobs and Edward Soja In analyzing the towns cities homes roads and stages found in Lynch's work Martin not only reveals their central importance for understanding this controversial and distinctive film maker but also suggests how Lynch's films can provide a deeper understanding of the places and spaces in which we live Vermeer's Camera Philip Steadman,2002 Over 100 years of speculation and controversy surround claims that the great seventeenth century Dutch artist Johannes Vermeer used the camera obscura to create some of the most famous images in Western art This intellectual detective story starts by exploring Vermeer s possible knowledge of seventeenth century optical science and outlines the history of this early version of the photographic camera which projected an accurate image for artists to trace However it is Steadman s meticulous reconstruction of the artist s studio complete with a camera obscura which provides exciting new evidence to support the view that Vermeer did indeed use the camera These findings do not challenge Vermeer s genius but show how like many artists he experimented with new technology to develop his style and choice of subject matter The combination of detailed research and a wide range of contemporary illustrations offers a fascinating glimpse into a time of great scientific and cultural innovation and achievement in Europe Videographic Cinema Jonathan Rozenkrantz,2020-10-01 In 1957 A Face in the Crowd incorporated live video images to warn about the future of broadcast TV In 2015 Kung Fury was infused with analogue noise to evoke the nostalgic feeling of watching an old VHS tape Between the two films numerous ones would incorporate video images to imagine the implications of video practices Drawing on media archaeology Videographic Cinema shows how such images and imaginaries have emerged changed and remained over time according to their shifting technical historical and institutional conditions Rediscovering forgotten films like Anti Clock 1979 and reassessing ones like Lost Highway 1997 Jonathan Rozenkrantz charts neglected chapters of video history including self confrontation techniques in psychiatry their complex relation with surveillance and the invention discovery of the videographic psyche by artists therapists and filmmakers Spanning six decades Videographic Cinema discovers an epistemic shift from prospective imaginaries of surveillance and control conditioned on video as a medium for live transmission to retrospective ones concerned with videotape as a recording memory It ends by considering videographic filmmaking itself as a form of archaeology in the age of analogue obsolescence

Cultural Transformations in the English-Speaking World Cécile Cottenet,Jean-Christophe Murat,Nathalie Vanfasse,2009-12-14 In a context where cultural transformations have become a basic feature of modern life as people and nations are brought closer together this book tackles transformations occurring within and across cultures of the English speaking world in the fields of literature painting architecture photography and film It helps readers decipher these dynamic phenomena and situate them in a historical perspective The articles move within and across cultures and mirror the broad range of approaches to cultural practices that have appeared in the past few decades They provide readers with tools to work out the transformations these practices undergo and the new life and meaning this process infuses into cultures of the English speaking world This book will be useful to graduate and doctoral students as well as post doctoral researchers working in film studies cultural studies art history literature and creative writing Its clear language and pedagogical approaches will also make it accessible to the general public A Course of Severe and Arduous Trials Lynn

Brunet,2009 The artist Francis Bacon 1909 1992 and the writer Samuel Beckett 1906 1989 both convey in their work a sense of foreboding and confinement in bleak ritualistic spaces This book identifies many similarities between the spaces and activities they evoke and the initiatory practices of fraternal orders and secret societies that were an integral part of the social landscape of the Ireland experienced by both men during childhood Many of these Irish societies modelled their ritual structures and symbolism on the Masonic Order Freemasons use the term spurious Freemasonry to designate those rituals not sanctioned by the Grand Lodge The Masonic author Albert Mackey argues that the spurious forms were those derived from the various cult practices of the classical world and describes these initiatory practices as a course of severe and arduous trials This reading of Bacon s and Beckett s work draws on theories of trauma to suggest that there may be a disturbing link between Bacon s stark imagery Beckett s obscure performances and the unofficial use of Masonic rites

Intensities and Lines of Flight Antonio Calcagno,Jim Vernon,Steve G. Lofts,2014-05-08 The writings of Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari offer the most enduring and controversial contributions to the theory and practice of art in post war Continental thought However these writings are both so wide ranging and so challenging that much of the synoptic work on Deleuze Guattarian aesthetics has taken the form of sympathetic exegesis rather than critical appraisal This rich and original collection of essays authored by both major Deleuzian scholars and practicing artists and curators offers an important critique of Deleuze and Guattari s legacy in relation to a multitude of art forms including painting cinema television music architecture literature drawing and installation art Inspired by the implications of Deleuze and Guattari s work on difference and multiplicity and with a focus on the intersection of theory and practice the book represents a major interdisciplinary contribution to Deleuze Guattarian aesthetics

Male Bodies Unmade Jongwoo Jeremy Kim,2023-11-14 Male Bodies Unmade explores white men s disunified physicality in modern and contemporary art while attending to erotic polysemy that questions the visual ethos of Occidental patriarchy Art historian Jongwoo Jeremy Kim s approach is informed by his own status as an immigrant a polyglot queen drawn to extravagant fantasies of misbehaving bodies that are in truth foreign territories colonies of misbelief In six case studies focusing on configurations of irrational anatomy and horny self extinction this book celebrates the lessons and pleasures of disrupting art history s hegemonically Western narratives

Francis Bacon Hugh Marlais Davies,Francis Bacon,2001 Francis Bacon The Papal Portraits of 1953 explores the largest series of paintings made by the British artist Francis Bacon For the first time this book collects all eight Study for Portrait paintings the famous Study after Velazquez s Portrait of Pope Innocent X from 1953 and several other works from the period An essay by Hugh M Davies who has written extensively about Bacon discusses his influences and sources of imagery for this body of work Also included is a previously unpublished interview with Bacon that Davies conducted more than 25 years ago Rounded out with a chronology and selected bibliography Papal Portraits is a major document for the study of this vital and influential twentieth century master
